N.Y. Far From Settled

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Allie Reynolds blasted. Whitey Ford out of condition. Gerry Coleman slow getting into form. Mickey Mantle injured most of the spring.

No matter what Casey Stengel says about winning a sixth straight American Leaue pennant, the New York Yankees were a far-from-settled baseball club today—only three days before the opening of the season.

Stengel needs no urging to prophesy another flag. But it could be he's whistling while walking past a graveyard. The old professor knows that this Yankee club has compiled the saddest spring record since he took the reins.

FUTILE

Cleveland and Chicago are the only two clubs in the league with enough power and pitching to make it tough for the Yanks. Yet the Indians have been futile against the New York Giants most of the spring and the Sox have not been overpowering at the plate.

The Yanks dropped an 8-2 decision to Brooklyn yesterday at Ebbets Field in a "renewal" of the 1953 world series. Only this time there was a slight switch. The Brooks were the ones who applied the big blows—two home runs by Junior Gilliam and a base-clearing double by Sandy Amoros—and held the lead the rest of the way.

It was the sixth straight defeat for the Yanks.

TALLIES

Reynolds was the victim of both Gilliam home runs and, in fact, all the Brooks' tallies. Johnny Sain pitched the last four innings. He held the Dodgers to two hits. Carl Erskine, Clem Labine and Jim Hughes combined to hold the Yanks to seven hits.

Warren Spahn, the National League's No. 1 lefthander, went the distance for the first time this spring, pitching Milwaukee to a 3-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Andy Pafko was involved in all the Braves' runs. He hit a bases-empty homer, scored again in the fourth and sent Danny O'Connell home when Milt Bolling fumbled his grounder in the eighth.

The Indians shut out the Giants 1-0 behind Early Wynn, who pitched fine ball, and Mike Garcia, who was in trouble all through the final five innings.

IMPRESSIVE

Sal Maglie gave another impressive performance for the Giants, limiting the Indians to three hits in five innings. Larry Janse, who replaced the barber, was the victim of a ninth-inning double by Bill Glynn and single by Al Rosen.

Pittsburgh, a mighty crew of sluggers, clubbed the Philadelphia A's 13-4. Bobby Shantz permitted the Buccos only one run in four innings, but they jumped on Bob Trice for 12 runs and a dozen hits.

The Chicago Cubs edged the White Sox 6-5. Jack Harshman who pitched the first seven innings for the Pale Hose, deserved a better fate. The Cubs scored five runs off his offerings, but only one was earned. Errors paved the way or the others. Paul Minner and Warren Hacker divided the mound duties for the winners.

Nine runs in the first two innings were enough of a cushiong for the Detroit Tigers and they defeated Cincinnati 10-5. The Philadelphia Phillies and Washington Senators played a 2-2 tie before a gathering of only 867 in Washington.

TIME OUT

"This is the place I was telling you about!"

Matthews Set For Cockell

SEATTLE (AP) — A lot of money—somewhere around $28,000—has overcome a lot of reluctance in jig time and Seattle's Harry (Kid) Matthews is about to have another go at British Heavyweight boxing champion Don Cockell.

It will give the no-longer-youthful businessman - inventor - welder-fighter a chance at revenge on Cockell who defeated him in a split decision here last August.

It was agreed to Friday when manager Jack Hurley, with an alacrity which belied his worlds, said he was being "forced" to send his "athlete" against the Briton in London June 1.

Hurley was waiting at his phone when called by the Associated Press about an offer promoter Jack Solomons said he had made for the Matthews-Cockell fight.

With barely a pause for further reflections, the canny manager started reading a statement:

"Since Don Cockell," he read, "refused to box Harry Matthews in Seattle I am going to be forced to accept promoter Jack Solomon's very attractive offer . . . I am desperately anxious for this match because I know the winner of the Matthews-Cockell go will be the logical opponent to meet Rocky Marciano for the world title in September."

Questioned further, he said the "very attractive" offer was comparable to the $28,000 he had offered Cockell a couple days ago for a fight in Seattle. Solomons rejected the offer, then countered with one of his own via phone Thursday night.

