

Over the GARDEN DATE

POSTPONED
The date of the flower show, to be sponsored by the Alhambra Garden Club has been changed from May 29 to June 5.

IRIS SHOW
The Evergreen Garden Club was organized in the spring of 1949. The iris show that is scheduled for June 5th at the exhibit building at the fairgrounds, will be the fourth flower show sponsored. The iris is the club flower.

The objective of the club is to "develop love of gardening; study native trees, flowers and bird life and to encourage community beauty." The members sponsored the iris bed at Ward Park near Hope Street. Last year 130 different named varieties were planted. This year background plantings of shrubs for the iris bed at Ward Park were put in.

Several members have attended flower show schools in the hopes of becoming certified judges. At present the club is a member of the National Iris Society. Some other activities have been, helping to secure a new district for the southern part of this state; sponsoring 4-H Garden Clubs and donating flowers for the Community Lounge.

Atomic Disaster Amendment Planned

WASHINGTON (U)—A proposed constitutional amendment designed to permit the House to function in the event of a disastrous atomic attack on Washington has been approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee. It would authorize state governors to fill House vacancies temporarily if a sudden blow killed 145 or more House members.

The Juniper Garden Club is a branch of the Evergreen Garden Club and was organized because some of the members of the Evergreen club wanted to attend club meetings during the daytime instead of at night. Their first officers were installed January 18, 1954. At the present time they have eighteen active members.

They help with the iris bed at Ward Park and also donate flowers to the Community Lounge.

Membership is open to anyone interested. Meetings are held on the third Monday of each month at 1:00 p.m. in the exhibit building at the fairgrounds.

The third and last club that will help sponsor the iris show, is the North Side Garden Club. This also is a new club and was organized November 5, 1953. Mrs. Will Woods installed the officers.

There was a definite need for this club as it was hard for these women who live in the suburbs to attend the city garden club meetings.

To raise funds for club activities a "white elephant sale" is held each month.

Last Christmas, table decorations were made and candy and fruit were bought for the county infirmary. On the fourth week of each month flowers are donated to the Community Lounge.

Through the joint effort of these three clubs, it is hoped that this will be one of the finest iris shows to be presented to the public in Klamath Falls.

Eisenhowers Plan Trips To Farm

WASHINGTON (U)—Weekend trips to their new farm home near Gettysburg, Pa., will be on the fall schedule of President and Mrs. Eisenhower, the First Lady says. She will be the chief decorator, she implied, and the President is giving her a free hand.

Mrs. Eisenhower told women reporters yesterday she is looking forward to the close of the White House social season this month so she can concentrate on decorating the house.

Tri-Hi-Y Girls Hold Meeting

The last regular meeting of the Freshmen Tri-Hi-Y girls was held at the home of their adviser Mrs. Estin Kiger. A potluck supper was enjoyed before the meeting. An interesting project was decided upon in which each girl pledged to earn a dollar and write a paper telling how she earned it. A prize will be awarded the girl writing the most interesting paper. Judges will be senior Tri girls, Lorraine Weed and Pat Taylor. Proceeds from the project will pay outstanding bills and the balance will go to Youth World Service of the YMCA. The group made a previous contribution to this worthy cause in March.

Officers for the coming school year were elected. These girls will lead the Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y in September. "Competition is the life of trade"

Competition helps reduce prices for you

AS THE NATIONAL ECONOMY regains its stability and the supply of consumer goods meets normal demands, the competition for your trade increases. Manufacturers in nearly all lines strive to meet this competition, offering better products at lower prices. Producers of building materials are no exception. The lumber industry, for example, faces increasing competition from other materials. To meet this competition we must always provide quality products and good service. We must also continue to develop new and better products and improve our manufacturing and marketing efficiency to be able to sell at competitive prices.

More than half the economy of Oregon and Washington is dependent upon the forest industry. For this reason, the lumber industry's success in meeting competition is important to all who live in this region. Continuous operation means steady jobs and sound communities, and a stable tax base to help support necessary government costs.

Modern schools are economically built of wood

There is a growing trend toward well-lighted, functional schools built of wood to meet the rapidly expanding school population. New construction techniques provide large post-free areas. New designs offer economy, safety and flexibility. Schools of wood can be easily enlarged to meet growing needs. Architects and builders are also using the natural beauty and warmth of wood to help create attractive new schoolroom atmospheres for better teaching and study. Wood often meets building requirements better and more economically than any other material. We must keep reminding prospective builders of this fact. Remember, wood must compete with them all... brick, concrete, aluminum, glass, plastics, compositions and steel.
