4-H Spring Fair Topic Of Meet

Mrs. Fred Wolfrum, general chairman of the 1954 4-H Club Spring Fair, discussed details of the fair with committee heads at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at Jop-Ed's.

Present also at the meeting were Francis Skinner, Klamath County 4-H Club agent, and Anne Bergholz, state 4-H Club agent from Corvallis.

Skinner explained the over-all floor plan for exhibits at the Spring Fair which will facilitate easiest possible handling of exhibits and contests in the exhibit building.

He announced that premium books, containing details and information on exhibits and contests, are expected to be in the mail to club leaders the end of this week. Leaders are reminded that record books must be in to the 4-H Club office in the post office building by April 15 to be considered in the contest. All record books must be in by fair time, complete or up to date.

Entry blanks for contests must be in the office by April 15 also. Exhibits, except cooking exhibits, must be submitted at the exhibit building at the fairgrounds by 8 p.m. the evening of April 21. Cooking exhibits must be in by 12 noon April 22nd.

Dates for the fair are April 22, 23 and 24, and the public is urged to attend the Spring Fair, which provides an opportunity for 4-H Club members all over the county to acquaint people with the work of 4-H; to show their accomplishments so far in their respective projects, and to serve as an initiative to other club members.
