Rotary Holds Livestock Tour

Despite inclement weather the annual Rotary Club spring livestock tour was held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Several carloads of Rotarians took to the farming area to look over the 4-H Club beef and dairy animals that will be seen this fall at the Rotary sponsored 4-H livestock show and sale.

Most of the beef and dairy clubs in the county were visited during the two day tour, and 69 stops were made at individual farms where one Rotarian commented "we waded through 'cow yards' of all kinds and varieties, no time to be squeamish."

The 4-H stock was generally in good condition and the touring Rotarians praised 4-H members who have started their projects early.

Truth Told About Shad

One of the most sought after sporting fish of the Atlantic Coast is being wasted in many cases by residents of the Pacific Coast.

This fish is the shad. Imported to the Pacific Coast in 1871, they have established themselves in many of the western streams. They make an annual spawning run as do the salmon and steelhead and enter several streams here in Oregon.

Many West Coast residents are under false impression that only the eggs or roe of the shad is edible, however, almost the reverse is true.

A Department of the Interior bulletin states, "As a table delicacy, the shad is one of the best known and most highly prized of the fishes of the Atlantic coast. The flesh is particularly rich in flavor. John Rayner, in charge of fisheries for the game commission, says that the shad is one of the finest of game fishes when taken on light tackle."

So if you happen to hook into a large silvery fish with a greenish blue metallic looking back and a dark spot at the shoulder, don't throw it away. It's a shad, and no finer eating can be had!
