Four Die In Latest Border Row

JERUSALEM, (AP)—Three Israeli soldiers and a Jordan farmer were reported killed in clashes along the Israel-Jordan frontier yesterday. Two Israeli policemen were reported missing and believed dead. Jordan officials said their forces killed an officer and a private from the Jewish nation in repulsing an attack by a band of 90 Israelis on the Jordan village of Illin, in the Hebron area. The officials said the Israeli band fired on Jordan members of the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission and its American chairman, U.S. Navy Cmdr. Elmo Hutchison, when they went to Illin to investigate the incident. The Jordanians also charged that Israelis kidnaped an Arab farmer and killed him near Zababa village, in Jordan's northern sector.

Across the frontier, an Israeli spokesman said a force of armed Jordanians invaded Israeli territory near Khirbet Ayala, in the south Judean mountains, wounded two Israeli policemen and took them into Jordan. Later, he said, a Jordan broadcast reported two Israelis — believed to be the policemen — had been found dead on the Jordan side of the frontier. In another statement the Israeli said raiders from Jordan attacked an army post in the same area late yesterday with mortars, killing one Israeli soldier and wounding two more before they were driven back across the frontier. Jordan demanded a meeting of the Mixed Armistice Commission, which Israel is boycotting. The U.N. Security Council also is to meet Wednesday in New York to debate other recent Israeli-Jordan clashes.

Merrill Has School Show

MERRILL—The Merrill High gym was filled to capacity Thursday evening when students of both schools presented their annual spring program of songs and dances. From the opening number a spirited "Hokey Pokey" by Margaret McNulty's first grade, to the finale "Irish Waltz" and "Cotton-Eyed Joe" by high school students, the program was completely enjoyable. Such favorite dances as the "Rye Waltz", "Mexican Clap Dance", "Little Brown Gal", and the "Korobuska" were expertly performed by the young participants. Musical numbers were presented by the 5-6 grade chorus, and the high school chorus, directed by Lovetta McTaggart music teacher for the schools. Miss McTaggart was presented an orchid corsage in directing the program.

West Appeals To Reds Over Geneva Peace Talk Issue

GENEVA (AP)—The Western Powers planned a private appeal to the communists today to withdraw their demands for inclusion of two newly created "phantom" governments in the Indochinese peace talks here.

Western sources said Red insistence that rebel movements in Laos and Cambodia be invited to the parley might wreck the Indochina negotiations at the Far Eastern conference.

Representing the West, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden planned to see Russia's V. M. Molotov before this afternoon's conference session to see if the Communists really meant to press the issue.

Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong of the Communist-led Vietnam raised the question at the opening Indochinese session, referring to the two groups as the resistance governments of Khmer (Cambodia) and Pathet Lao (Laos).

American intelligence officers said the so-called governments had been created early in April for the purpose of stalling the Geneva conference. French sources describe them as scattered gangs of brigands roaming remote interior areas of the two Indochinese kingdoms.

Pham Van Dong's demand was backed by Molotov and Communist China's Chou En-lai. The debate following started the opening meeting on Indochina for almost three hours.

A high American source said the next three days would tell whether there will be peace in Indochina. There was some speculation among Western sources that the Reds might be making a propaganda gesture and were not ready to stage a real fight that might disrupt the peace talks.

Nine delegations were present at the opening session—the Big Four, Red China, the Vietnamese, and the French-sponsored governments of the Indochina states, Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

The Reds at Saturday's session completely ignored French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's proposal for an Indochina truce to be guaranteed by the countries participating in the talks here.

The key provisions of the French plan were: (1) a halt in the fighting; (2) withdrawal of all forces from Cambodia and Laos except those of the French-recognized governments; (3) assembly of all opposing forces in Viet Nam, regular and irregular, in zones to be agreed upon by the conference; (4) liberation of war prisoners and civilian internees; and (5) international control of the execution of the agreement.

There was no immediate public reaction from the major powers, Western or Communist, to the proposals.

However, Red Chinese spokesman Huang Hua hinted his side would reject the proposal, although he did not say so outright. He said the French plan in "reality amounts to dissolving" the Vietnamese army and the "resistance governments" of Cambodia and Laos.

A U. S. spokesman said his delegation hoped the Communists "will give careful consideration to the French proposal."

Declining to say what the United States' position on the proposals would be, he said, "Detailed discussions at this time would be premature."

A high Western source said Bidault was under the strongest pressure from the government in Paris, reeling from the effect of the fall of Dien Bien Phu, to make peace in Indochina at any price.

This source added, however, that the French foreign minister was standing firm with the other Western Powers on the position that there could be no armistice without adequate military guarantees to make sure that all of Indochina did not fall into Red hands.

In a formal statement last night U.S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith called again for collective action by the free world to stem the surging tide of communism in Southeast Asia.

"We Americans," he said, "see clearly that our own future, our own prospects of remaining at peace are directly related to a basic principle—collective security. . . . The significance of Korea and Indochina is worldwide. Powerful forces are behind the complex influences that make these two areas the focus of potential war."