This will be Matthews' second visit to Britain. He went there in 1952 for a bout with the then British champion, Johnny Williams, but the fight was canceled when Matthews injured his back.

The 33-year-old Seattle fighter has not looked too promising in recent bouts. He knocked out Jack Nelson, a relatively unknown fighter in Spokane in February.

Last month in Spokane he won a close 10-round decision over Murray Burnett, Chicago, another fighter who couldn't exactly be classed a topnotch.

Since his fight with Cockell, Matthews has been dropped from the National Boxing Assn. ratings as a heavyweight contender.

Cockell? He just turned in an upset win over Roland La Starza, one of the top heavyweights in the United States.

Masters Dream For Billy Patton

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "It's been sorta like a dream. I know I'm not supposed to be leading a field of golfers like this."

Doing the talking was Billy Joe Patton, an easy-going amateur almost unknown except to his Tarheel neighbors at Morganton, N. C. The friendly fellow with the new found fame was explaining how he felt about being "Mr. Big" at the midway mark of the 20th Anniversary Masters Golf Championship.

Going into today's third round this 31-year-old weekend golfer was on top of the heap with an even par 144, one stroke better than the present-day king of the links, bantam Ben Hogan.

Even after showing his heels for two days to the likes of Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, Sam Snead and most of the other top professionals and amateurs in the nation, Patton refused to take his chances for victory in this prestige - loaded tournament very seriously.

Hogan's 73 gave him a 145 total and a one-stroke lead over Lloyd Mangrum and Bob Rosburg, a young Chicago pro. Rosburg had a 73 also; Mangrum a 75. Another stroke back was Sam Snead, who had a 73.

Wisconsin Favorite In Ring Tourney

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Wisconsin's Hard-hitting Badgers were just about set Saturday night to take home their seventh NCA boxing championship trophy.

Coach John Walsh's Big Ten pugilists all but wrapped up the prize Friday night when they swept all four of their semi-final fights, two by knockouts. That gave them a commanding five point lead over Louisiana State's small but formidable squad and a seven-point bulge over Maryland.

LSU and Maryland each had two men in Saturday night's finals and they are the only schools with a remote chance of catching the Badgers.

Wisconsin has 14 points, LSU 9, Maryland 7 and Penn State and San Jose State 6 each. Each of the nine individual titles is worth five points. Wisconsin needs to take only one of its four to tie and two to win no matter what LSU and Maryland do.

Bob Hinds, undefeated Wisconsin heavyweight will meet Idaho State's Frank McMurtry in the big scrap Saturday night. McMurtry halted Leo Coyne of Maryland in 1:40 of the second round.

Two other Pacific Northwest scrappers are in title fights Saturday night. Idaho State's Lynn Nichols goes against Herb Odom of Michigan State in the 147-pound class and Gordy Gladson of Washington State meets Estol Nichols of Virginia in a 165-round fight.

Various Factors Lower Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — A combination of drought, dust storms and production controls apparently has cut this year's winter wheat crop to about 200 million bushels below that of a year ago.

The Agriculture Department estimated yesterday this year's winter wheat crop would total 677,891,000 bushels as compared with a crop of 877,511,000 bushels last year. This year's crop also appears to be well below the 10-year average of 852,977,000 bushels.

STARTERS . . . The Baltimore Orioles hope they have a Big Four in left to right, Don Larson, Joe Coleman, Duane Paillette, and Bob Turley.

HONEST — Billy Brown uses all his strength to lift this 38 pound channel bass, caught off Hatteras, N. C., one of the season's first to be landed with rod and reel.

Umatilla Angling Off

In a telephone conference held Monday, April 5, 1954, the Oregon State Game Commission put into effect an emergency angling closure on the Umatilla River in northeastern Oregon.

The ruling, which went into effect immediately, closes to all fishing the Umatilla River from the Cold Springs Dam near the town of Echo, downstream to the mouth. This is a distance of approximately 20 miles.

