DAD'S HIDEAWAY DRESSING ROOM can be provided with no loss of space in the master bedroom. It's done with a trick with the walls and takes only the space you would ordinarily use for a small closet or linen storage.

Good Grooming Easy With Double Mirrors

Give the man in your family a dressing room he can really use. Pine paneling is a wonderful decoration idea for the master bedroom, and when you remodel, give thought to the easy location of a dressing room that hides away in the wall and is mighty handy.

Locate the dressing room along the wall you intend to panel. Into an area three feet wide and 30 inches deep, you can build a wonderfully compact wardrobe for all of the man's street and casual clothing.

The wardrobe will reach from floor to ceiling. A shelf at the top will accommodate his hats if he wears a hat. If not, it is good storage space for tennis racquets, beach towels and items that are his own and too bulky for drawer space.

Suits, extra slacks and other items can be hung from a rod installed directly beneath the shelf. Or, if he prefers, slacks and suits can be hung in his other closet and this space used for shirts hung on hangers, thus eliminating creases made by folding to fit drawers.

Drawers of various sizes fill the rest of the space below the jacket and shirt hanging area and will replace a wardrobe chest. Small

Holiday Mood

To go hand in hand with your fresh, young holiday mood, Yardley has designed the Lavender Weekender, a trim kit containing soap, bath salts and essence for a little fragrance treat on summer weekends. This lovely lavender trio, compactly packaged in a charming blue box with transparent sleeve, takes care of important bath and fragrance needs during fun-packed hours.

Since the Lavender Weekender measures only 6 1/2 x 3 1/4 x 1 3/4 inches to fit conveniently into a small travel bag, you'll probably manage to take along another one for your hostess. It is a charming way to say thank-you.

COOKING SHORTCUT

During hot weather take advantage of all the cooking shortcuts you know. For a fancy dessert, combine a package of instant vanilla pudding mix with a 12-ounce can of apricot whole fruit nectar. Then fold in a half cup or so of whipped cream and spoon into tall sherbet glasses. Top with sweetened crushed raspberries or strawberries.

LOST: 137 lbs. FOUND: Love

She lost 137 pounds to catch the dashing Army man she had set her heart on. At 190 pounds Doris Stradley McFall had her second date. She was going steady at 165 pounds, engaged and happily married at 160 pounds and still going down. Read how she did it in the July Ladies' Home Journal Beauty Biography, complete with appetizing diet menus for a week. Out today—on all newsstands!

ROSE MARIE REID treats cotton with a deftness that whittles waistlines and belittles hips. Bright flowers on the light background make a clever trim. The model is available locally. Brown, flame or blue are new colors for this number, appropriately called "Calypso."

LIMA BEANS

When it comes to the one hot dish to serve at patio suppers where cold foods predominate, try a piping hot casserole of baked large dry limas. Good seasoners for the rather bland beans are onions, salt pork, molasses, catsup, etc.

CANNED HAM

Don't overcook canned ham. Fifteen minutes per pound is enough, say the experts. Try giving it a honey and brown sugar glaze for added beauty with whole cloves for decoration. Broiled pineapple rings or pickled peaches make a nice accompaniment.

COCKTAILS

Melon ball cocktails are given an added lift by letting the melon balls stand in pineapple juice for an hour. If desired, just before serving pour fresh orange juice over the cocktail. Orange juice may be fresh made or you can use fresh-frozen now available in cans to keep in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator.

GARNISH

Cream cheese balls rolled in chopped salted almonds are a nice extra to serve with summer fruit salads.
