Former Red Hurls Charges

WASHINGTON (U)—Former Communist Paul Crouch, a frequent government witness at hearings and trials on subversion, appeared today to have failed in an attempt to get the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate high Justice Department officials.

However, Crouch reportedly has asked a second Senate group—the Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis)—to check on Atty. Gen. Brownell and his deputy, William F. Rogers.

Chairman Langer of the Judiciary Committee said yesterday he had turned over to his group's internal security subcommittee a letter in which Crouch charged that Brownell and Rogers are giving "considerable aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States" by investigating Crouch's reliability as a witness.

The Justice Department often has used Crouch as a paid informant and a witness at various proceedings.

Columnist Joseph Alsop has asked the Justice Department to examine what he called conflicting testimony given by Crouch in two court cases. Brownell agreed to look into the matter. Crouch denied there was any conflict in his testimony.

Possible Ike Veto Of Farm Bill Considered By Solons

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (U)—Senate foes in the battle over farm price supports today advanced rival forecasts on what President Eisenhower would do if Congress votes continued high-level, rigid federal price props for the nation's major crops.

Sen. Young (R-ND), a champion of the existing rigid support system, said in an interview he didn't think Eisenhower would exercise a veto. He predicted most Republican and Democratic senators would vote for a one-year extension of high level supports.

But Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, a backer of the administration's flexible price prop plan, said an extension bill would run into a presidential road block. "There simply would be no new farm legislation," he said.

An Eisenhower veto, if not overridden by the legislators, would have heavy impact on the farm program because under present law a flexible 75-90 per cent of parity support system would automatically go into effect.

1948 LAW
This farm legislation was passed by Congress in 1948 but so far Congress has not let it take effect. Instead, the lawmakers have voted from time to time to extend the flat wartime support rate of 90 per cent of parity for basic crops. Parity is a price paid by law to be fair for agricultural products in terms of the cost of goods farmers must buy.

Eisenhower, who wants a 75-90 per cent sliding scale, was dealt a setback yesterday when the Senate committee voted out 13-2 a measure which among other things would extend the 90 per cent rate a year.

The bill also departed from administration recommendations in several other important respects.

The House last week okayed an 82-90 per cent flexible scale in what the President termed "a great and sweeping" victory for the administration program. He said he personally would have prevented any parity drop below 80 per cent in the first year anyway.

BASIC CROPS
Young today said administration supporters contend most of the basic crops would remain near the 90 per cent level anyway under the flexible system. Therefore, he said, he sees "no reason not to write this into law for another year."

The North Dakotian said he is counting on a number of prominent farm-state senators to help sustain the Senate committee bill's rigid-support provision when it comes to the Senate floor next week.

However Aiken said he is confident the Senate will knock out this provision, which was adopted in committee by only a one-vote margin, 8-7. He said he will seek a sliding scale of 80-90 per cent.

Arguments over the farm program were punctuated yesterday by an Agriculture Department crop report indicating production this year may approach last year's near record volume—despite government efforts for a sizable cut back.

HUGE SURPLUS
Farm officials, with six billion dollars worth of farm surpluses piled up under support operations, had asked but not required a trimming of nearly 10 per cent in acreage planted. But the survey indicated farmers used land diverted from such surplus crops as cotton and wheat to plant other cash crops instead of taking it out of cultivation.

In addition to the floor fight expected over support rates, Aiken said these administration-opposed sections in the committee bill will be targets for removal:

1. A proposal to raise supports on butter, cheese and other dairy products to 85 per cent of parity.
2. Secretary of Agriculture Benson faced with huge government stocks of butter, cheese and dried milk, lowered them to 75 per cent April 1. The House approved an increase to 80 per cent but Aiken wants to keep supports at 75.
3. A mandatory requirement that feed grains—oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums—be supported at near the level of corn support. Aiken said he wants to continue existing authority to support them on a flexible basis and avoid adding them to other government surpluses.

Ike Backs New Health Plans

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower lent his personal prestige last night to a broadcast report by Secretary of Welfare Hobby on administration plans to encourage broadened private health insurance programs.

The President introduced Mrs. Hobby to her radio audience. She spoke from the White House broadcast room.

Urging enactment of a plan for federal reinsurance of private health insurance programs, Mrs. Hobby said:

"To provide more of you with better insurance, insurance organizations will have to try out new type policies in which they have little experience. This involves risks."

She said the federal government would share this risk by making an initial $3-million-dollar capital advance to a revolving reinsurance fund. The fund would be designed to support itself through premiums paid into it by private insurance firms.

Mrs. Hobby said the proposal is neither socialized medicine nor a handout to insurance companies. Committees in both Senate and House have approved the plan but no action has been taken on the floor of either house.

As examples of broader insurance coverage that the plan might foster, the welfare secretary cited "an increase in the number of days of hospitalization paid by your insurance, and an increase in the amount paid for room and board; an increase in the payments for special services such as X-rays and larger payments for accidents."

Contract Ends Banana Strike

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (U)—The U.S.-owned United Fruit Co. and Honduran labor leaders signed an agreement last night ending a two-month strike by 23,500 banana workers. The settlement raises minimum daily wages from $1.68 to $2.04.

Work was expected to be resumed Monday on the company's vast plantations.

The settlement—described as a one-year "working agreement"—was expected to cost the company about 3 1/2 million dollars a year in wage boosts and fringe benefits. These include two-week paid vacations, increased medical aid and time and a half for overtime.

The agreement was signed in the Finance Ministry by two company district managers, 15 union leaders and six members of a government mediation board.

A spokesman for the company, which has its home office in Boston, said "both the company and Honduran people were hurt a great deal by the strike." The settlement terms, it was said, were substantially the same as those offered "a considerable time ago."

New Hood River Courthouse Dedicated

HOOD RIVER (U)—The new $360,000 Hood River County Courthouse was dedicated here Friday with several thousand persons attending.

The main speaker was Joseph K. Carson, Democratic candidate for governor. He urged the Hood River Chamber of Commerce to join the Portland chamber in promoting an international exposition in 1959.

Trustees Back Reed President

PORTLAND (U)—The Reed College board of trustees Friday lined up behind President Duncan S. Ballantine and against the faculty in a situation that resulted from the House Un-American Activities Committee's hearings here last month.

The board unanimously upheld Ballantine's removal, "without prejudice," of Lloyd J. Reynolds, a graphic arts professor, from the college's summer faculty, pending investigation.

Chairman Henry F. Cabell said the board had retained an attorney to advise it "on general matters" affecting Reynolds and two other faculty members named by witnesses at the hearing as one-time members of the Communist Party.

Cabell said he believed "some form of hearing will have to be held" concerning Reynolds and the other two, Dr. Stanley Moore and Leonard Marak.

The faculty passed a resolution criticizing Ballantine's removal of Reynolds without consulting the faculty and saying there had been a loss of faculty confidence in the college president.

The board said it had studied the resolution and found that "this suspension without pay in no way prejudges the inquiry that must be made respecting the status of Mr. Reynolds or other members of the faculty."
