Joyful Funeral Held In SF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Some 10,000 mourners jammed the financial district yesterday for the fantastic, joyful funeral of the Monster of Montgomery Street.

The "monster" was an immense pile driver which had split the air for four months with a nerve-racking, never-ending "boom-chuck!"

Confetti showered from skyscrapers as the grotesque machine was dismantled, its work of sinking the foundation of a new 25-story building complete.

Civic dignitaries spoke and an orchestra played "Happy Days Are Here Again." Then the nose of the pile driver, in a red box labeled "The Monster's Nose," was placed in a funeral cortege and taken to the liner President Monroe for burial in mid-Pacific.

READY FOR THE OVEN is Donna Freer's sponge cake, which she learned to bake in 4-H Club work and which she is exhibiting at the three-day Spring Fair in session through Saturday at the Fairgrounds. In baking sponge cake, she realized again that things with eggs must be cooked at a rather low temperature in order to keep them from being made tough. She also learned several whys of cake success: Use soft wheat or cake flour to give finer textured cake. Sift flour once before measuring; use level measurements. Eggs at room temperature whip better. Egg whites are stiff enough when they hold up in shiny peaks and the air bubbles are fine and even. Acids help make eggs tender; hence the cream of tartar or lemon juice in recipes. In separating the eggs, keep all yolks out of the whites, since yolk contains fat and fat usually decreases the volume foam and keeps whites from becoming as stiff as desired.

Swiss Prepare For Big Meet

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss soldiers laboriously began stringing five carloads of barbed wire yesterday around the fancy lakeside villas reserved for top Communist delegates to the big power conference on Korea and Indochina.

The Swiss already had put up the wire wall along the most exposed side of Chou's future home. Reporters said the handsome property looked like a concentration camp.

Today they started taking the wire down.

Russian security officers decided abruptly they didn't want the barricade around the suburban estate which will house Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

When the Chinese heard that, they decided they also didn't want such protection for Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

The North Koreans couldn't make up their minds. They told the Swiss not to start the wire work at their house, but they'd let them know their final decision later today.

The barbed wire barricades were part of the elaborate security precautions the Swiss are erecting to guard the conference delegations. Two battalions of motorized troops arrived yesterday to reinforce Geneva police.

Eastern and Western delegates already are pouring into Geneva for the conference opening Monday.

None of the principals were on the scene yet. The Western Big Three—U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault—gathered in Paris today. Chou joined Molotov in Moscow yesterday.
