

ALL SET FOR THE OFFICIAL OPENING of the summer recreational program are these four Basin small fry, as they get some good advice from Orin Perkins, a member of the local American Legion baseball team. Tonight the Cub baseball league will open the program with three games, and the Pee Wee League has a jamboree scheduled for Thursday evening. The remaining three teams start July 9.

Landy Rests After Fete

By STIG HAEGGHLUM

TURKU, Finland (AP)—John Landy, the second man in history to crash the four-minute mile barrier, rested today after his record-shattering 3:58 performance and announced that he probably would do no better—at least for this year.

"I have kept my present top shape for more than nine months," said the 24-year-old Australian. "Now I believe some sort of reaction will set in. I think I have done what I can do for this year."

But he left no doubt that he was looking forward to his duel in the British Empire Games next month with Roger Bannister of England, whose 3:59.4 performance he broke in the blazing sun of Turku Stadium yesterday. Bannister crashed the barrier less than two months ago.

"I'm almost too happy to be able to speak," said Landy, whose breathtaking career has included nine mile races of under 4:03. "If it hadn't been for Chris Chataway chasing me around the track I never would have made it."

"I knew he was immediately behind me and that he would not hesitate to pass me if I slowed up the very least."

Ironically, Chataway, an Englishman, was the runner who pushed Bannister to his 3:59.5 effort.

In the process of breaking the mile record, Landy also lowered the world 1,500-meter mark to 3:41.8. Both records must be recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, but there was no doubt that the recognition would be a mere formality.

In London, Bannister commented:

"It is a wonderful achievement. Landy has tried as hard as anyone to run the mile under four minutes and I am glad he has succeeded."

Landy changed his tactics slightly yesterday. Instead of setting the pace all the way as he usually does, he hung back to second place until just before the half-mile mark and finished in a blaze of speed. He showed no signs of exhaustion as spectators carried him from the stadium on their shoulders.

League To Select All-Stars

Selection of the Klamath Women's softball all-star team that will meet the famed Irv Lind Florists of Portland July 9 on Conger Field, will be made tonight.

Some 20 or more picked players of the women's league will try out for the team in a practice session starting at 7:00 this evening at Conger Field.

The select team, which will face a star-studded lineup including eight All-American women softballers on the national championship team, will be cut from the 20 plus candidates to a 12 member squad. The team will play a warmup game against an all-star team from Dunsmuir Saturday, June 26, at 2:00 on the Conger Field diamond.

In action last night, Gino's Motor Lodge whipped Big Y by a 15-1 count, and Merrill showed no mercy on a hapless Chiloquin representative as they pushed across a 4-1 win.

Shirley Gordon and Mickey Hayman clouted home runs for the winning Motor Lodge team in the first game.

ing past the left jabs of the Rankin, Pa., midwifery to pound at the body with both hands. Although Gonzales solved Italo's style in the late rounds he started too late. Judge Joe Agnello had it 7-3 and Referee Al Berli 5-4, both for Scorticchini, uge Harold Barnes scored it 5-4 for Gonzales.

Cleveland Awaits Athletics

By ED CORRIGAN

While the New York Yankees staggered and floundered five games off the pace, the Cleveland Indians confidently awaited an invasion by the Philadelphia A's tonight.

In fact, the Indians were busier thinking about the weekend series with the Yanks.

This is the year Manager Al Lopez has been waiting for. No one in Cleveland thinks the club will fold in the final stages as it has before. Silenced are the critics who have been howling for Lopez's scalp because he used Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia as both starters and relievers.

Now, when the stretch run comes, Lopez will have a couple of good relievers to send in. Both Don Mossi and Ray Narleki have filled a big void in the bullpen.

The club knows it can win. As for the Yankees, Manager Casey Stengel is saving his ace, Allie Reynolds, Whitey Ford and Ed Lopat for the Indians.

In the National League, the New York Giants pulled a game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers with an 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the only major league game scheduled yesterday. Willie Mays hit two home runs, but the Giants still required the services of three pitchers — Jim Hearn, Windy McCall and Marv Grissom.

Frank Ryff Decisions Brian Kelly

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Ryff, a shiny new face in the lightweight division, is ready to step up in class after his impressive victory over Brian Kelly.

The 22-year-old New York lad, unbeaten in 12 pro fights, won a lopsided fight from Kelly last night at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. He had the Niagara Falls, Ont., bout on the floor in the eighth round.

Teddy Brenner, Eastern Parkway matchmaker, hopes to pair Ryff with Orlando Zulueta, the clever, high-ranked Cuban, or Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans schoolboy flash, in an Aug. 9 bout. He must wait that long because a six-week layoff as the result of an inch cut over his left eye.

