Chicago Beef Sales Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Hogs suffered their most severe decline since October, 1953, on the livestock market this week. Saleable receipts were the largest for any week since January.

Barrows and gilts lost 75 cents to $1.25 and sows were down a similar amount. An important factor in the decline was a consistently lower wholesale pork market with some fresh pork cuts closing the week from $2.00 to as much as $5.00 lower.

Receipts in the cattle section were more than 10 per cent smaller than in the preceding week and about in line with two weeks ago, when arrivals were the smallest since early last September. Prices on steers were lower at the start of the week but recovered later. Vealer prices broke as much as $2.00 for the week.

Lambs and sheep closed the week 50 cents to $1.00 lower. Most of the loss in lambs was rung up Monday. Declining prices on dressed lamb in wholesale markets proved the main depressing factor in the market.

MUNICIPAL COURT Johnny Peters, drunk and disorderly 30 days. Edison Duffy, drunk, $15 or 15 days. Juy Duffy, drunk, $15 or 15 days. Betty Sue Johnson, drunk, $15 or 15 days. Betty Sue Johnson, vagrancy, deferred judgment. Harry Day, disorderly conduct, $100 and 30 days, 6 months probation.

Delegate Tells Of Trip To State PTA Meetings

By VIRGINIA TAYLOR CHEMULU—As a delegate from my local unit, Gilchrist Parent Teachers Association, I went to Salem last week. I was particularly impressed by the large number of parents, teachers and grandparents who are interested in the child of today; the citizen of tomorrow.

Salem was at its best, excellent weather, flowering trees and shrubs. The capitol grounds and those of nearby Willamette University a riot of spring blooms. The delegates toured the city and capitol building.

The opening greetings were given by Governor Paul Patterson and Dennis Patch, general convention chairman. Interesting talks

4-H Leader Reports On Europe Trip

Mrs. Winnifred Gillen, state 4-H extension agent, who will speak May 4 at the Homemaker's Festival, recently spent four months in Europe visiting homes in four countries and working with the 4-H club and extension program in Austria.

During her travels, she went to England, Scotland, Holland, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria and Italy. She also visited International Farm Youth Exchange delegates who had been to Oregon in 1951 and 1952 from England, Holland, Switzerland and Germany. One of her responsibilities at the state 4-H club office is supervising the IPYE program in Oregon.

At the request of the ministry of agriculture in Austria, she worked for three weeks with Austrian extension agents, giving demonstrations at two district extension agents' conferences, and observing their work in the part of Austria not occupied by the Russians.

Among the 37 homes she visited in Europe, were some in the flooded area of Holland. She also visited a one-room grade school in a small German village and several schools of home economics.

Mrs. Gillen's trip was taken during part of her sabbatical leave from April 1, 1953, to February 1, 1954. The rest of the time she attended the University of Maryland summer school human development workshop and visited several states to learn about their extension programs.

Before taking her position with the state 4-H club office in 1947, Mrs. Gillen was a home agent in Klamath county for nine years.

Nation's Business Said Cautious But Optimistic

NEW YORK (AP) — Business sentiment this week was cautiously optimistic. The bulls had plenty to boast about. The latest batch of first quarter earnings reports brought an impressive array of plus signs and a sprinkling of new records.

The stock market raced ahead to new 24-year highs, steel makers said new business was picking up, railroad men predicted an early upswing in freight traffic.

At the same time, there were warnings that the business turnaround has not yet run its course. Occasional instances of production cutting in the consumer goods field pointed up the fact that businessmen were very definitely in a buyer's market.

"Blue chip" companies were liberally represented in the week's budget of first quarter earnings statements. These are the giants among the corporations — and, with the exception of the oil companies, the ones likely to benefit most from abolition of the excess profits tax.

Auto production slipped a little. U. S. factories turned out 144,677 cars and trucks vs. 147,152 the week before and 172,707 in the same week last year. Factory sales of motor vehicles for January, March were the third highest for any initial quarter on record, surpassed only by first quarter output in 1951 and '53.

With the "big three" accounting for some 96 per cent of the industry's total production, the small independents found the going rough. Studebaker failed to declare a dividend and reported a first quarter loss of nearly $1 million dollars; Packard announced a two-week shutdown starting Monday "to keep production in line with sales." Nash said it was laying off 800 production workers to reduce dealer inventories.

Two railroad presidents — Walter S. Franklin of the Pennsylvania and Wayne A. Johnston of the Illinois Central — reported signs of an upturn in freight traffic, which

Coroner Faces Tax Violation

PORTLAND (AP) — Ray Rillance, Clackamas County coroner, and two of his partners in an Oregon City undertaking firm, Friday changed their pleas to guilty of federal income tax law violations. Earlter, Rillance, 52; R. Morris Holman, 52; and George M. Hawkins, 67, had pleaded innocent to charges they had not reported all their income from 1947 to 1950.

The government contended they had an unpaid tax total of $8,079. They since have paid this sum, plus penalties, their attorney, Ralph Bailey, reported.

Federal Judge Gus Solomon ordered a pre-sentence investigation while they continued free on bail.

TO THE METERS

I am deeply interested in the campaign of Elsie (Low) Siemens who is a Republican candidate for County Treasurer. I have been seriously ill and unable to get out and personally call on the voters. I am taking this means to ask support for her.

Mrs. Siemens was born and raised in Klamath County. A member of a pioneer family Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Low. She was Chief Deputy Tax Collector for several years and was responsible for the collecting of taxes and turning same to the Treasurer and for the distribution to the numerous tax levying bodies. This money, over a period of years, amounted to several million dollars. The State Auditor's report shows that all of this work was done accurately, efficiently, and honestly. Naturally, from this experience, she well knows the duties and responsibility of the Treasurer.

As it is hard for a woman to get out and see everyone, I would appreciate it, more than you would ever know, if friends, and also voters whom I haven't had the pleasure of meeting, would give Elsie (Low) Siemens all support possible, if not otherwise pledged.

Sincerely, Lloyd L. Low Paid for by Lloyd L. Low
