Tulelake Host To Spud Meet

TULELAKE — A joint meeting of the Tulelake and Klamath Oregon-California Potato Marketing Committees and officers of the Klamath Potato Growers Association, was held Monday night in the office of the Tulelake Growers Association.

Purpose of the meeting was to discuss means of strengthening the marketing committee functions and recommend changes in the disaster clause of the present marketing agreement.

Merrill Webb, Redmond, manager of the administrative committee, explained sections of the disaster clause and stated that 67 disaster permits had been issued for the past marketing season, mostly for underripe potatoes, internal browning, net necrosis and nematode.

It was the opinion of the group that certain regulations were too lenient, and that growers should pay for having bins measured and the quantity of potatoes determined after an interview had proven he was eligible to apply for help under the disaster clause.

Discussion showed the group did not favor disaster permits for internal browning or flea beetle damage.

It was recommended that proposed changes in the marketing order be planned far enough ahead to allow the marketing committees to thoroughly understand the wishes of growers before attending marketing meetings in other areas.

The group emphasized that the marketing committees of the Northwestern states should make every effort to have uniformity in their marketing standards.

It was further emphasized that it is not the intent of the disaster clause to bail a grower out of trouble caused by poor cultural practices, such as could result from inferior seed, producing crops on marginal land and failure to control harmful insects.

The following motions were made and carried at the meeting:

1. That the grower asking for a disaster permit be required to submit an inspection certificate with his application. This certificate to show the quantity of potatoes in storage and the percentage of the various grades.
2. That cull potatoes be held in the producing area.
3. That all potatoes above the grade of culls including 85 per cent U.S. No. 1 grade, 1 1/2 inch minimum and No. 2's above a 2 inch minimum be made available to dehydrators, providing the marketing committee take steps to insure proper disposal of these stocks.
4. That all potatoes above the grade of culls be made available for conversion to starch, flour, alcohol and export.

Symbiot Banquet Planned At OTI

A Symbiot banquet will be held in the cafeteria at Oregon Technical Institute Tuesday night, April 13, at 8 p.m.

The Symbiot is a semi-honorary semi-social organization of farm technology students who are enrolled in agricultural courses at the school.

State Senator Phil Hitchcock will be the principal speaker of the evening. Symbiot induction ceremonies will also be part of the program.

A crowd of 200 students, state agriculture officials, county agents, grange and farm bureau members are expected to attend the affair.

Traffic Lights Cause Tie Up

NOGALES, Mexico (AP) — Traffic lights installed in this Mexican border town yesterday, and the result was worse than anything on light duty.

Brakes screeched and traffic piled up as confused motorists plunged through red lights and others skidded to a stop in fright.

At one time cars headed across the border were stacked up for two blocks.

Judge Orders Man Released

District Judge D. E. Van Vactor Wednesday sustained a demurrer to a drunk driving charge against Vaughn Elliott Christensen, arrested by state police on March 26.

Defense Attorney George Proctor contended the complaint did not state a crime nor comply with Oregon law.

In upholding Proctor, Judge Van Vactor ordered the defendant released and $400 bail refunded.

Engineers Hold Flood Exercises

PORTLAND (AP) — Conditions like those of the 1948 flood will be simulated Friday by the Portland District Army Engineers to test preparations for such a disaster.

Cooperating in the test will be the Red Cross, Washington and Oregon civil defense organizations, the Coast Guard and the Multnomah County Sheriff's office.

The test area includes the section of the Columbia between the mouth of the Sandy River and the mouth of the Willamette River.

Snow packs on the Columbia watershed are greater than normal, but forecasters predict no major flood this year. However, an engineers spokesman said a major purpose of the exercise is to encourage drainage district officials to survey dikes and make any needed repairs.

Seattle held a similar exercise Monday and Walla Walla was to hold one Wednesday.

The 1948 flood caused wide damage and wiped out the war-housing city of Vanport.

CLAYTON HANNON, a 1953 KUHS graduate and former student at the University of Oregon, has taken over as sports editor of the Herald and News following the resignation of Red Hurd. Hannon, who was active in sports during his school period, lives at 5030 South Sixth.

KF Cow Belles Organized

The Klamath County Cow Belles were organized March 30 at a meeting at the Willard Hotel which was held during the recent Klamath County Cattleman's Association's annual meeting.

Mrs. Dave Campbell of Bly was elected to the post of president.

Serving with her will be Mrs. F. W. Hyde of Bly, vice president and Mrs. Henry Gerber, 329 High Klamath Falls, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Bob (Doris) Hunt, has been named to handle publicity.

Ilda May Hayes of Burns, state president, supervised the organization work and explained the activities of the Oregon State Cow Belles. Objectives of the group, she stated, are promoting the use of beef and assisting in programs of the cattlemen's association. She suggested that the attendant social activities are a worthwhile bonus.

Possible US Intervention In Indochina Discussed

By JACK BELL and JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senators today spoke of the sending of U.S. naval and air units into the Indochinese fighting as a possibility and one said, "It looks to me as if we are on the edge of war there."

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), who made this estimate in an interview, said, "If we should send in naval and air forces now, it would only bring the Chinese Communists in force and then I don't see how we could avoid sending troops."

The sober comment in Congress followed renewed expressions by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles of the administration's determination that Indochina must not fall to the Communists, and indications from abroad that U. S. allies are not moving as fast as U. S. officials might wish in forming a coalition on defense of Southeast Asia.

EUROPEAN DISPATCHES
 Dispatches from London and Paris indicated both British and French leaders might consider the time inopportune and want more details on the "united will" and "united action" Dulles has advocated.

All sides seem to agree that if and when conclusive decisions are reached and some public statement is made, it must be not simply another "hands off" warning to the Chinese Reds but an announcement of determination with real teeth. The question at this point is what kind of teeth—should the policy decisions be backed up by naval forces, air forces, ground forces, or some combination of these?

Eisenhower's refusal at his news conference yesterday to spell out probable free world action if the Chinese Communists move in force into Indochina caused some senators to speculate that a program of limited counteraction is in the making.

along that course it might upset a delicate political balance in Paris.

Dispatches from London and Paris indicated that the urgency voiced in Eisenhower's and Dulles' recent statements is not reflected in official pronouncements there, but rather that there is a disposition to see what can be accomplished at the April 28 meeting in Geneva, where Red China, as well as the Soviet Union, will be represented.
