

Movie Actress To Resume Career After Losing Leg

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Susan Hall leaves for South Dakota today to star in her first movie since losing her leg because of cancer.

She will appear opposite Victor Mature in "Chief Crazy Horse," her first movie role in a year and a half. Her last was in another Western, "War Arrow." During the filming of it, she suffered intense pain. This was the start of her battle with cancer. She lost her right leg by amputation, but her life was saved.

I visited Universal-International to see her on the first day of her return. The company was shooting tests of wardrobe and makeup. Producer William Alland told me the role is a great opportunity for Susan.

"She is the only woman in the cast," he said. "She plays the sweetheart, wife and then widow of Crazy Horse, who is Mature. She has some very emotional scenes and even goes through the birth of a child."

"She shouldn't have any trouble with the part. She doesn't have to ride horseback or do any stunts, except pull a man out of the river. But we'd have a double do that anyway."

Just then Susan drove up in her sleek black convertible. She glowed with obvious happiness over being back at work. With black braids and Indian makeup, she was startlingly beautiful. She hopped gingerly from the car and walked on crutches to her dressing room.

"I'm getting a brand new leg for the picture," she smiled, explaining why she used the crutches. "I hope it will be finished by the time I leave. If it isn't, it will have to come up to location by plane the next day."

"It's a new kind of material that has all the qualities of skin except the warmth. I can do anything with it, even apply makeup. There are no moving parts to get stuck. I had hoped to have some time to get used to it here, but I'll be able to adjust to it in a couple of days on location."

She said she is getting along fine with her training to walk with the artificial leg. She attends the Peerless Limb School.

"I can walk without any limp now," she said. "My only problem was in getting my balance. It's pretty hard after you've lost weight on one side."

Unseating Of Solon Failing

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort by Sen. Planders (R-Vt.) to strip Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of his committee chairmanships appeared headed off for a quiet death in the Senate Rules Committee.

It was Planders himself who late yesterday moved—at the prodding of Republican leaders—to send his proposal to the Rules Committee. This was done by a voice vote, with only a few scattered dissenters.

Planders indicated he would ask the Senate to take the motion away from the Rules Committee by a parliamentary device called "discharge." If the committee fails to act on it by July 15, McCarthy is a member of the Rules Committee, headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.).

A Republican leader said in an interview today it would be extremely difficult to get a majority vote in the Senate to pry the motion out of the Rules Committee. The senator asked not to be quoted by name.

McCarthy is head of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and of its parent Government Operations Committee.

Planders' motion was based on what the Vermontier called McCarthy's "contempt" of the Senate. Planders charged in a speech last Friday that McCarthy showed contempt by refusing to testify in 1952 before a Senate elections subcommittee which looked into his financial affairs.

"I'm getting a brand new leg for the picture," she smiled, explaining why she used the crutches. "I hope it will be finished by the time I leave. If it isn't, it will have to come up to location by plane the next day."

Van Fleet Visits Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former commander of the U. S. 8th Army in Korea, said today the breakup of the Korean peace conference at Geneva was "no surprise to me" and "I'm glad it finally came about."

The retired general, on a military aid survey of the Far East for the U. S. State Dept., declared, "We had to go through with it and prove once again you can't believe the Communists—you can't rely on them."

Van Fleet arrived today from Korea and said he planned to visit Formosa "as soon as I can."

Earlier, at Seoul airport, Van Fleet told newsmen South Korea has more than enough men to expand its army above 20 divisions.

Informed quarters said it appeared that President Eisenhower has been using Van Fleet—a personal friend of stubborn old President Syngman Rhee—to keep South Korea in line since the Geneva talks failed.

Rhee has said frequently since the armistice was signed last July that he would order a drive north if Korea was not united peacefully. At Chinhae, where Rhee is attending an unofficial Asian anti-Communist conference, the fiery President said breakup of the Geneva talks "is the first time since the cease-fire talks began in Pannunjom that the United States has led the other nations in withdrawing from a conference with the Communists."

The ROK President said calling off the peace conference demonstrates that "the free nations no longer are begging the Communists to come to some agreement so as to avoid at any cost the possibility of World War III."

Jury Studies Shooting Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The case of the four Puerto Ricans who wounded five congressmen in a wild shooting spree in the House of Representatives last March 1 went to the jury at noon Wednesday.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff instructed the seven men and five women to bring in separate verdicts on each of 10 counts of assault against each of the four defendants—a total of 40 verdicts.

