

Maryland Primary Held Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—National party officials showed special interest in three of the seven congressional fights and state political leaders kept close watch on the Democratic primary for governor today as Marylanders named their candidates for the November elections.

Despite this high-level attention and an exceptionally bitter campaign by Dr. H. C. Byrd and paving contractor George P. Mahoney for the Democratic governor nomination, the primary stirred little apparent interest among the voters.

Election supervisors predicted about one third of the 1,068,180 eligibles would turn out.

An even smaller showing was expected in the Republican side, where Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin sought re-nomination to a second term in a state where his party is outnumbered 2-1 by the Democrats.

The GOP campaign had produced few fireworks. McKeldin practically ignored his three opponents, Baltimore used car dealer Temus R. Bright, retired Marine Lt. Gen. Pedro A. del Valle and James W. Gurn, Montgomery County farmer and lawyer.

Also on the ballot were aspirants to attorney general, the State Court of Appeals, four circuit benches, the Legislature and county offices.

There was no major opposition from either party to Democratic Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, close friend and distant cousin to the 65-year-old Byrd.

With the GOP holding a bare majority of the seven Maryland congressional seats, national chiefs of both parties looked for sore spots and possible November breakthroughs.

Mentioned among these in dispatches from national party headquarters were the 2nd, 5th and 7th District seats, occupied by Republicans Edward T. Miller and Frank Small Jr. and Democrat Samuel N. Friedel, respectively.

Miller, who broke a long series of Democratic victories in his district eight years, was opposed for a fifth term by Mrs. Alostia Walker, widow of a wealthy oilman.

Small faced opposition from Robert E. Ennis of Capitol Heights, and Friedel from Henry R. Hergenroeder, member of a well-known baking family and professor at Baltimore Loyola College.

There was no primary opposition to the other incumbents.

In a televised windup campaign speech last night, Byrd, who resigned as University of Maryland president to make his first try for public office, said he had evidence, Mahoney was aided in his campaign by public relations man Jon Jonkel. Three years ago Jonkel was fined $5,000 after pleading guilty to violating state election laws as director of Republicans John Marshall Butler's successful campaign for the U.S. Senate.

The Mahoney camp issued a heated denial, saying it had nothing to do with Jonkel, who in 1950 was blamed for use of a controversial composite photograph in Butler's campaign against Democratic veteran Millard E. Tydings.

Polls opened at 6 a. m., EDT, in Baltimore, 8 a. m. in Talbot County and 7 a. m. in the other 22 counties. They will close at 7 p. m.

Oil Well Gusher Blankets Town

JAL, N.M. (AP)—An east wind carried oil mixed with mud, in a brown mist from a wild gas well, over this New Mexico town yesterday.

With the sticky spray came fumes from the uncontrolled gusher. Some houses and cars were stained brown.

The well, one mile southeast of Jal, blew in last Tuesday. It has been spewing 50 to 60 million cubic feet of gas daily. There has been fear it might burst into flames.

Margaret Truman To Appear In Play

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Margaret Truman, assured that her ailing father, former President Harry S. Truman, was "resting well," plans to go on with the show tonight.

Miss Truman, getting her first experience in summer stock, arrived here yesterday from Mountainhome, Pa., with the company of the play, "Autumn Crocus."

She told newsmen that she had checked with her Missouri home after her arrival and was told her father was "resting well."

Kids To Church

Geo. N. Taylor

Their Dad, a business man, knew the Bible and Sunday afternoons in the winter, he told them Bible stories while they popped corn and cracked hickory nuts. And to go to church was a M-U-S-I-C in that family.

One of the boys went to the city and the church-going habit held him. Next, a fellow who knew the city tried to get him into a fast life. But the In-ner Voice, Christ, his Savior, told him not to go. Then he was led to Geo. N. Taylor teach boy's class in a Mission Sunday School and so he teamed up with the workers, SUM IT UP:—Bible, Family prayers with all present; grace at the table; church—Bring up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it.—Proverbs 22:6—BIBLE.
