SEVEN GOOD COOKS

The Cooks Club had their meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. John Kerns, on April 1. She wanted to give a tea party for the mothers, so it is set for next Thursday. In our last meeting Mrs. Kerns gave a demonstration on the angel food deluxe out of our Betty Crocker Picture Cook Book.

The flag salute and the 4-H pledge was read by the president, Mrs. Kerns. When it was done she gave each member a sample. Patty Davison had made some cookies and brought them to the meeting so each member had some of them too.

Phillip Jameson

ningham gave a demonstration on how to make fruit salad. Marcia Kenyon and Nancy Kolkow played two piano duets.

The two clubs with the assistance of Mrs. Elsie Quinn and Mrs. Hazel Kenyon, the leaders, gave a play called "The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter." Judy Cullimore read the story and the following cast acted it out: Karen Ramus, lighthouse keeper; Vlasta Rajnus, his wife; Wanda Sarutiski, the daughter; Jean Quinn, the villain; and Roxie Vacknitz, the doctor.

Mrs. Ben Johnson gave a short talk on 4-H Club work. Punch, cookies and coffee were served to the members and guests.

AGENCY LARK LIVESTOCK CLUB

Readings and speeches were the main topics of the meeting. The readings were as follows: "What 4-H Club Work Is and For Whom It Is," by Bernice Erickson; "Who Does the Work," by Jimmy Ray; "Hog and Sheep Projects," by Sandra Haas; "Citizenship Job," by Carol Barnes; "4-H Citizenship Oath," by Della Erickson; "Heritage of Young Americans," by Deen Barnes; "The Country Boy's Creed," by Raymond; and a speech on "What 4-H Means to Me," by Marcine Erickson.

It was decided that there wouldn't be any demonstrations on how to handle our livestock until about June.

The next meeting will be held April 24, at the home of the Ericksons.

JOLLY CHEFS

The Jolly Chefs cooking club met at Susan Smith's home Friday, March 26. Jo Anne Merritt and Susan Smith gave a very good demonstration on how to make deviled eggs.

For our special community service we made cookies and our leader took them out to the county infirmary for their Sunday dinner. They really enjoyed them.

We have started to make plans for our Fathers' and Mothers' Tea. At that time we hope to show them a few things we have done in our meetings, there will also be a musical program.

Our next meeting will be at Kay and Jo Anne Merritt's home.

Testimony On White Case Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 1945 luncheon companion of the late Harry Dexter White, a former assistant secretary of the Treasury, testified Tuesday that White went into a towering rage against criticism of a book described as "an eulogy of communism."

The testimony was given by Jonathan Mitchell of Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y., a free lance writer, at a hearing of the Senate internal security subcommittee in its probe into Communist infiltration into government.

Mitchell said that in August, 1945, shortly before V-J Day, he had lunch in a Treasury Department basement dining room with White and that White became incensed, even to the point of menacing him physically, when he criticized the book "Faith, Reason and Civilization" written by the British economist Harold Laski.

Mitchell, a writer for the New World Republic Magazine and a news editor of Newweek, described Laski's book as "a eulogy of Communism." He said it expressed the view that "happily the Russians had worked out a new faith which would replace capitalism and Christianity."

Atty. Gen. Brownell charged in a speech last Nov. 6 that White had been named in FBI reports as a Russian spy and that former President Truman, despite knowledge of this, promoted White early in 1946 to be U.S. director of the International Monetary Fund.

Truman replied in a nationwide TV-Radio address that he had permitted White's appointment to stand to keep him and others accused as spies under surveillance.

However, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, testifying later before the internal security subcommittee, said that White's assignment to the Monetary fund "hampered" his surveillance.

White denied, shortly before his death in 1948, that he was a Communist.

Doctors Hope New Drug May Control Gout Condition

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—The way may have been opened up towards eventual complete control of gout—one of mankind's oldest and peskiest afflictions—the American College of Physicians (ACP) was told today.

Dr. Elmer C. Bartels of Boston's Lahey Clinic said the possibility is suggested by promising results with a relatively new drug called "Benemid" although he did not say that that particular substance would be the final answer.

He told the ACP's annual meeting that there still are "many problems" associated with the use of the drug—chief of which is the fact that sometimes a patient may suffer recurring attacks of his gout during periods up to nine months after Benemid treatment is begun.

But he declared that "most cases" are eventually brought under control by the substance, sometimes in combination with other medicines.

The clear implication of his report was that the final answer to complete and relatively easy control of gout might come from improvements in the use of the present drug, or from the development of a better one having similar action. The drug works by drawing troublesome uric acid from the gouty tissues.

Bartels told the meeting: "Those interested in gout have been waiting patiently for the discovery of a substance that would accomplish for gout what insulin has so brilliantly done for diabetes—that is, effectively control gout regardless of the severity of the disease."

"Fortunately, this era appears to be at hand with the discovery of Benemid, and so a bright new chapter on gout is now being heralded."

Describing the Lahey Clinic's experience with the drug—first used against gout several years ago by a group of Chicago doctors—Dr. Bartels said 42 patients have now received it for periods ranging from 12 to 30 months and of these 39 are considered to have obtained "satisfactory" results.

Many of the cases were severe ones which had not responded to any previous treatment, he said.

On the other side of the ledger, Bartels said, some other people had to discontinue taking the drug because of "undesirable side effects."

FACTS OF FUMIGATION ON EEL WORM CONTROL

ROOT KNOT NEMATODES (Eelworm) go down to a depth of 6 to 8 feet in the soil; comes up in spring when temperatures are right, 52 to 60 degrees, then they are in 12 inches of top soil.

WHAT CAN WE EXPECT in the way of control? Generally 95% or better. However, a leading nematologist considers 85% well done. (Dr. Roske, Davis.)

THINGS TO WATCH, to insure good results: If the soil is too dry when applied, the gas escapes. You must have 10% moisture, not over 30%. When too wet, moisture particles absorb part of the fumigant.

WATCH FOR ROOTS or straw in the soil. Kill is poor due to penetration and escaping gas. Be sure soil is well sealed by harrowing.

FERTILIZER... E. D. B. diffuses nitrogen very rapidly, causing the fertilizer to become available at once. Suggested to apply 300 lbs. at planting, balance as needed.

BE SURE FUMIGANT is left in soil for the required time, then created according to instructions.
