

House Vote Passes Ike's Farm Price Support Bill

By EDWIN B. HAARINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of the Eisenhower flexible farm price support program took heart today after a notable administration victory in the House.

"We are well on the way to completing a farm bill that the President can accept," said Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

At the same time, Senate advocates of continued high, rigid price props for basic field crops appeared taken aback — for the moment at least — by House approval yesterday of farm legislation embodying the flexible principle, although in a narrower range than that sought by the administration.

Sen. Young (R-ND), a leader of the high support faction in the Senate, conceded he was "greatly surprised" by the 58-vote margin by which the House late yesterday approved, 228-170, a sliding scale of price floors ranging from 82 1/2 to 90 per cent of parity for five basic crops — wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts. A general farm bill, of which the price support section was a key part — was passed on a voice vote.

Shakespearean Festival Includes Dances, Music

ASHLAND — The play's still the thing — to paraphrase Hamlet — at the Oregon Shakespearean Festival, but allied projects are growing rapidly in number and scope at the famous Oregon event.

In addition to the 4 Shakespearean plays, to be produced on alternating evenings throughout the month of August, this year's festival also includes a university field course in Shakespeare, two concerts of Elizabethan music, and a concert of theater dance, in addition to such established events as the Bard's Hey-Day and an hour-long radio show released coast-to-coast over a national network.

The Shakespeare class is a Stanford university project aimed at both graduate and undergraduate students and the more casual student of Shakespeare as well. It will be taught by Dr. Margery Bailey.

one of the nation's best known Shakespearean scholars, and will include observations of the plays in rehearsal and performance as well as lectures and other classroom activity. The course begins July 22 and runs through August 8.

The first extracurricular activity of the season will be the dance concert on July 11, staged by Knox and Suzanne Fowler, professional dancers who are also members of the festival acting company. The Fowlers, graduate students at U.C.L.A. this past year, leave for Scotland to study dance at the Glasgow Royal Academy on a Fulbright grant, immediately after this season ends in Ashland.

The Bard's Hey-Day, a small festival in itself, is sponsored every year by Tudor guild, a festival auxiliary group, and features a picnic supper and various forms of entertainment. It is a public function, the proceeds of which go to establish student loan funds and the like.

The two concerts of Elizabethan music will be held during the season, on August 8 and August 22. The broadcast over NBC comes August 7. This year, an hour-long production of Hamlet will be staged.

Storm Causes Twelve Fires

LAKEVIEW — Twelve fires on the Fremont National Forest resulted from the lightning storm of Wednesday, June 30, it was reported by Fire Control Officer Jack Croon, who said all were controlled by this morning and none grew to any size.

Lookouts estimated several hundred lightning strikes during the storm, which brought heavy downpours of rain and hail throughout the South part of the County.

"There was no storm on the Silver Lake ranger station district. Crews going to fires on the other four districts found many trees which had been hit but not fired.

Groom said there were five fires on the Warner district, most of which were in the Dairy Creek area and one at Carne Lake; three were on the Drews Ranger station, mostly at Fishole and Strawberry; one on the Paisley district and at Doe Mountain, and three on the Bly ranger district in the Fishole area. One fire at Strawberry was controlled by a White Pine Lumber crew.

BASIN BRIEFS

Leaving — Dolores Bracken, Klamath County home extension agent, will leave July 5 for New York where she will sail later this month for Iran where she will have a supervisory job for the next two years as leader-trainer over a 25-mile radius around Mamazan near Tehran. She has been with the local office for two years.

Home — Mr. and Mrs. Sam Redkey (Marjorie King) University of Oregon, who are attending summer school will spend the Fourth of July holiday here with their families.

Leaving — Mrs. Sheldon Brumbaugh will leave July 6 for Occidental, in Mendocino County, California to join her son Alex who has been visiting an uncle, A. M. Gaylord, since the close of school. Mrs. Brumbaugh will visit other points while away and her son will return home with her.

Away — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rueck, Bonanza are home from Portland where Rueck attended a meeting at which the Oregon Farm Bureau gave a report at the Task Force hearing of the Hoover Commission. They also attended a meeting of Governor Patterson's Farm Safety Committee with Mrs. Rueck representing farm women. Mrs. Rueck and Ben Robinson, president of the Oregon State Farm Bureau, broadcast over station KSLM for the Governor's committee. Mrs. Rueck is state chairman of Farm Bureau women.

