The meeting was held at the educational unit of the Presbyterian church.

Aberdeen-Angus Sale and Show On Social Stage For Two Day Run

This department is usually concerned with strictly social events; but specific emphasis is given to the April 4-5 regional Aberdeen-Angus Show and Sale in Klamath Falls as a reciprocal gesture, in recognition of the nation-wide advertising the Pacific Coast Aberdeen-Angus Association gives the Basin through bringing top cattle breeders here. Besides that, the auxiliary interests us as a valuable adjunct to the parent organization and its primary aim and constant goal — continued betterment of the chosen breed of cattle.

All members of the auxiliary are interested members. Many are active partners of their husbands; and are listed as such. Observing Mrs. William (Bill) Ewing—known to her friends as "Fordy"—at the sale Monday, one became immediately aware of her qualification as a competent cattle breeder. In fact, she stated that she was a "cattle gal"—when she chose to forego the brunch because she couldn't resist the chance to personally preview some of the show and sale stock.

Mrs. Dale West, Merrill, chair-manned the social activities for the two days, assisted by committee members, Mrs. Alvin Cheyne, Klamath Falls, whose husband was general chairman of the show and sale; Mrs. Gerald West, Poe Valley; Mrs. Earl Wilson, Malin; and Mrs. Melvin Fiegi.

Headquarters and hub of sale activities was the Winema Hotel. First social event arranged by the committee was the banquet at the Willard Sunday evening, for association members and the auxiliary; and the 10 a.m. brunch Monday at the Yacht Club.

Entertainment at the banquet included an accordion trio, Susan Michael and Sally Ravizza, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ravizza, Chiloquin; the Shultz Sisters, Malin; and at the brunch, the KUHS Girls Sextet sang a group of songs accompanied by Ann Henderson. They are Joan Meador, Gail Nerseth, Margaret Scholer, Phyllis Dannelley, Sheryl Metter and Sue Ramsby.

reported ill at home, and has given up her teaching for a time. Marjorie Rocheck's husband is ill at the Bend hospital with virus pneumonia. Otis Ashley has been in Portland due to the death of her mother.

The program for the meeting included a history of Delta Kappa Gamma in Oregon, and of the local chapter. State Founders Florence Olinson, Augusta Dunbar and Geraldine Owsley gave highlights of the early organization.

Founder's Day and installation of new officers will be observed at the meeting, May 6.
