Steel Union Seeks Raise

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers make their first move for a new round of wage increases and a guaranteed annual wage Tuesday as contract talks get underway with U. S. Steel Corp.
David J. McDonald, president of the steelworkers, will head the union negotiators and Chairman Benjamin F. Fairless, in an unprecedented move, will head the corporation team.
The corporation, top steel producer in the nation and usually the first to come to terms with the union, said there is nothing significant in Fairless' trip to the negotiating table.
Vice President John A. Stephens has for several years, headed U. S. Steel's negotiation committee. He is expected to be there Tuesday, also.
The union, which has bargaining rights for 1,200,000 steel workers, has already said it will seek a pay raise and a guaranteed wage as well as improvement in the pension and hospitalization programs and several changes over the present contract.

Racketeer Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP)—Racketeer Frank Costello was sentenced Monday to five years in prison for federal income tax evasion and fined $30,000.
He was sentenced by Federal Judge John F. X. McGobey shortly before noon after the government had described Costello as "the symbol of the successful racketeer."
Costello, who could have received up to 15 years imprisonment, also was assessed the cost of the trial.
Costello, 43, whose horse voice became familiar to millions during his televised testimony before the Senate's crime investigating committee, has been in jail twice before: 10 months on a gun charge 28 years ago, and 14 months for contempt of the Senate committee in 1952-53.

Cops Accused By Suspect

PORTLAND (AP)—Kwong Ting Yee, Portland Chinese, who was questioned earlier this month about the death of 16-year-old Diane Hank, said Saturday he had been brutally beaten by police.
Yee said he suffered fractures of four ribs while being questioned by police May 6. He said the police repeatedly punched him in the stomach and back. Another group of officers struck him in the head, he said.
The officers were not identified. Records at the police emergency hospital indicated Yee had been treated there for rib fractures after he had been questioned by police.
Yee was a frequent guest at the home of Wey Him Fong and his Caucasian wife, Sherry. Miss Hank, a Portland high school student, was last seen alive at the Fong house where she had spent the preceding night.
Police Chief James Purcell said a full investigation had been ordered into the reported beating of Yee.

Council Plans Hearing

The hearing on the proposed condemnation of certain buildings on Alameda and Wendling Streets is on the docket again for this week's council meeting, and several of the petitioners are expected to be present.
The hearing, originally scheduled for last Monday night, was "set aside and continued" until tonight, on the grounds that, since the mayor and council president were both absent, and only they can sign an ordinance or resolution, the remaining council members were in no position to take any legal action.
Council members were not reminded of that fact, by City Attorney Henry Perkins until a few minutes before council met, according to several of the members. Delegates to council on the issue did not know of the temporary dismissal until the issue came up in the council meeting.

A fifteen year old Clifton Indian youth has admitted that he broke into the liquor store at Fort Klamath Friday night, and with an accomplice, hauled off whiskey, wine and gin valued at almost $100.
Following two days and one night of investigation, Oregon State Police and Indian Officer Pankey, arrested Robert Wayne Kirt, 20, and placed him in the county jail. The 15 year old lad is being held at the Juvenile Home.
According to the police report the Indian boy claimed it was Kirk who entered the building and handed out the liquor after the younger man had pried bars from the window.

River Menaces Idaho Town

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP)—The Kootenai River, an annual flood menace to this community of 1,800, stood at 25.4 feet Monday a rise of 19 inches in 24 hours. Flood stage is regarded as 31 feet.
The Weather Bureau said a forecast of warmer weather would probably send the Kootenai to 28 feet by Tuesday.
The river was reported rising all along its length in the wake of runoff from record mountain snowpacks.
It is expected to hit the 31-foot flood stage level later this week. Dikes protecting the town and rich wheat fields near by will hold back water several feet above that level, however.

Ike's Order

be prepared Monday morning to tell who issued those orders.
But before the hearings convened, the White House made public a letter from the President to the secretary of defense barring government officials from telling the Senate investigators about their private conversations on the McCarthy-Army row, or giving them confidential documents relating to it.
The President based his stand on the constitutional separation of powers of the legislative and executive branches of the government.
He said the principle must be upheld "regardless of who would be benefited."
McCarthy's argument was that the disclosure of the Jan. 21 conference raised a question whether Secretary of the Army Stevens and John Adams were "free agents" if bringing what he termed the "smear" charge that he and his aides sought preferential Army treatment for Pvt. Schine, drafted former consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee.
John Adams, when first telling of the conference, had said Sgt. Adams suggested at the meeting that John Adams prepare a written account of the Army's troubles with the McCarthy subcommittee.
Others named by John Adams as attending the conference in the office of Atty. Gen. Brownell included White House assistant Gen. Morgan, Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Three Stewart-Lennox volunteer firemen received minor burns and one a cut finger while fighting a fire which completely demolished an old motel on Douglas Avenue about 9 p.m. Sunday. The building, consisting of four units had been unoccupied for several years.

New Municipal Pool Opens For Public On Saturday

Bob Bonney, city park and recreation director, has announced plans for the new Municipal Swimming Pool in its first season of operation. The pool will open this Saturday, May 22.
There will be six instructional sessions at the pool this season, beginning June 14, to enable patrons to make available to themselves at least one session and possibly more.
The fee for swimming is 15 cents for children; 35 cents for adults per swim, or season tickets of 50 swims for $5 for children; 50 swims for $10 for adults. Season tickets are good for swimming classes also. This makes a child's swim 10 cents and an adult's swim 20 cents.
Families may buy one adult ticket; both adults may use the same ticket and all the children may use the child's ticket until the 50 swims have been used.
For the swimming classes, it does not mean that the holder of a season ticket need not register for swimming classes. All who wish to participate in the instructional classes must register. When the classes are full they will be closed and a waiting list kept in case of cancellation.
Each session will be 10 classes, Monday through Friday, for two weeks. Instructional fees must be paid in advance for children. The fee is $1.50 or 10 punches on a ticket for 10 lessons. No refunds are allowable. "This is necessary," Bonney stated, "in order to insure regular attendance."
Classes will be as follows: first session, June 14 to 26; second session, June 28 to July 10; third session, August 9 to August 21; sixth session, August 23 to September 4.
Those wishing to attend any of

On the Democratic slate, none of the state or county candidates are facing opposition.
