

"Over the Rainbow" is Theme Chosen for Sacred Heart Prom

MONTHS OF PLANNING . . . and many hours of labor were expended by Sacred Heart juniors to achieve the "Over the Rainbow" effect at the Junior-Senior prom in the academy gym, May 5.

The multi-colored arch, (top) here inadequately reproduced in black and white, formed the entrance into the gym; which had been transformed for the occasion, into a rainbow-decked ballroom, featuring a huge throne at one end of the room.

Making an entrance through the rainbow-hued arch are Karine Miller and Wayne Neubert. At the punch bowl is Warren Yaden—apparently about to serve (l to r) Cecile Vandenberg, Kathleen Carrier, Colleen Linahan and Carol Ervin.

Farewell Party For H. Mullins

TULELAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mullins, who are leaving Tulelake to make their home in Woodland, are being honored tonight with a potluck supper and get-together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Takacs Jr.

Mullins, manager of the Tulelake Branch, Bank of America for three years, is being transferred to a similar position at Woodland. He leaves June 1. Mrs. Mullins and children will leave after the end of the school year.

The guests of honor will be presented with a farewell gift.

Invited are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Barrow, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hudell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Don Porterfield, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Swadland, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Kinabarger and Mrs. Margaret McLean.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

PORT KLAMATH — The May 11th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eldon M. Brattain was the inspiration for a delightful party given in her honor that evening by Mildred R. Castel at her home here, when she entertained with a seven o'clock dinner, followed by cards.

The "happy birthday" motif prevailed throughout all table decor, appointments and cards with accent note on spring. Small vases on each table contained daisy nosegay bouquets of violets, with miniature lighted pink tapers centering each arrangement. A flower corsage was given Mrs. Brattain by the hostess, and a beautifully decorated cake inscribed with "Happy Birthday, Genevieve" was served.

Birthday greeting cards with gift handkerchief enclosures were opened. Bridge was played, and Joanna Taylor was awarded high prize. Mrs. Norman Van Iderstine, consolation.

Guests were Mrs. Richard O. Varum, Mrs. Elmer (Dutch) Zumburn, Mrs. Norman Van Iderstine, Mrs. Joanna Taylor, Mrs. William A. Page and Mrs. Harold L. Wimer.

When you find yourself using a gift over and over or enjoying its beauty day after day—why not write the giver a second thank-you note. The first one was expected—the one you wrote when you received the gift. But the second—saying how much you are enjoying the gift—will be a real surprise. Such thoughtful surprises are always appreciated.

Tulelake Presbyterian Guild Meeting Schedule

TULELAKE—The Guild of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian Church, meeting Wednesday, May 19, following a 1:30 p.m. dessert luncheon, saw the film, "Village of the Poor," depicting life in India.

Devotionals were by Mrs. Carl Jensen who reviewed the April topic, "The Democratic Church," and gave the May topic, "The Empowered Church."

Guest Night At Degree Of Honor

The Degree of Honor Protective Association held its annual guest night May 10. The purpose of annual guest night is to acquaint non-members with the lodge and what it stands for. Vice president Margaret Zirkle presided in the absence of president, Fannie Gervais.

During the meeting, Opal Hawkins was honored as the lodge "Year Mother for 1954," and she was presented with a handsome token gift.

An impressive drill under the leadership of staff captain Jennie Buck followed the meeting.

Ronnie Bryan sang several solos, dedicating the first to the year mother.

Games were played; and Jerrie St. John, Janice Ivie and Ruby McDaniels served refreshments in the dining room. The members wore spring hats which they had made, to the table. Letta Nida was awarded the prize for the funniest hat; and Ruby Bell for the prettiest. Special prize of the evening went to Hazel Hickman.

Out of town guest was Ella Cummings, former local member, now living in Ashland.

At the next meeting, May 24, the lodge will honor all its past presidents.
