MRS. LOUIS R. HOLZGANG . . . who was Dolores M. Kidder, before her marriage in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, June 20. Bride is the daughter of P. O. Kidder, Seattle; and has made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Dana A. Howell, 424 N. 11th Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. HAPPY COUPLE . . . after the ceremony . . . on their way to the reception at Jen-Ed's. (More details on inside page).

OF INTEREST to Klamath Basin friends is the news of Marcille Reynolds' marriage to Raymond Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Nelson, Rolfe, Iowa. Scene of the recent nuptials was the First Presbyterian Church, Boise — present home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Reynolds. Her father, for years, was head of the local Chamber of Commerce; and went to Boise with the same organization. Mrs. Wesley Ezell, one of the bride's two attendants; and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Murray were Klamath Falls guests at the wedding. She and her husband are both teachers in the Placer Union High School, Auburn, California; and will return there after an extended trip to the East Coast. (Story on inside page).

At Home in Texas

DIGGING UP A GARDEN PLOT . . . on the spacious grounds of their home in Nacogdoches, Texas . . . occupies Charlotte Baker Montgomery and her husband, Roger. As a successful author of books for children (all ages) — Charlotte apparently doesn't need any help in digging up story plots . . . at least she has met many deadlines with a long list of varied books for adolescents written with the skill of a craftsman and illustrated by an equally capable artist . . . (herself). Roger grew up in Klamath Falls — and she lived for a time in the Northwest. Although a Texan, she is better acquainted than most natives with past and present history of Oregon. Her current book, "The Return of the Thunderbird" was just released — and its sequel is scheduled for publication in August. (Additional details on inside page.) — Photo by Robinson, Nacogdoches
