

Over the GARDEN GATE

Members of the North Side Garden Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jess Walker on Noster street. Guest speaker was Red Bussman of Murphy's Seed Store, who discussed care and planting of roses and pest control.

Due to press of personal affairs, Mrs. Walker submitted her resignation as secretary of the club.

A nominating committee was appointed and presented the following slate for a two-year term: Mrs. Bernard Valk, president; Mrs. Lester Reddard, first vice president; Mrs. B. C. Johnson, second vice secretary, and Mrs. Glen Thomason, treasurer.

New officers will be installed at the May meeting. Special prize of a president Eisenhower rose bush was won by Mrs. Johnson, current president of the club.

Etna Rodeo To Be Held

ETNA — Entries from Northern California and Oregon are pouring in for the annual Pleasure Park rodeo to be held here Sunday.

The cowboy and cowgirl parade starts at 12:30 with the main show being staged at 1 p.m.

New this year will be the kids' calf riding contest with prizes for all who can keep their seats. Team roping will be confined to Siskiyou county entries only. Added feature event will be trick riding by Maria June Hock of Cottonwood. There are picnic facilities for all.

JUDY CLARK AND BEVERLY OYEREN, representing the Job's Daughters and the Rainbow Girls respectively, look over the banners preparatory to decorating for the Shrine Crippled Children's dance which is scheduled for the Armory this Saturday night, May 1. Last year Hillah Temple of the Shrine contributed over $25,000 to the hospital, which is located in Portland and aids crippled children throughout the entire state. Funds for the hospital are obtained largely through dances similar to the one scheduled for this Saturday night. Baldy's Band will provide music for dancing from 9 to 1.

Actress Uses Brains And Beauty To Further Career

By BOB THOMAS
APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Janet Leigh is just as smart as she is pretty, as you can judge from the way she is handling her career.

"The blonde beauty was in this Mojave Desert resort to help Marjorie and Lewis launch their new film, 'Living It Up.' I asked her for an explanation of why she is leaving MGM, where she earns $2,000 weekly.

"Look," she reasoned, "I'm grateful to the studio for what it has done for me. I want that to be clear. They gave me my start and have every right in the world to cash in on what they have built up.

"But I feel I have served my apprenticeship. I would be happy to stay here and work, if they had pictures for me to do. But they don't. In the past year I have been trying to get my release. Most of the films I have made have been loanouts.

"I finally had talks with Dore Schary and Benny Thau (MGM execs). I asked them if they had anything for me in the coming year, which is how long my contract will last. They admitted they didn't. They said they understood my side and talked to Nick Schenck (MGM top boss). He didn't want to let me go. But when he understood that I would continue doing loanouts, he said okay."

So after she finishes "Rogue Cop" with Robert Taylor and George Raft, she'll be free from her MGM ties for the first time in eight years. That doesn't mean she'll be adrift in the movie sea, she has already lined up some comfortable security.

"I made me very happy that every studio in town offered me a deal when it got around that I would be free," she said. "I decided I would line up some ties that would give me something to hold onto. I didn't feel that I had progressed far enough to go it alone. I'm no Jane Wyman or Joan Crawford.

"So I signed for one picture every five years with Columbia. I also lined up four pictures with Universal — International. Because they make more pictures than any other studio, they wanted to make the deal for a picture every nine months. That was all right with me.

"But with each deal, I made sure what my first picture would be. That was important. If they started me out with a big picture, it stood to reason they would take good care of me. For instance, my first at Columbia will be 'My Sister Eileen' with Judy Holiday. Obviously, they aren't going to sluff me off after a picture like that."

Loyalty Oath Refusal Told

PORTLAND (AP) — A University of Oregon graduate disclosed here Thursday she had lost her job with the Multnomah County Public Welfare Commission because she opposes loyalty oaths.

Katherine Patten, a 1934 graduate of the university, said she refused to sign the loyalty oath required of welfare commission workers since last November because they participate in the civil defense program. She was a case worker.

J. Warrington Stokes, county welfare administrator, said she wanted to appeal the discharge to the State Civil Service Commission, but was denied a hearing because she had not been with the commission six months.

Miss Patten, who once worked in Poland for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, said she opposed the loyalty oath because it "is not a sound method of detecting Communists and subversives, but is a device conceived by... self-seeking men posing as guardians of American freedom."

She said also it "is a first step in chipping away individual freedom" and "has arisen out of the fear and suspicion of one American for another. Instead of allaying distrust, it will increase it."

The oath requires the signer to swear "that I do not advocate, nor am I a member of any political party or organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States or of this state by force and violence."

Sun Mountain Pass Opened

FORT KLAMATH — Sun Mountain Pass opened for travel at 3 p.m. Thursday, April 29. Hank Nichols, Klamath Falls, and a local crew under the direction of Jim Van Wormer have been working for several days, getting the highway ready for travel. Highway superintendent, S. P. Jones said this was the earliest the road had been opened for travel since the new highway was completed.

The opening of this road saves residents in the Fort Klamath area about 15 miles traveling North.

Take it from me girls... stay Smart and Healthy

By BESSY, "The Basin Bossy"
You know, complexion is important—even amongst us cows. We've got to have healthy complexions to retain prize-winning form when we are in show competition. But you girls are in competition all of the time.

Naturally, then, beautiful skin is high on the list of important considerations, isn't it?

Needn't tell you about what MILK can do for your complexion in helping to keep it smooth and healthy. But I do have some hints to pass along that can give you a big assist in shaping yourself up just the way you want to be...

For instance, foundation cream and a little practice, and you'll put even Max Factor behind you for good. Why, you can—by using a light foundation line down the length of your nose—lengthen it in all appearances. That is, match, if you think it's too short.

Or, should you think your nose too long, try a dot of rouge or dark foundation right on the tip, then blend around the edges of your nostrils.

Wish we cows had it as easy when we're being primed for the show ring. But we do get quite a going over every day—from our special hairdressers (who are our bosses, too, by the way). It's all a part of the idea that good health in cows means good milk for you. And, just as important, clean cows mean clean milk.
