

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY UNITES WELL-KNOWN BASIN FAMILIES

THE BRIDE . . . regal in satin and lace, was Carol Elizabeth Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Richard Moore, before her marriage to Marvin Aaron Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rose. The wedding in Tulelake Community Presbyterian Church, May 16, joined two well-known Tulelake families. — Photo by Guderian

AFTER THE CEREMONY . . . the new Mr. and Mrs. Rose on their way to the reception. After receiving guests, the newlyweds left for their honeymoon trip . . . destination not disclosed.

Bon Voyage Gift For New Commuter

"FAREWELL" . . . but not "goodbye" was the motivating theme of the dessert luncheon given by Mrs. Don Zumwalt, Mrs. G. H. Hancock and Mrs. Lena Lee Smith, May 25, for Miss Marie McMillan, longtime resident of Klamath Falls, who recently sold her home, a local landmark on High Street, prior

Renews Old Friendships

MRS. HOWARD DAVIS . . . now of Framingham, 20 miles west of Boston; will be easily recognized as Alice Lyle, to the many who knew her as a young girl here. She was a brief visitor in Klamath Falls last week, at 1845 Esplanade, where she was with her Klamath Falls "family", her aunt, Mrs. Jessie Lyle; cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Runyan (Alexis Lyle) and son Johnny. (Story on inside page). — Photo by Kettler
