THE TERRA FIRMA WASN'T FIRMA 'nough and this well drilling rig of C. F. (Porky) Enloe's broke through the surface on the Wilford Dixon ranch at Macdoel. Cause of the break-through was blamed on underground water seeping into the well and causing the walls to cave-in.

Well Drilling Equipment Buried By Well Cave-In

C. F. (Porky) Enloe, Butte Valley well driller, narrowly escaped being buried alive while dismantling his rotary well drilling outfit on the Wilford Dixon ranch southwest of Macdoel Thursday. After drilling a 30 inch irrigation well to a depth of 319 feet, Enloe was making preparations for pulling up and disjoining the drill stem and bit, preparatory to putting in casing, when the ground suddenly gave way under the rear end of the big semi-trailer on which the 12-ton drilling outfit was mounted.

Enloe was under the 40 foot boom as the machinery settled 25 feet in the south. Low Saturday night 46-56. Winds along the coast south to southwest, 10-20 miles an hour Saturday night and north to northwest 12 to 22 Sunday.

Ike Farm Bill Faces Stiff Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration braced today for one of its stiffest tests in this congressional session—a House battle over flexible vs. high, rigid government prices supports for basic crops.

The House Agriculture Committee late yesterday cleared for House action a bill that provides for a one-year extension of price props fixed at 90 per cent of parity. The bill was ticketed for consideration either Wednesday or Thursday and administration stalwarts were expected to wage a strong fight at that time for a flexible system, ranging between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, as advocated by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The Senate Agriculture Committee, too, has voted for another year of rigid farm price supports in opposition to administration aims. Parity is a legally determined standard for farm goods prices regarded as fair in relation to the cost of things farmers must buy.

Farm legislation providing for flexible supports has been on the books since 1949 but its effect has been postponed from time to time. Now, flexible props are scheduled to go into effect automatically at the end of the 1954 crop year, unless a new delay is voted or a substitute program adopted.

Eisenhower and Benson contend flexible supports would discourage surplus-producing overproduction in times of scarcity, but would spur production in times of scarcity. Opponents of the flexible system say they fear it might lead to a drop in farm income.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan) of the House Agriculture Committee said the measure approved yesterday is the "best possible bill that could be secured at this time to meet the needs of agriculture."

Just before approving the bill 26-2, the committee eliminated sections that would have kept alive rigid supports on corn and cotton two more years.

This move was regarded as a tactical concession to administration opposition, aimed also at boosting the bill's prospects in the House.

The general farm bill, in addition to its basic crop price support feature, provides for raising supports on dairy products to 80 per cent of parity in September (the support level now is 75 per cent on Benson's orders), a two price system for wheat, wool and butter producer subsidies and resumption of potato price props.

Ellsworth Backs Cougar Dam Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inclusion of power facilities in Cougar and Green Peter dams and construction of Whitebridge Dam, all in Oregon, were recommended Friday by a House Public Works subcommittee.

Cougar Dam, to be located on the south fork of the McKenzie River, and Green Peter, on the middle fork of the Santiam, were authorized some time ago as flood control projects.

Whitebridge, a re-regulating dam planned in the Federal Trade Commission, is not yet authorized. Rep. Harris Ellsworth (R-Ore) urged the subcommittee action, stating that although power facilities at Cougar Dam already have been authorized by the House, the additional legislation was needed as "insurance" in the event the other bill is stopped in the Senate.

The House-approved legislation of Cougar Dam would permit joint construction of the project by the Army Engineers and the Eugene, Ore., Water and Electric Co.

Emergency March Of Dimes Planned

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has announced an "emergency March of Dimes" Aug. 16 to 31 to raise an additional 20 million dollars.

Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said yesterday that the regular drive last January, which set a record of $5 millions in contributions, still fell short of the funds needed to carry on foundation activities.

The extra money is needed.

Stock Market Sales High, Retail Trade Has Upsurge

NEW YORK (AP)—The first week of summer brought an upsurge in retail trade and new high in stock prices. It also produced signs of a mid-year lull in factory output.

Hot weather accompanied by hoopla and aggressive promotions helped merchants reduce their stocks of sportswear, men's summer suits, garden tools, electric fans and room air conditions.