Earlier, U. S. Attorney Leo A. Rover told the jury the evidence clearly indicates a verdict of guilty. He termed the shootings "hideous, despicable, ruthless, and sordid."

Rover called for "a litany of verdicts of guilty for each of the 10 counts against each of the four defendants."

Chief Defense Counsel F. Joseph Donohue, former commissioner for the District of Columbia, asked the jury to acquit the four defendants on the first five counts of assault with intent to kill.

The four defendants sat quietly and without a show of emotion during the final day's proceeding. They are Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, Lolita Lebron, 34, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28.

Billy Graham Visits Finland

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—A brass band and 3,000 singing Finns greeted U. S. evangelist Billy Graham on his arrival in Helsinki today.

Most of the crowd followed the American as he walked from the Stockholm boat to his hotel, causing a major traffic jam.

Graham, now touring Western Europe, starts a three-day Finnish crusade tonight at the Olympic Stadium.

Hells Canyon Hearings Held

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public power attorney kept hammering Wednesday, for the third straight day, at a Federal Power Commission engineer's testimony that three small dams proposed by Idaho Power Co. would produce nearly as much power as the federal Hells Canyon project.

Mrs. Evelyn Cooper, lawyer for groups advocating the federal project in the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon, neared the end of her cross examination of Allan J. Meadowcroft at the Commission's hearing on the company's application to build three dams in the same area.

Mrs. Cooper questioned Meadowcroft on the method he used to estimate the power production capacity of the proposed federal dam. Meadowcroft said the method he used is utilized generally by Commission engineers.

Lester Wing, the Commission's regional engineer at San Francisco will be up next for cross examination. He directed the Commission's Snake River investigation which resulted in testimony that three small dams costing half as much as high single dam would produce nearly as much power.

Presentation of Idaho Power's rebuttal witnesses—last phase of the 11-month-old hearing—will follow Wing's cross examination.

Vice Crusader Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO—The Rev. Dr. Philip Yarrow, 82, who was a militant vice crusader in Chicago for more than 30 years, died yesterday in suburban LaGrange.

Dr. Yarrow was one of the founders and for 20 years superintendent of the Illinois Vigilance Assn. He staged hundreds of raids on brothels, speakeasies and bawdy shows in his campaign against vice and corruption.

The association became inactive in 1942 after Dr. Yarrow was hospitalized after amputation of a leg.

Slight Business Increase Shown By Official Figures

NEW YORK (AP)—Mid-June brings businessmen the first general and official figures to back up their feeling that times are getting better.

Steel mills this week are operating at the highest rate in more than three months.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production has turned up on a seasonally adjusted basis—only slightly, to be sure, but it's the first upturn after almost a year of declines.

Auto men are cheered by the report that for the first time in months the stocks of unsold new cars are declining.

Unemployment among workers covered by state jobless pay benefits has slipped below the two-million mark for the first time since the start of the year. And the filing of new claims for jobless benefits has dropped to the lowest level since last October.

A new record is in sight this year for construction spending. The U. S. Labor and Commerce departments now estimate spending will hit a new high peak of 36 billion dollars in 1954. This would top last year's spending by 2 per cent. It is also two billion dollars above the estimate the two departments made last November, indicating that the public's confidence in the future is surpassing the early hopes of the Washington experts.

Most of the construction gains reflect a higher rate of home building than the departments had expected last fall.

And the unexpectedly good gains in Europe's economic health are giving the exporters of American goods more cheerful prospects. The U. S. Department of Commerce reports that for the first four months of this year exports of commercial goods were running slightly ahead of 1953.

European business has been gaining steadily, if slowly, and Europeans now have more dollar and gold reserves to call upon if U. S. traders can interest buyers.

Statistics always lag actual happenings. And it's only now that general figures for May, and in some cases even April, are being announced.

The gains, pleasant as they are, aren't being overrated, however, by businessmen. In most cases the economy still trails booming 1953—a condition to which most businessmen are now reconciled.

And some of the statistics aren't so cheerful.

Retail sales in May rose above April, for instance, but trailed the year-ago mark. And in the last four weeks, sales volume in New York City Department stores have been 3 per cent behind a year ago. But most American businessmen seem to feel the worst is over and that the slight upturn now being reported mean better times ahead.
