MR. AND MRS. EARL NEWBRY were visitors in Klamath Falls today when the candidate for governor showed up for a tour of the Merrill, Malin area.

Earl Newbry, Candidate For Governor, Visits KF

"Let's keep Oregon for Oregonians," So said Earl Newbry this morning when he paused briefly in Klamath Falls on his way to a short tour of the Merrill, Malin area.

A candidate for the governorship of Oregon, Newbry stands for selling the state of Oregon, for inducing large industries to move to our state and for a vast buildup in the power potential of the state.

Country Club Plans Changes

Expansion plans for Resmes Golf and Country Club were approved at a Tuesday evening meeting of the board of directors. At the same time the board approved opening membership lists to 100 new associate members with the initiation fee set at $50.

Work is starting immediately by Brosthouse Construction Company on a new pro building to be situated behind the first tee. Space previously occupied by the pro room will be added to the lounge, providing 1200 square feet for lounge facilities.

Wall-to-wall carpeting is planned for the lounge, with new draperies and cocktail tables.

The old lounge will be made into an ample dining room. Modern fold-downs will be installed to allow the dance floor and lounge to be turned into one room for the larger events at the club.

The expansion and remodeling program will cost approximately $13,000, according to E. S. Robinson, club president. Plans have been drawn by Don Miller of Howard R. Perrin Architects.

If sufficient funds are available, it is proposed to black top the road from the present entrance paving to the highway.

The public is invited to come out and inspect the improvements, Robinson said. The work should be completed within eight weeks, he added.

New Move In TV Hearings

Washington, D.C. legal counsel for both Klamath Falls Television, Inc. and KFII Broadcasters have agreed to submit "points of reliance," the elements of comparative merit on which a final decision will be based, to the FCC examiner in charge of the Klamath Falls hearing on April 28 in anticipation of the formal opening of the case on the 30th.

Also established is that oral testimony by the principals, concerning representations made in the construction proposals will be taken later in the proceedings. In this connection, a medical statement has been filed on behalf of Mr. W. D. Miller indicating inadvisability of a Washington trip at this time due to his recent illness.

Although the local TV proposals differ sharply in terms of ownership and projected operation, and the issues appear to be clearly defined, at least 60 days are expected to elapse before a decision can be expected.

Sack Requests Venue Change

PORTLAND (AP) — Attorneys for George F. Sack contend he could not get a fair trial in Multnomah County because of wide publicity newspapers have given to past events in his life. They filed a motion in circuit court Friday asking he be tried elsewhere.

Sack, 57, is charged with first degree murder in the Feb. 19 death of his third wife, Mrs. Goldie Rosa Sack.

Sack's two previous wives also met violent deaths. Both died in Chicago in the 1920s—one in an apartment house fire and the other from a gun shot wound. Sack was charged with first degree murder in the death of the second wife but was committed to an Illinois mental hospital. He was released in 1932.

Sack's attorney said newspaper references to these and other events made it necessary for them to ask a change of venue in the forthcoming trial.

Sack has pleaded innocent to an indictment charging him with the murder of his third wife.

Fast Thinking Saves Woman

Knowledge of the application of artificial respiration and fast thinking on the part of two local men was credited with saving the life of a former Klamath woman following a boating accident near the Yacht Club on the shores of Upper Klamath Lake, shortly before 4 p.m. Friday.

The young woman, Dorothy Erickson, formerly a nurses aid at Hillside Hospital, and currently a resident of Ashland, was pinned beneath an overturned motorboat about 100 yards offshore. The operation of the boat, Jerry Short, owner and operator of the Wocus Tavern, and Murray Smith, 7417 N.W. Anna, Portland, were thrown clear when the boat overturned.

Troy Cook and Bob Sparks, who with Harry Bolvin, were working on Bolvin's boat at the dock, went to the rescue, picked up the three victims and immediately applied artificial respiration to the woman, who is said to have been under water from five to ten minutes.

Operators of the Yacht Club called for the city rescuer and it arrived a few minutes after the woman was brought ashore. After a few minutes work with the resuscitator she was pronounced out of danger.

After being taken to the home of a relative, Mrs. Erickson is reported to have become ill later in the evening and was taken to the hospital where she spent the night. Attendants report her condition as good this morning.

Wife Struck As Husband Kept Tied

A report shortly before press time today from the Oregon State Police, states the man wanted for the murder of Mrs. Hugh Hile, in Medford last night, is still at large. Two state police from the local office and two from Gilchrist are assisting in the manhunt.

MEDFORD (AP) — A woman was killed with a hatchet here early Saturday after her husband had been beaten and tied by intruders bent on robbery, State Police Capt. Paul Parson said.

The victim was Mrs. Hugh Hile, in her middle 30s.

Her husband was under treatment in a hospital for what was possibly a skull fracture.

Their four children, 8 to 14 years, were at the home of relatives.