Livestock Sales Told

CHICAGO (AP) — A two-way market developed in hogs this week, buyers showing a decided preference for light weight types.

Butchers weighing less than 240 pounds ended 25 to 35 cents higher while heavier butchers sank 25 to 50 cents. Sows weighing less than 400 pounds lost 50 to 75 cents while heavier kinds dropped 75 cents to $1.00.

A two-way market also developed in steers. Those grading average good and better finished steady to 50 cents higher, regaining ground lost early in the week. Other steers were weak to $1.00 lower. Some light grass heifers lost as much as $2.00. Cows dropped $1.00 to $1.50, selling at a low since early January on an expansion in receipts.

Top price for the week was $27.35, paid for two loads of 1,193 pound prime steers from Colorado.

Spring lambs as well as old crop lambs and yearlings lost $1.00 to $1.50. Sheep sank 25 to 50 cents. Main reason for the decline was a downturn in wholesale lamb prices at Chicago and in the east. Arrivals ran mainly to spring lambs, which sold at the lowest prices for the season.

Square Dance To Be Held

Tonight's the night for the Do-Si-Do Club's open square dance with Douglas Fosbury as guest caller.

Fosbury, well known caller who was formerly president of the Circle Eighters Square Dance Club in Albany, is currently living in Medford. Although he has no square dance group of his own there, he is in constant demand for guest appearances.

He will call both square and round dances from 8 to 12 at the Do-Si-Do clubhouse at the armory. Local and out of town square dance enthusiasts are invited to attend.

PROFAGANDA
MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said Sunday the latest conference between Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower showed that Britain and the United States could not reconcile their differences.

The Communist party newspaper predicted "future aggravations" of the "contradictions" in the system of free world alliances.

Mororists Hurt In Road Crash

A San Francisco woman and her two small granddaughters were injured in a near head-on collision on Highway 97 near Algona early today.

Wallace Cohen Jr., Chiloquin railroad section worker driver of one of the cars was arrested for failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Niels Hoek, San Francisco, with passengers Mr. and Mrs. Howard White, and two daughters, and White's mother-in-law, Mrs. Alvina Trent, were en route north at the time of the accident. Mrs. Trent and the two White girls were injured.

According to Oregon State Police, the Cohen car ran off the right side of the road, then swerved back, crossed the center-stripe and crashed into the front of the California vehicle.

Mrs. Trent suffered fractured ribs and shock and is still at the Klamath Valley Hospital. The two girls aged 2 1/2 and 4 were given medical care and released. Both cars were badly damaged, officers stated.

Merrill Family Moves To Salem

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick, Merrill, residents of Klamath County since 1934 will leave about the middle of August to make their home in Salem.

Kilpatrick, principal of the Merrill High School for several years, who in recent years has farmed near Merrill will manage an agency for the Oregon Farm Bureau Insurance Company, covering Salem and Marion County. He has been with the company in Klamath County for several years, and has been associated with John Toffel, Bonanza.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick have been active in Farm Bureau work, in civic circles and in the Merrill Presbyterian Church where Kilpatrick is an Elder and Mrs. Kilpatrick has taught a Sunday School class.

Kilpatrick is at present secretary of the Merrill Farm Bureau and has been president of the Klamath County organization.

Mrs. Kilpatrick is just completing a third year as state president of the Oregon Home Extension Council and has served for two years as national director for the National Home Demonstration Council.

She represented the Oregon State Council of the Associated Country Women of the World at Toronto, Canada last year and was a delegate from Oregon at the international council in Copenhagen three years ago.

A daughter, Mrs. Gene (Betty) Manock, and her family live in Salem. A son, Vernon and his family live in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick have bought a home in Salem.

Group Urges Lumber Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An organization of 21 Pacific Northwest terminals companies and ports Friday asked the Ninth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to restrain the Federal Maritime Board from enforcing a new regulation governing lumber shipments.

The Northwest Marine Terminals Assn. of Seattle said the new regulation puts Northwest lumber shippers at a disadvantage with California shippers on shipments to the Atlantic Coast.

The court set July 19 as the date for hearing arguments on the request for a preliminary injunction. The Northwest shippers also asked the court to set aside the new regulation, which provides that service charges for handling the lumber be placed against the cargo instead of against the vessel, as had been the practice previously.

The Northwest Marine Terminals Assn. listed, among others, the following ports as members: Portland, Astoria, Seattle, Tacoma, Port Angeles, Everett, Longview, Olympia, Bellingham and Vancouver, Wash.
