Producer For Abbott And Costello Faces Problems

By HUBBARD KEAVY
 (For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If a word Christy has great admiration for the talents and earning power of Abbott and Costello, but I gathered he does not like some of the things they do off the screen.

Christy is the comics' producer. It is his job to find new backgrounds to put them in and to see that the films are made economically. They cost $750,000 each and gross two million or better.

It hurts Christy when, as happens during the filming of some pictures, the boys do not speak to each other. Right now they are very palsy. He thinks they are foolish to use routines on television from unreleased pictures, when the films come out the stuff looks old. And he wonders out loud too why they don't save their money.

"Bud and Lou ought to have two millions each," Christy says, "but I'll bet they haven't saved anything like that. How can you save money with 150-foot yachts and stables of race horses?"

A and C today are completing their 40th picture. All but three have been fantastically successful. "A and C Meet the Killer" was the least profitable of the 37 Universal-International has made. Christy says the word "killer" killed it. Bud and Lou, with the urge to be bosses instead of employees, each produced a film independently. These were "Captain Kidd" and "Jack and the Beanstalk" — both failures.

Yet, says Christy, the boys are again talking about being their own producers. Maybe they figure to hit the jackpot, using the formula Christy has worked in the 15 years they have been stars, and get out of a financial hole.

The A and C formula is old gags in new dress, and sometimes not so new. The film in work now has them meeting the Keystone Cops. Now that doesn't strike me as being very funny, but Christy disagrees. Politely indicating that I am no A and C fan, he explained, "You either like the boys or you don't. There's no in-between. Their comedy is slapstick — falls and chases and such. So was that of the Keystone Cops. They were the first slapstick comedians. Combine the

Soil Expert Gives Advice

Farmers who are interested in good irrigated pastures, grazing rotations and fertilizing may be overlooking one good practice says John Berg, local soil conservationist.

Many ranchers through cooperation with the Extension Service have seeded dryland grass-legume field trials. Results of these look very favorable. For areas where rainfall is around 11 to 12 inches, such as Yonka and Poe Valleys, crested wheatgrass and Ladak or Nomad alfalfa are showing good results. In areas where moisture is above 14 inches, such as the Sprague River district, alternate row seedings of pubescent wheatgrass and Ladak or Nomad alfalfa should give a higher yielding pasture than the crested wheatgrass, Berg stated.

For the past several years the local ASC office has shared the cost of dryland seedings. Ranchers who are planning on seeding dryland grasses next spring should consult with L. A. Bruner at the ASC office to find out what their specifications are. For seeding information farmers may contact the county extension agent or the local ASC office.

Negro Woman Acts As Texas Judge

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — County Judge Charlye Farris was in her second day in office today and was serving without a hitch.

The 25-year-old Negro woman was the choice of the Wichita County Bar Assn. yesterday when a full-in was needed for the regular county judge, Guy H. McNeely, who is out of town.

A graduate of Prairie View Normal School in Texas and Howard University in Washington, D.C., the woman attorney was picked to serve yesterday and today.

HOT DAY
 LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was 96 here yesterday — the hottest day of the year — and more of the same is forecast for today.

Seed Group To Tour Basin

A tour of Butte Valley and the southern part of the Klamath Basin will be held Monday July 12, when the board of directors and officials of the Cal-Approved Seed Growers Association will be here to meet with local seed growers and cleaners.

Following the all day tour a meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. (DST), at the Sportsman's Hotel in Tulelake.

The California group consisting of seven board members and four officials have toured the southern and central seed growing areas of California and their trip here will be for the purpose of getting acquainted with local growers and seed cleaners, as well as looking over the area.

Discussions at the evening meeting will include recent legislation, CCG policies, and the trend of seed purchasing in eastern United States. The production of Kenland

Insects Reported In Basin Crops

With warmer weather prevailing, a large number of weevil and Lygus bugs are showing up in clover fields, according to Extension Agent Walt Jendrejewski.

Aphid are also making their appearance in potato fields and county officials advise farmers to watch their crops closely and spray or dust if necessary to control the infestation.