An 18-year-old who said he was Donald Chesley, of the Coos Bay area, gave himself up and told this story, Parson reported.

Chesley met another man, a stranger to him, Friday night about 8 o'clock and after some talk they decided on a robbery. They broke into a second hand store and got five guns, then went to the Hile home, just outside the city, some time after midnight.

They beat Hile and tied him up and Chesley then stood watch over the four Hile children, Lester, 14; Judy, 13; Dennis, 11, and Carol, 8.

While he was watching the children, Chesley's story continued, the other man said he'd step into the next room and knock out Mrs. Hile.

(Parson said she had been hit with a rock wrapped in a cloth, then killed with a hatchet blow.)

But, said Chesley, until they had started away in the Hile car, he didn't know what had happened. His companion said he thought he might have killed the woman.

The Chesley story said the other man, 25, driving in a reckless manner, twice ran off the road, and the car finally ran out of gas 30 or 40 miles from here on the Crater Lake road near the Prospect Forest lookout station. Chesley stayed with the car while his companion went to steal another.

And then, said Chesley in completing his story to Parson, he decided he was in farther than he had expected and determined to give himself up.

He went to the lookout station and told his story. Police were called and he was put into custody.

All city, county and state police of the district were called and Parson said roads of the area are well sealed off.

The wanted man was described by Chesley as 25 to 35 years old, 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall, light complexion, wearing tan trousers and a brown cloth jacket. Chesley said the man told him he had been released from San Quentin prison five days ago.

French Launch Desperate Attacks At Red Vietnam

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French hurled powerful counterattacks Saturday at the Communist-led Vietnam in the vital northwest corner outpost the rebels had newly captured in their drive to the heart of Dien Bien Phu.

A French Army spokesman said the defenders of the fortress had not succeeded in dislodging the deeply entrenched rebels from their grip on the whole northern half of the fortress' main airstrip.

But he said the counterattack had given the French some added breathing space in which to establish a new defense line of trenches and fortifications.

Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries, commander of the bitterly contested fortress, launched his counterattacks in an effort to snatch back the outpost captured Friday by the Vietnam in a day of furious hand-to-hand fighting.

But the Vietnam threw in overwhelming numbers of troops.

Meanwhile, there was speculation that loyal forces marching northward from the Indochinese kingdom of Laos may be on their way to try to relieve the pressure against the encircled fortress.

The French counterattack inside the fortress came after the Vietnam took time out to consolidate their newly won positions in the north corner.

The French communique said the defenders had a "calm night" after a bloody day of hand-to-hand fighting yesterday in which the Communist-led rebels captured a vital outpost comprising the northern half of the main airstrip of the fortress.

A heavy mist hung over the battered fortress today. The French hoped for clearing weather before noon to permit new waves of bombers and fighters to blast at the enemy.

The attackers had sliced through thick mazes of barbed wire and overwhelmed a third French outpost on the northwest rim yesterday. Savage counterattacks failed to stem the drive.

Monsoon rains the past week turned the bowl-shaped Dien Bien Phu battlefield into a swamp of red mud, hampering French war planes and bogging down field armament.

The French defenses still intact covered an area less than a mile across last night. This was a tiny target for planes that must parachute in all food and war supplies. The plight of the weary defenders was considered especially acute because all escape routes from the remote mountain position have been blocked by the encircling Vietnam masses.

The Dien Bien Phu battle had wide repercussions.

The first of a new contingent of paratrooper reinforcements from France arrived at a secret Viet Nam air base yesterday. U. S. Air Force Globemasters ferried the troops on a three-day, 8,500-mile flight which skirted India.

The French News Agency said in a dispatch from Saigon more landed in Indochina today.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru banned the flight over India, the normal route, on grounds his country was neutral in the Indochina fight.

French sources in Paris said the emergency airlift involved about 1,000 troops.

Navy Ships French Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Navy has disclosed that military supplies, including aircraft and vehicles, are being funneled through San Francisco Bay area shipping centers to French forces in Indochina.

The 12th Naval District said the carrier Windham Bay was loading planes at the Alameda Naval Air Station and will sail Tuesday.

The carrier had been ferrying aircraft to Japan and Korea but was diverted because of the critical Indochina situation.

Other war supplies have been moving through installations here for some time under mutual security agreements.

IT'S A MAN'S WORLD! exclaim judges at the 4-H Club Spring Fair, when they learn that the champion in the Cookery 2 division, a sponge or sunshine cake without baking powder, is a boy — Don Owens, 10-year-old club member from the Lindley Heights district. Judges are (left to right) Mrs. Sid Conklin, Bend; Mrs. Floyd Klippstein, Springfield. Mrs. Jessie Spillane, far right, is a leader from Langell Valley. The fair is open to the public until following the style show which begins at 7:30 this evening at the exhibit building at the fairgrounds. The public is invited.
