What did the National League sluggers learn in spring training that their American League friends apparently overlooked?

This was becoming a vital question today after the second straight while the National League was going its slug-happy way with another 26-hit donnybrook.

Lefty Alex Kellner of the Philadelphia Athletics tamed the Washington Senators on one safety—Wayne Terwilliger's lonesome single into center field with two out in the eighth inning as the A's won 7-0.

SUBDUED

On Monday Jim McDonald of the New York Yankees, a right-hander, subdued Boston with the exception of a single by Harry Agganis.

A big share of the National League fireworks has involved the St. Louis Cardinals. The Redbirds absorbed a 13-6 shellacking at the hands of the Cincinnati Redlegs last night and now have been battered for 60 runs in six games.

The battering hasn't been all one-sided. The Cardinals have avenged almost seven runs for each of the same half dozen contests.

For years the National League has been the pitchers' league. Castoffs from American League mound staffs have gone to big season in the National while the American has concentrated on hitting stars.

But this season the hits are coming off National League bats.

CONTRASTING

The two contrasting contests yesterday were part of a curtailed five-game schedule. Philadelphia whipped Brooklyn 6-3 and New York defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 in the National League and Chicago beat Detroit 7-2 in the American.

Milwaukee and Chicago in the National were rained out.

Kellner was breezing along toward the first no-hitter in Griffith Stadium since 1931 when Terwilliger, a .335 hitter, rapped one back through the middle.

"I didn't feel too bad," Kellner said. "You figure a feller is lucky to pitch a no-hitter."

Kellner walked three and struck out six. He had retired 15 men in a row before Terwilliger broke the string.

FIRST VICTORY

Fireballing Virgil Trucks picked up his first 1954 victory for the White Sox as he checked Detroit on six hits.

The Cardinals used five pitchers against the heavy-hitting Redlegs and none of them toiled with any success. Memo Luna, a $75,000 winter purchase, lasted only two thirds of an inning in his first starting role and was charged with the loss.

Venerable Preacher Roe made his first appearance of the season for the Dodgers but the Phillies were ready for him and sent him to the showers in less than five innings. The deciding blast was a mighty home run by Del Ennis with a man aboard.

The Giants picked on Pittsburgh rookie Nelson King for three runs in the eighth inning to give them a comfortable margin after building a 3-2 edge against Paul Lapaunie, who left for a pinch hitter.

Andy Seminick of Cincinnati batted .279 and hit 14 home runs against southpaw pitching in 1953.

WIL Batters Ahead Of Pitchers

Western International League batters, tuning up for the regular season starting next week, are well ahead of the pitchers, judging from Tuesday's exhibition games.

In four contests, they rolled up a total of 89 safe hits, including six home runs.

Vancouver outhit Lewiston 16-10 and pounded out four homers in subduing the Broncos 11-8. Tri-City counted 17 safe blows to 13 for Yakima as the Braves outgassed the Bears 16-8.

Edmonton and Wenatchee were matched in comparatively tame affairs with nonleague opponents in California.

Edmonton drubbed Visalia of the California League 16-8, getting 13 hits to the Visalians 8. Wenatchee took its first loss in seven exhibition starts bowing 6-5 to Modesto of the California loop.

The Chiefs were outhit 7-6.

Vancouver's win at Lewiston evened the exhibition series at a game piece. Vancouver second-sacker Marvin Williams collected two of the homers. The others were by outfielder Arnie Hallgren, Milwaukee bonus baby optioned to Vancouver, and first baseman Ellis Daugherty.

At Kennewick, Tri-City scored eight times in the first inning and coasted home. Yakima catcher Lon Summers hit a home run in the fifth.

Shortstop Don Gigli's three-run homer in the sixth was the main blow in the game at Visalia. It was Edmonton's second win over the California nine.

Modesto pinch hitter Jim Yerber's double in the bottom of the ninth scored two runs to end Wenatchee's win streak.

Sacred Heart Whips Tulelake

Sacred Heart used a football scoreboard to beat Tulelake yesterday afternoon at Recreation Field, when the Trojans posted a 24-4 win over the Northern California team.

Tulelake was held to two hits by three Sacred Heart pitchers, and they were charged with 10 errors, which with 12 Trojan hits provided the needed margin for victory.

In the fourth inning Sacred Heart scored 14 runs on 6 hits, and five errors. Three of the blows in the big inning went to Phil Collins, Dean Michaelis and Garry Thill, all were good for three bases.

Four Trojans led the victors at the plate. Michaelis and Collins produced two for three and three for four respectively.

Dino Reginato banged out three hits in five trips and Thill collected two safeties in four times. Collins, Michaelis, and Thill all collected triples and Reginato and Thill picked up a double during the afternoon's action.

PITCHING — Alex Kellner, Philadelphia Athletics — Held Washington hitless until two were out in the eighth inning and finished with a 7-0 one-hitter, his first in organized ball.

BATTING — Andy Seminick, Cincinnati Redlegs — Homered and added two singles in four times up, driving in two runs as the Reds beat St. Louis 13-6.