Ryff is handled by Gus D'Annato, the manager of Floyd Patterson, unbeaten Olympic champ. "The kid is ready," said D'Annato. "He did a fine job on Kelly."

Referee Mark Conn and Judge Americo Schiavone each scored it 9-1 and Judge Joe Eppy 8-2. A crowd of 1,050 paid $2.43 to see the 3-1 favorite come through as expected with left hooks and left-right combinations.

Italo Scorticchini finally grabbed a decision, although a split verdict, over Pedro Gonzales at St. Nicholas Arena and he could hardly believe it.

"You won, you won," Charlie Johnson, his co-manager, told the Italian import before the decision was announced. "And you'll get it here."

Scorticchini thought he was "robbed" when he was held to a draw by Carmen Basilio at Miami Jan. 16. The fans raised the roof at the Garden Feb. 12 when he lost a split decision to Joe Glambra. Scorticchini didn't like decisions against him by Carmine Fiore March 27 or a defeat by Basilio in a Syracuse rematch May 15.

Scorticchini suffered a cut at the side of the right eye last night. He swept the early rounds, brushing past the left jabs of the Rankin, Pa., midwifery to pound at the body with both hands. Although Gonzales solved Italo's style in the late rounds he started too late. Judge Joe Agnello had it 7-3 and Referee Al Berli 5-4, both for Scorticchini, uge Harold Barnes scored it 5-4 for Gonzales.

Joost, Zernial Reconcile

CLEVELAND (AP)—And so Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial were reconciled and the Philadelphia Athletics lived happily ever after.

The time element in that statement is somewhat exaggerated but the fact remains since Manager Joost reinstated Zernial in the A's lineup following their recent floundering, the A's have won seven of nine games.

Moreover, big Gus has been playing better than ever. He's hit safely five times in 10 trips to the plate. And he was largely responsible for three of the Philadelphia wins. Joost hopes he does as well against the first-place Cleveland Indians tonight.

Some second guessers are saying the Joost-Zernial tiff was one of the best things that could have happened to the sliding, hapless club.

Their row was a publicly-conducted affair 10 days ago. Gus and his manager were seen in the throes of an arm-waving hassle in front of the A's dugout in the early stages of a game with the Detroit Tigers.

Two Clubs Dropped From WIL

TACOMA (AP)—After weeks of uncertainty and financial woe, the far-flung Class A Western International League was down to eight teams Tuesday following the almost simultaneous loss of Spokane and Calhoun.

Both clubs dropped out Monday from what had been the country's only 10-team circuit.

The announcement by league president Robert B. Abel at WIL headquarters here that the Spokane franchise had been cancelled evoked little surprise.

Both teams were floundering in a sea of red ink caused by spathy of the fans, cold and rainy weather and in Spokane the counter-attraction of television.

Unless the Spokane players, most of them owned by the parent Philadelphia Phillies, heard the news aboard train they still were unaware early Tuesday of their plight.

At the time the Spokane civic committee "Save Spokane Indians, Inc." threw in the towel on a fund-raising drive the team was en route from Edmonton to Vancouver, B.C., and due some time Tuesday.

The committee gave up in its campaign for $404,000 to insure continued operation of the club after less than $3,000 was pledged during the week of solicitation. The league had taken over the Spokane franchise a week earlier when owner Roy Hotchkiss said he could not continue a losing operation.

Calgary's president Bus Lacey told his players the same story Monday, and split up the club's bank account of $610 among the 18-man squad. A $3,150 deposit with the minor league president, George Trautman, also will go toward player salaries.

Reaction of other owners was a mixture of relief and determination. Most seemed glad the decision over the two ailing ex-members was over, and confident the league could finish out the season intact.

The loss of Calgary left the Edmonton Eskimos at the "end of the line" in Alberta nearly 800 miles from the nearest other WIL club, but manager John Ducey said "it won't affect us a bit."

Ducey described the Eskimos as "in a very solid position," and said other teams would continue to get a $600 guarantee to help meet travel costs on the long road trips to the Canadian prairie. This is the only exception made to the league's rule of the home team keeping all gate receipts.

Spokane's departure from organized baseball came just a half dozen or so years after the inland Empire city set a minor league attendance record.

Civic interests there say they will do the spade work this year to insure the re-entry of Spokane into the WIL next season.

Several other teams, notably Lewiston and Salem, have been hard-pressed financially this season but improving weather and promises of community support have helped them over the hump.