The closure was brought on by the reported short water supply in the watershed. All of the irrigation reservoirs are being filled as rapidly as possible, and this has cut the flow in the river to an estimated 3 second feet of water. This shortage of water has caused many of the migrating steelhead in the river to be slowed down or in some cases stranded in the deeper pools.

Bill Brown, game commission supervisor, stated that he thought that the flow should be increased sufficiently in two or three weeks to allow the fish to continue their migration.

The closure is in effect until repealed by the game commission.

Chaffee Wins Army Tournament

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) —Camp Chaffee, Ark., led by Chuck Bickles and Gerard Moore, annexed the All-Army basketball tournament title here Friday night with an easy 87-79 victory over Ft. Ord, Calif.

The Arkansas quintet went through the tournament undefeated and was never headed in the Ord game as Bickles, former Hastings College star, and Moore, of Washburn, collaborated on an evenly-divided 44 points.

Chaffee took charge midway through the first period and built up a 43-37 advantage at the intermission. It was all Chaffee the rest of the way as the Arkansas squad held tighly to a lead of about 10 points.

KF Chamber Adopts Road Program; Plans OTI Tour

The Klamath County Chamber of Commerce accepted an invitation to visit the Oregon Technical Institute campus Wednesday, April 21, and adopted the 1954 program presented by the roads and highways committee to the board of directors last Wednesday.

The visit to OTI is scheduled to start at 8:30 a.m. and the board of directors meeting will be held at the campus cafeteria at 12:30. All those wishing to attend and spend the morning inspecting the school operation are requested to call the chamber office prior to April 21.

The 1954 roads program of work was presented for the committee by Tom Watters, chairman. This program, to be given to the State Highway Commission and the Klamath County Court as the 1954 phase of a continuing, coordinated improvement program, is divided into four parts.

The first part deals with needed improvements outside of Klamath County that have a bearing on routes within the county. The program states:

"That cooperation be given the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce in their appeal to the State Highway Department for an all-weather route between Klamath Falls and Medford via Lake Creek, McAllister Springs, Soda Springs, and Lake of the Woods; this being a vital link in the economic development of the southern section of the state principally, and the state as a whole generally."

On federal primary routes within Klamath County, the recommendations are:

"1. Re-align and bring up to standard specifications, U.S. Highway 97 from the Diamond Lake Junction to the Klamath-Deschutes County line.

"2. West-Side By-Pass traffic around Klamath Falls. Particular attention should be paid at this time to the defining of the right-of-way and the purchase of the property thereof, as it relates to this project."

State primary roads recommendations are:

"1. Construction of a new South Sixth Street Viaduct.

"2. Re-align and bring up to standard specifications, Oregon Highway 39 from Merrill to Hatfield.

"3. Bring up to standard specifications, Oregon Highway 66 east of the Merrill-Lakeview Junction to Bly.

"4. Re-align and bring up to standard specifications, Oregon Highway 70 from the Merrill-Lakeview Junction to the Lost River Diversion Canal."

On state secondary road work, the chamber adopted the following:

"1. Re-align and bring up to standard specifications, Oregon Highway 230 from the Diamond Lake Junction westerly to Diamond Lake.

"2. Surface the Midland Road.

"3. Improve and bring up to standard specifications, Oregon Avenue to Fremont Bridge.

"4. Surface and bring up to standard specifications, the Crescent Lake Highway to Oregon Highway 58.

"5. Extension of the highway from the Lake of the Woods Junction to Fort Klamath, in connection with the West Side Klamath Lake project."

Manager Frank Tucker reported that at the meeting in Medford March 30, of the Oregon Industrial Development Commission, it was suggested that a survey of Oregon's resources be made by Stanford Institute, and that state taxes be revised so that industry will not find taxation in Oregon a drawback as compared to neighboring states.

Ed Ostendorf, former Klamath Falls mayor, reported on industrial promotions by the Enid, Oklahoma, Chamber of Commerce that he learned of on a recent trip.

Catfish To Be Trapped

Trapping operations to remove an overpopulation of catfish from the Tenmile lakes in northern Coos county will start about April 9, announced H. J. Rayner, chief of fishery operations for the Oregon State Game Commission. A similar operation for the removal of perch will follow after it has been determined that the wire traps constructed for the purpose will do the job.

