MERRILL — The First Presbyterian Church in Merrill was filled with relatives and friends on Sunday afternoon, June 27, when Arlene Louise Lemler and Ronald Jess Daws Trotman exchanged wedding vows in a 4 p.m. double ring service. Arlene's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Lemler, and Ronald's father is Dr. F. E. Trotman. Both families are well-known residents of Merrill. The Rev. George A. Milne officiated. Arrangements of gladioli, carnations, mums, potted palms, and lighted candles formed the effective background for the ceremony. Alternate pews were marked with gladioli tied with white satin ribbons. Lillian Thomas, organist, played the traditional wedding music, and accompanied soloist, Ted Murphy, who sang "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer." The petite, radiant bride was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage. Her exquisite gown was of white lace over satin. The fitted bodice had a yoke of net, with swirls of lace applique simulating a wide neckline, dotted with seed pearls and rhinestones. The long full skirt extended into a full court train. A seed pearl and rhinestone crown held the fingertip veil of net. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid and stephanotis tied with white satin ribbons. The Bible was "old," the one Arlene had used when a member of Rainbow For Girls. She wore the traditional blue garter and a penny was in her slipper. Loretta Lemler, younger sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown of lime green sheer net ballerina length, was made with fitted waistline and full skirt. A brief matching bolero covered the strapless bodice. She carried an arrangement of yellow gladioli and
