Democrats Hold Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Democrats, back in Washington in force, open Wednesday a national Democratic conference to rally forces and repair finances for a supreme effort to capture Congress in November.

The party faithful will prove their loyalty by paying $100 a plate at a Jefferson-Jackson dinner Thursday night, after two days of airing Democratic policies and current Republican embarrassments.

Gibes concerning "the mess in Washington"—a GOP battle cry in 1953—were standard among the members of the National Committee, state leaders, and Democratic mayors and governors. The phrase was applied to the Army-McCarthy hearings, the business slump, and to criticism of U. S. policy on Indochina.

Delegates did not soft-pedal their belief that GOP problems and internal conflicts would better the chances for a Democratic victory in the off-year elections. They already have a slight margin in the Senate and almost equal GOP strength in the House.