Decline in the average length of both catfish and perch as shown by biological examination of the fish population points to the need for thinning. Approximately 60 tons of catfish were taken from Tenmile lakes by game commission employes in 1952 by the use of fyke nets. Game commission personnel with the help of local people will handle the fish removal job again this year.

Mrs. D. P. Reid, overseas sewing chairman, reported that another 100 pounds of clean clothing had been sent to Korea and that another shipment would be sent soon.

The annual birthday party will be held in May.

The next meeting of the Martha Circle, at 1:30 p.m. dessert luncheon, will be held April 21 at the home of Mrs. W. G. Osborne with Mrs. W. G. McClymonds assisting. Mrs. Betty Matson will have devotions and the program on the "Culture and Religions of India, Pakistan and Ceylon." will be in charge of Mrs. G. R. Aikens.

The Ruth Circle will have an evening meeting at 7:30 on the same day at the home of Mrs. Sam Wynn. "The Christian World Missions and the New Nations," will be the subject for study. Mrs. George Smith will have devotions. Mrs. Don Potter will be in charge of the program.

Beauty Salon Purchased

TULELAKE — Mrs. Betty Jean Prenger, who has been operating a beauty salon in Concord, California, has announced the purchase of the Sandra Beauty Shop here from Mrs. Sandra (Jack) Wallace.

Mrs. Prenger, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ryckman has had experience in beauty work since 1939 when she was associated with Mrs. Alice Haas.

She plans to give the same courteous service that has been offered customers by Mrs. Wallace who is moving with her husband to the town of Klamath.

CRUSADE

LONDON (AP) — Half way through his highly successful religious crusade in London, American evangelist Billy Graham is looking around for bigger places in which to preach his sermons. Harringay Arena, his headquarters, with its accommodation for an audience of 12,000, was filled to capacity every night this week.

Mantle's Knee Gets Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle's ailing right knee gets its big test Saturday and the seven other American League managers will be watching the results as closely as New York pilot Casey Stengel.

If the 22-year-old slugger shows no ill effects in the exhibition game against the Brooklyn Doders, he will open the season in his accustomed center field spot.

If the knee acts up, the other clubs won't have to face him for an indefinite period. That's why the other managers will be waiting for his clinical report.

Actually, the doctors have advised against Mantle going back into action so soon. But he has been running smoothly. Because of this and the wretched showing of the Yanks — especially in their 8-2 loss to the Brooks Friday—Stengel has decided that the time for the big test has come.

Mantle had two operations on his knee during the winter and until the past week his recovery has been slow. He has done some pinch-hitting, but all from the right side of the plate (he's a switch hitter) because he couldn't stride on his injured leg.

"If he does all right today," said Stengel, "I'll be able to use him in the opener. He wanted to start yesterday, but I told him to wait another day. I hope he won't try to do too much out there, but I know he's liable to run right through the scoreboard.

"I'm anxious to see what he can do. He says he's ready. I hope so."

MANILA (AP) — Philippine Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Garcia said Saturday a U.S. proposal to warn Red China to keep out of Indochina "could lead to a third world war."

Dehydrating Alfalfa Meet Topic

Alfalfa growers in the basin last night hear Claude Conrad, representative of the Heil Company, Seattle, explain building costs and installation and costs of machinery for establishing an alfalfa dehydrating plant here.

Conrad advised the group that a minimum of 2,500 to 3,000 tons of hay should be available each year before consideration be given to building a plant.

Quoting figures on machinery, he said a dehydrator with automatic feeder, hammer mill, pellet mill and cooler, could be laid down here for approximately $46,000.

If Butler type buildings were used for housing the various units, the complete job, set up and ready to go, should cost in the neighborhood of $74,000 Conrad stated, however cost of buildings might be cut considerably by using local lumber products.

