

Giants, Tribe Continue To Lead Major Leagues

Durocher Praises Relievers

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants today called his brilliant bullpen duo of Hoyt Wilhelm and Marvin Grissom the best in baseball and changed anybody to refute his statement.

"Show me another relief pitcher as good as either Wilhelm or Grissom," Durocher demanded. "Let alone a pair as good as this one. My two are the greatest, no doubt about it."

"I'll let you in on a little secret," he added. "If the Giants win the pennant this year, it will be won in the bullpen."

The 51,464 fans who watched Grissom win his eighth game of the season with a scintillating four-inning relief stint against Brooklyn Tuesday night and the 29,093 spectators who saw Wilhelm subdue the Dodgers again with a brilliant rescue job yesterday could have no rebuttal.

Wilhelm's performance was one of his best of the season. He entered the scene in the eighth inning with runners on first and third and nobody out and the Giants holding a 2-1 lead. Jackie Robinson stood at the plate. Waiting right behind him were Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella.

The 30-year-old knuckleball expert held Robinson to a short fly to left that failed to advance the runners. He got Hodges to hit into a double play. The Giants went on to pick up three runs in their half of the eighth to win 5-2 and boost their first-place lead over the Dodgers to three games.

Don Cockell Slated For Seattle Match

LONDON (AP) — Don Cockell, the British heavyweight who dreams of a world title, will meet either Harry (Kid) Matthews or Rex Layne in Seattle, Wash., July 30, his manager said Thursday.

A Cockell-Matthews bout would be the third between the two fighters. Cockell outpointed Matthews in the Kid's hometown of Seattle last year and repeated here June 1.

Layne, of Lewiston, Utah, once was highly regarded in the United States, but hasn't been the same since he was flattened by Rocky Marciano in 1951.

John Simpson, Cockell's manager, said the Briton would leave by ship July 14.

Bruins To Meet Ex-Boss

CHICAGO (AP) — Phil Cavarretta, hot-hitting "spare tire" of the Chicago White Sox, tonight plays for the first time against the team he served 20 years as man and boy, the Chicago Cubs.

There's a touch of irony in 37-year-old Cavarretta's appearance in a charity exhibition game against the wobbly Bruins, who last spring disowned him as manager because of alleged lack of will to win.

Since Phil joined the Sox in May, he has become a most valuable pinchhitter and stand-in for Ferris Fain at first base. In 19 games he has batted 30 times and produced 11 hits for a club-leading .367 average.

With Fain injured, Cavarretta must play in the vital series at Cleveland this weekend.

The Cubs, in replacing Cavarretta with Stan Hack, offered to keep Phil in the organization, but the "old pro" elected to step out and try to hook on elsewhere.

It was a tough spot for any man, laced as a manager and already retired by himself as a player. But Phil sold himself that he could do well as a player-coach.

"I can play 50 or 75 games for club after another without success. He even talked about being a 51-year player. Finally the White Sox, having miserable luck with pinch hitters, signed him. Presumably he's getting $6,000-a-year, the major league minimum. This will be deducted from the salary the Cubs still have to pay him under a managerial contract. This was estimated at $35,000.

Cavarretta is in marvelous physical condition. He still can cut a wicked caper around first base. Where did he find the baseball fountain of youth?

Aragon Meets Vince Martinez

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Art (Golden Boy) Aragon, a little puzzled in a new role as the underdog, and Vince Martinez, a quietly confident young man from New Jersey, tie into each other for 10 rounds of less Thursday night at Gilmore Field.

The bout has no title aspects, although the winner may eventually get a shot at the welterweight king, Kid Gavilan. Martinez is unranked at the present in the division and the Los Angeles fighter is listed at No. 8.

lenders with Philadelphia an outside possibility.

The Giants turned in the best record ever compiled for the month of June in the modern history of the majors. They won 24 out of 28 games and moved from third place, a game and a half out of the lead, into a three-game advantage over second-place Brooklyn.

The Dodgers had an excellent 21-8 mark for the month but dropped from a single game behind to three. The Phils fell 6 1/2 more games off the pace: Cincinnati, 9 1/2; St. Louis, 11; Pittsburgh, 11 1/2; Milwaukee, 12 in a nose dive from first to fourth place, and Chicago, 17.

The ground lost by American league teams also was considerable although not as much as in the senior circuit. In addition to the half-game loss by the Yankees and the 2 games by the White Sox, the Philadelphia Athletics lost 5 1/2; Washington and Baltimore, 8 each; and Boston and Detroit, 10 each.

On the final day of the month the Giants whipped Brooklyn 5-2. Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 8-0. St. Louis crushed Cincinnati 11-3 and Chicago broke an 11-game losing streak with a 9-7 decision over Milwaukee in the National League.

Cleveland shaded Baltimore 2-0. Chicago bowed to Detroit 4-3. Boston tripped the Yankees 6-1 and Philadelphia edged Washington 8-7 in the American League.

Johnny Antonelli won his 11th game and became the second left-hander to beat the Dodgers this season as the Giants made it two straight over their bitter rivals. New York broke up a 2-1 thriller with three in the eighth on four walks and a single by Whitey Lockman.

Robin Roberts applied his whitewash brush to the Pirates for the Mike Garcia handcuffed Baltimore on four singles and Larry Doby gave him the only run he really needed with a 400-foot homer.

A ninth-inning homer by Bill Tuttle sent the White Sox down to defeat. The Sox had rallied for two runs to tie the score in the eighth on a walk, a double by Chico Carrasquel and a single by George Kell.

The Yankees ran into Willard Nixon again in Boston and the right-hander whipped them for the third time this season. Tom Morgan of the Yankees hit three Boston batters in the third inning, tying a major league record. Mickey Mantle's 14th homer was the only New York run.

Bill Wilson, who has found the home run range since being traded to Philadelphia by the White Sox, hit a pair against Washington, the second one coming in the last of the ninth for the victory margin. Wilson has hit seven homers, five in June.