There were indications that the furniture industry was getting back on its feet after several months of faltering sales. Steel production showed little change as negotiators for U.S. Steel Corp. and the CIO continued their efforts to hammer out

Balloons To Be Released

Every balloon that floats from the top of the Medical Dental Bldg. Monday June 28, will contain a certificate for merchandise from some Klamath Falls merchant, according to an announcement made today by the Klamath Merchant's Association. There will be no duels in the colorful air-filled balloons that will be printed with "Klamath Basin Roundup 1954."

A total of $1500 in certificates will be placed in the balloons which will start floating over town promptly at 1 p.m. Certificates may be redeemed until Saturday night, July 3.

The "Balloon Bust," is the kickoff for a week of events, planned by the Merchant's Association to stimulate interest in the roundup, July 3-5.

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The Associated Press last night transmitted by wirephoto a color photograph of President Eisenhower greeting King Prime Minister Churchill and San Diego Union had it on page one this morning.

Here's how it was done: From a developed color transparency three positive prints were made, by use of filters, representing the three primary colors. These three prints were sent by wirephoto as a single transmission — for use by all AP wirephoto subscribers.

Here the transmission was taken to the Union's engraving setup and four plates made — one for each color and one for black and white. The plates were in the composing room by about 11:30 p.m. (PDT), a Union spokesman said.

The color picture, 3 columns wide and 8 1/2 inches deep, appeared in the home edition for the press normally start at 1:05 a.m. There was no delay in the edition.

Ike Nominates Trade Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has nominated veteran Democratic Rep. Robert T. Secrest of Ohio for a seven-year term on the Federal Trade Commission.

Secrest, 50, would succeed Albert A. Carretta, a Virginia Democrat whose term expires Sept. 26. Secrest's home is in Seneca, Va., in southeast Ohio. Eisenhower nominated him yesterday.

Chicago Beef Sales Shown

CHICAGO (AP)—Hogs bounced up briskly on the livestock market this week, barrows and gilts gaining $1.85 to $2.00, while sows jumped $2.50 to $3.00. Sows comprise 42 per cent of the week's receipts.

Curtailed receipts and higher wholesale prices on fresh pork cuts served as the price advancing stimulus. Light pork loins sold as much as $6.00 to $9.00 higher and the trend was upward on other cuts. Order buyers continued quite active during the period.

Top for the week was set Thursday and Friday at $25.65, up $1.90 from the previous week end.

Supplies in the cattle section were about 10 per cent smaller than last week and 15 per cent less than a year ago. A large share of the run consisted of good to prime fed steers. Around 2,000 cattle and calves were offered in the feeder division, the largest number of the year to date.

Fed steers and yearlings weighing 850 pounds and more, and grading good and better, closed the week 50 cents to $1.50 higher. All grades under 850 pounds were weak to $1.00 lower. Heifers, culls and calves were lost $1.00 to $2.00 to sell at a low for nearly eight years.

In the sheep section spring lambs closed the week 50 cents to $1.00 lower. Old crop lambs and yearlings sold $1.00 to $2.00. Lower wholesale prices for dressed lambs at Chicago and in the east were cited as the cause. Receipts were moderately larger than last week and a year ago.

Lake Swept By Freak Wave

CHICAGO (AP)—A huge freak wave swept over Chicago's Lake Michigan front for a distance of about 25 miles Saturday, washing many fishermen into the water.

Three bodies were recovered and police were dragging the water in search of possible other victims. The Cook County coroner's office said it believed 12 had drowned. A Coast Guard officer said he believed the total might be seven.

Some witnesses said the wave 20 feet high. It covered pier above the water to a depth of four feet or more.

City fishermen line the lake front at this season of the year, fishing for perch and ciscoes, known locally as herring.

Most of the victims were swept into the water from two rock jetties at Montrose Harbor and off a pier at North Avenue, both on Chicago's North Side.

Estimates of the height of the wave varied. It covered the rock jetties with at least four feet of water. It surged over an eight-foot sea wall at Loyola University, about six or seven miles north of North Avenue.

Ft. Klamath Robbery Told

For the second time in the past two months the Oregon Quarantine Commission at Fort Klamath has been broken into.

Some time after 8 p.m. Friday thieves broke out the large plate glass window in the front of the store and made off with an undetermined amount of liquor.

The store was broken into and a large quantity of liquor taken on May 14. A considerable quantity of the stolen goods were recovered after officers raided several drinking parties on the reservation.

Oregon State Police and liquor commission officials are investigating.
