

Phyllis Lynch Wed May 28 To Daryl Dean Bishop

WE PUT HER WITH THE JUNE BRIDES . . . on the first page of the section—although she is truly a May bride. She was Phyllis Lynch before her marriage in First Methodist Church, May 28. Now Mrs. Daryl Dean Bishop, she is pictured with her husband after the ceremony. With her seven attendants—five senior and the young ring bearer, Larry Stokes, bride's cousin; and flower girl Janet Ray Thomas, also cousin, the two junior attendants. Purple and white with touches of lavender was the color scheme chosen by Phyllis Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orland R. Lynch, Weyerhaeuser District, for her wedding to Daryl Dean Bishop, son of Mrs. Amelia Bishop, Malin. The 8 p.m. candlelight service was read by the Rev. Lloyd Holloway in First Methodist Church, May 28.

Mrs. Arthur Denison, organist, accompanied Dick Mallen, soloist. Candelights were Lloyd Mudder and Jackie McAuliffe.

The bride's beautiful gown was of lace, with long sleeves, and the low neckline of the fitted bodice was outlined with scallops of the fine lace. The floor length skirt was of many gathered layers of nylon tulle, holding the skirt out in a huge circle at the hemline. Her long veil of illusion was held in place with a Juliet cap encrusted with seed pearls and lace flowers. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of small vases and white baby orchids.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Garry Freitag, and her dress was of white nylon with full afternoon length skirt and low neckline. Her wide satin sash and bouquet of peonies, chrysanthemums were both pink. She wore a white Watteau picture hat with pink ribbon trim.

Bridesmaids, Sandra Lynch, Arlene Lynch, Nancy Lynch, brides sisters, and Delores Kidder were dressed exactly as the matron of honor, except that their color scheme was lavender and white. Flower girl, Janet Ray Thomas, cousin of the bride, wore a lavender and purple dress and carried a basket of lavender sweet peas. Ring bearer, Larry Stokes, also cousin, wore a white dinner jacket.

Garry Freitag was best man; and Lloyd Mudder, Bob Smith, Jackie McAuliffe and John Phillips ushered.

Mrs. Lynch wore a dark blue lace afternoon dress with matching shoes and bag—and her hat, gloves and corsage (roses) were pink. Mrs. Bishop, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue and white ensemble, and blue and white accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds.

The reception was in the church parlors. Mrs. Lester Kurtz, bride's aunt, was at the punch bowl; and Mrs. Irene Markham, her grandmother, presided at the coffee service. Ann Egan cut the cake; Ann Lindskog registered the guests; and Mrs. Lloyd Mudder was at the gift table.

For travel, Phyllis wore a brown and white crepe sheath dress with matching linen duster and white accessories.

They will live at 504 North Tenth Street after a brief honeymoon along the coast and through the redwoods.

Mrs. Richard Allen Pope Is One of June's 'First' Brides

Afternoon nuptials at Klamath Lutheran Church Sunday, June 6, united Doris Lillian Hahn and Richard Allen Pope in marriage.

The Rev. Richard Graef, minister, at Zion Lutheran Church, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and red peonies. Mrs. Arthur Denison, organist, played incidental music, the traditional processional and recessional and accompanied Mrs. Dave Bridge, soloist, who sang "I Love Thee," "Crowned With Thy Benediction" and "Lord's Prayer."

The attractive brunette bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lawrence Hahn, Minot, North Dakota. She wore a ballerina length dress of nylon net fashioned with an attached stole and lines of net ruffles circling the bodice and skirt. Her gown was complemented by three strands of pearls around her neck.

A fingertip length veil was fastened to a half cap edged in ruffled nylon net and trimmed with seed pearls which ended in a flowerette at the left temple. She carried a bouquet of red roses, gardenias and stephanotis.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Vernon Arnold, Rowley, Iowa, who wore an orchid colored dress identical in style to that of the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and gold mums. The same style dress, light blue in color, was worn by the second attendant, Mrs. Oscar Hahn, Portland, sister-in-law of the bride. Her bouquet matched that of the matron of honor.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Pope, 237 Jefferson. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Pope chose a navy crepe afternoon dress with white accessories. A white gardenia was pinned at her shoulder.

Best man was Fred Foulon, a high school and college classmate of the bridegroom. Groomsman for his brother was James Pope, Usher, who was Edward Hall, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Douglas Knudson.

Following the ceremony, the couple received their more than 200 guests in the church social hall. Mrs. Edward Hall, the bridegroom's sister, poured coffee; Irma Wauchope presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Orion Mann, the bride's sister, and Elizabeth Rooper cut and served the tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Douglas Knudson was in charge of the guest book; Mrs. James Pope of gifts.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Alfred Halvorsen, Mrs. Edward Skoe, Mrs. Joe Huck, Mrs. Andrew Gordon, Mrs. Sierre Munson, Barbara Solie, Sharon Taylor and Mary Nell Laurhammer.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hahn, Richard and Judy, Minot, North Dakota, where he is head of the music department at Minot State Teachers College; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hahn, Portland; Mrs. Vernon Arnold, Rowley, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones, Mr.

and Mrs. Alfred Jones and daughter, Paradise, California; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Orton, son and daughter, Coos Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pope and Linda, Port Klamath; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watcher, Winlock, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jensen, Portland.

For her wedding trip, young Mrs. Pope chose a dressmaker suit of navy rayon crepe with white accents, white and navy accessories and the gardenia from her wedding bouquet.

Following a honeymoon trip to Southern California, the couple will be at home at 1804 Lexington Avenue.

The bride attended Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa; Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa; and Southern Oregon College, Ashland. More recently she has been a member of the Fairview School faculty.

Her husband attended Oregon State College and University of Oregon where he received his degree in business administration. He is affiliated with Delta Upsilon fraternity. He is a draftsman in the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company engineering department.