This machine is capable of turning out 2,000 to 3,500 pounds of dehydrated hay hourly at cost of about $32 per hour. This would include wages for three truck or tractor driver in the field operat-from the field to the plant, one tractor driver in te field operating mower and chopper, and one man in charge of the plant itself. It would also include fuel and oil costs for trucks and tractors, and fuel and electricity costs for the dehydrator.

The dehydrator drum is capable of evaporating 6,000 gallons of water per hour, the representative stated, pointing out that hay can be cut in a downpour of rain and processed immediately. This extremely wet operation would necessitate some slowing down of plant efficiency due to the excess moisture, he added.

The meeting was held at the Henley Grange hall and was sponsored by the Klamath County Farm Bureau. Conrad was brought here to discuss the program after Farm Bureau President Earl Mack and Everett Metler, chairman of the committee set up to investigate dehydrating, found that growers in this area were interested in such a project.

Accompanying Conrad on the trip was Don Cowan, representing the J. J. Ross Mill Furnishing Co., Portland.

Further investigation into the feasibility of such a plant will be made, according to Mack.

Wildlife Is Program Idea

Educational programs concerning the various phases of game management were presented in 200 schools throughout the state during the winter school months by information representatives of the game commission. These programs were presented to approximately 61,500 students, during this period.

The winter school program, now in its fourth year, has become an integral part of the game commission's year-long and state-wide educational program of acquainting the state's youth with the various aspects of game management as well as the economic and recreational values of Oregon's game and fish resources.

Although the school program is designed primarily for high and junior high schools, many elementary grades were also visited this past year. Response from school superintendents, principals, and teachers indicates that the programs were well received. Without a doubt, this phase of the commission's youth educational program will continue to expand.

Paoli Rosi Posts TKO Over Compo

NEW YORK (AP) — Paoli Rosi, who used to work in his father's fireworks factory in Rieti, Italy, is skyrocketing in the lightweight boxing class.

The 26-year-old Italian import with the receding hairline made good as a main event TV fighter Friday night by stopping Eddie Compo on a technical knockout in 54 seconds of the sixth round at St. Nicholas Arena. It was his first main go. An estimated 1500 paid $3,000 to see it.

As a reward for a convincing job on a veteran of 85 pro fights, Rosi was given an April 30 St. Nicks date with Orlando Zulueta, the high ranking Cuban.

"If he wins that one we'll yell for shot at the champ, Paddy DeMarco," said manager Carmine Tarantino without too much originality.

Rosi dropped Compo for an automatic eight count with a long "sucker" righthand lead to the jaw in the third. He had given Compo a good going over in the second. Again in the fourth and fifth he drove Compo around the ring but the seasoned Compo fought back gamely.

A hook to the body drove Compo into a neutral corner early in the sixth. As Rosi drove home a barrage of blows, Compo went to his knees and referee Al Berl stopped it.

Rosi, at 133 ¾, was a 12 to 5 favorite over Compo who weighed 133. It was the Italian's 23rd victory in 26 starts, 2 by knockouts. He has lost once and drawn twice. In a previous match between the two men, in a Dec. 18 Garden semi-final, Rosi won a split decision in eight rounds.

It was the third time Compo had been stopped. Willie Pep knocked out the New Haven lad in 1949 and Armand Savoie did it last year.

West Texas Has Welcome Rains

DONNA, Tex. (AP) — Many Rio Grande Valley towns and cities raked up mud today caused by floods from yesterday's rains, first moisture of consequence for the area since last August.

High winds, some of hurricane force, accompanied the rains which ranged up to 11 inches here and at nearby Alamo, Tex.

But while this region received torrential rains, West Texas' cotton lands and cattle ranges remained at drought stage despite some scattered rains.

Between 25 and 40 homes were damaged by high winds here and one man was killed at Mission when he came in contact with a wet electrical connection under a house trailer. He was Perry Francis, 70, who was trying to rescue a small dog when he was killed.

MILITARY AIDES

IZMIR, Turkey (AP) — The government-owned Anatolian News Agency said Saturday French, Italian and British military personnel will come to Turkey in a few weeks to be attached to NATO's southeast Europe land headquarters command here.
