Nixon Tells US Foreign Policy Aims

DES MOINES (AP) — America's foreign policy is designed to "avoid sending our boys to Indochina or anywhere else to fight," Vice President Nixon says.

But he told an Iowa Republican gathering last night that does not mean that America will keep its soldiers out of Indochina at the expense of letting the Communists move in.

Nixon was the principal speaker at a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner. He criticized the Truman administration's foreign policy as one "characterized by weakness, inconsistency, compromise of principle at the conference table and an abandonment of our friends."

"The Eisenhower administration's policy, on the other hand, he said, is based on "strength, firmness, consistency and non-surrender of principle at the conference table."

"We are convinced," he said, "that this policy is one which has the best chance to lead to peace and to avoid war."

He said the United States recognizes that the war in Indochina is a fight to save that country from "Communist colonialism" and he added:

"If the Communists take Indochina, the danger of World War III will be tremendously increased."

That, he said, is why the United States' policy is to give "maximum material aid to the forces of the French and the Associated States of Indochina and to work for united action among all nations in the area" to resist further Communist conquest in Southeast Asia.

"That also is why at Geneva we shall work together with our allies for an honorable, peaceful settlement and against any settlement which would surrender Indochina to the Communists," he said.

He said the people next November would have a chance to express approval or disapproval of the President's program.

Bonanza Plans Variety Show

The second annual variety show to be presented for the benefit of the Bonanza Park will be held Friday evening, April 23, beginning at 8 p.m., in the grade school auditorium.

A three act musical entitled "This is My Country" will be presented, made up of talent from the entire basin. Proceeds of the show will go to improve the playgrounds and picnic grounds and a tennis court is being planned for the future.

Mrs. Ann Dalton is in charge of the program and Bob Schmor is to be the master of ceremonies.

The Bonanza Park Board would like to acknowledge the assistance received from members of the communities of Merrill, Malin, Klamath Falls, Bly, Newell and Bonanza.

Florence Wilson, Malin, who has written the extravaganza wrote the Bonanza show. Rubye Kujac is in charge of the dance numbers. Violet Moore will play the organ for many of the numbers. Louis Mann donated use of the instrument.