So serious was the overall problem of poor attendance and anemia at the boxoffice that directors met about 10 days ago in Spokane to decide whether the entire league would have to disband. The decision was to continue, with the hope Spokane and Calgary would revive.

They didn't.

Summer Program To Start

The Klamath Falls City Recreation Department's summer program will officially get underway tonight at Conger Field as far as the youngsters of the Basin are concerned.

Tonight at 8:30, the first of three games of the Cub Baseball League started and the summer recreational program will be underway this season.

Jack Kemnitzer, summer sports and recreation director, is in charge of the three month program that houses five different leagues for the small fry softball and baseball players around the Basin.

The Gun Store meets Chiloquin and Poole's tangles with Malin in the two games slated to start at 8:30, while the third game will be played at 8:15 between Joe's Sport Shop and Merrill.

Thursday night the season will start rolling for the Pee Wee League softballers with an all-team jamboree at 7:00 on the Conger Field diamonds.

Every Pee Wee team will play at least one inning and a rating will be given on a plus and minus basis. A plus score for every run scored and a minus count every time a team is scored against.

The rating will determine what division of the league each team placed in the American and the will be in. The top six will be bottom six will be placed in the National division.

Action in the remaining three summer leagues will start July 8 on the Conger Field diamonds, according to Kemnitzer.

The Midget and Bantam leagues, both for the young softballers, and the Pony League for the older baseball players will start at that time.

Last weekend, Weed walloped Tulelake by a convincing 20-3 score, while second place McCloud was taking its licks from lowly Hill 24-12.

With McCloud's loss and Dunsmuir's 11-0 win over Mt. Shasta, the latter exchanged places in the standings with McCloud, and increased Weed's lead to two full games over both teams who are tied in second.

The other Sunday afternoon ballgame was played at Scott Valley where Yreka tripped the home standing nine by a close 8-7 score.

Yanks Becoming Seriously Worried

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—There are not likely to be any general expressions of regret from the rest of the American League at news that the Yankees are becoming seriously worried. A more popular reaction probably would be that it's about time. The five-time world champions are not universally loved and admired.

A spy close to the scene reports that there are unmistakable traces of gloom among the athletes as they head toward still another crucial series with the leading Cleveland Indians out West this coming weekend. He adds that, for the first time, Casey Stengel's high rollers are beginning to look overtired and a little elderly under the burning sun.

It seems to have dawned suddenly upon the champs that the race is drawing toward the halfway mark and they are five games off of first place with no help in sight from any source, including their farm system. They never before have been in anything resembling their present plight since Stengel began his record managerial run.

It is not so much that the Yanks are falling to their share. They have, as a matter of fact, won 14 of the 26 games they have played since June 2. But, during the same period, the torrid Indians have set a 15-5 pace, thus adding a full game to their advantage, and the Chicago White Sox have shown no signs whatever of faltering. This is an unusual experience for the champions, and it appears to have been a disconcerting one.

Our personal prophet of doom for the Yankees places much significance in the fact that they no longer seem able to win double headers. They have split nine in succession, and that, he says, is an accepted symptom of lack of pitching depth.

A close inspection of the record of Allie Reynolds, the veteran ace who must produce brilliantly if the Yanks are to pull out their sixth flag, does not hold forth any great promise. Though the Superchief holds a fine 8-1 victory record at this point, he is having his troubles. He has finished only 3 of 10 games he has started, and he has needed help in winning each of his last five decisions.

But for the comforting presence of Johnny Sain in his bullpen, Stengel plainly would be in poor shape.

Stars Beat H'Wood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pacific Coast League's top funnyman, Chesty Coet Johnson, who at 26 is still a good southpaw pitcher, was the hero Monday night as he starred in an 11-7 victory scored by a PCL all-star team over the league-leading Hollywood Stars.

Hollywood, playing on its home ground, led 6-2 going into the seventh. Then the All-Stars got going at the expense of Fred Strobel, portly right hander. Seattle's Ray Orteig homered with one aboard as the All-Stars tallied three runs. In the ninth they exploded for six more after Forrest Main relieved Strobel with the bases loaded.

Frank Austin and Harry Elliott singled across three of the runs and with the two men aboard Walt Jugnich of Portland poled a home run.

The fellow who really upset the Hollywood club in the final inning was Sacramento's Johnson. He motioned to Strobel that he intended to bunt and when he did, Hollywood third sacker Jack Phillips layed late to second, so there were two on and nobody out, and Strobel was tapped for a single that loaded the bases.

The league resumes its regular schedule Tuesday night with Hollywood paying its first visit to Seattle, Portland at Oakland, Sacramento at Los Angeles and San Francisco at San Diego.
