CHICAGO (AP) — Hot, dry weather provided the spur for active buying in 1954 crop corn and soybean futures on the board of trade Monday. Gains ranged to more than 9 cents in soybeans at one time.

While there were no reports of actual damage to these crops, many comments emphasized the need for moisture if present prospects are to be maintained.

Firmness in cash markets, favorable weather for the spread of rust in spring wheat and a government crop report last Friday which lowered estimated production from a month earlier created buying in wheat.

Roseburg Mill Closed Down

ROSEBURG (AP) — The E. K. Wood Co.'s remanufacturing plant near here has been closed. The closure had nothing to do with the current strike, manager Don Baxter said. Work at the plant, which at its peak employed 100 men, had fallen off until only 35 workers were needed as rough grain mills in the area closed in recent years.

GOC Plans Operation Sky Watch

The second anniversary of "Operation Skywatch" will be observed all this week by the nation's Ground Observer Corps. Each post has planned special events for the benefit of the public.

Klamath Falls GOC volunteers will present a 15 minute radio program over KPJJ Wednesday night at 8:30, when for the first time the public will hear the newly organized Ground Observer-Singer (GOC), under the direction of Martha Hurd, GOC public relations chairman.

Wednesday, July 14, is the birthday of "Operation Skywatch," and according to Russel Avery, airport supervisor, open house will be held all day at the observation tower. Visitors interested in seeing how calls are put in to the filter center at Portland when an observer reports a plane or strange object in the sky, will be welcome.

A new observation post was added to Oregon's many when, on June 28, Sgt. Donald Trainer, USAF, now stationed in Klamath Falls, set one into action at Kirk, with Dorothy Louise Stewart as supervisor. Mrs. Frances Walker of Kirk is the chief observer.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company granted the Air Force permission to use its special telephone system. The new post's call letters are PN14B.

According to word from the filter center in Portland, as of June 11, Oregon has 80 posts operating on a 24 hour basis and 177 on a part time schedule. Still the need for many more volunteers is great. Any one 14 years or over is eligible, so long as their hearing and eyesight are good.

A two hour watch per week is all that is asked of each volunteer in the line of duty. If they desire to become a member of the GOC drill team or the newly organized singing group they may do so. There are no dues to pay in this big civilian defense organization, and one may become a member simply by volunteering two hours service in the observation tower per week. Telephone 3272 or 3963 for further information.

Fire Destroys Ashland Mill

ASHLAND — A fire which started about 8:55 p.m. Saturday, destroyed the big Lithia Lumber Company sawmill here.

The fire department gave a preliminary estimate of the loss at $75,000, but indicated that the figure "might be a bit low."

Firemen were able to confine the flames to the plant and keep them from spreading to the company's planing mill and lumber piled outside. They were unable to save the sawmill as the blaze swept quickly through the building.

No one was reported injured. Patrolman Vern Becker of the city police department, said the mill, unorganized and unaffected by the Northwest lumber strike, employed about 120 men and had a daily capacity in a 16-hour operation of from 150,000 to 180,000 board feet.

Official Accused In Vote Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — St. Garrett, Alabama attorney general, was charged Monday with fraudulent changing of votes in the June 1 primary. A few minutes after his arrest, Jefferson Solicitor (prosecutor) Emmett Perry filed lunacy proceedings against Garrett.

The attorney general was indicted on the vote fraud charge June 30 by a Jefferson (Birmingham) grand jury. He posted $1,000 bond after he surrendered at the sheriff's office.

After the bond was posted, the lunacy proceeding was filed by Perry before Judge J. Russell McElroy, presiding judge of the Jefferson circuit court. A hearing was set for July 21.

It asks the court to determine "the mental condition of the defendant" as rapidly as possible. Garrett has been under psychiatric treatment in a hospital at Galveston, Tex., since June 24.

Garrett issued a statement in which he declared he had "violated no law, state or federal" and further that he had "committed no legal or moral wrong."

The attorney general, who is Alabama's chief prosecutor, was a witness before the grand jury here which also indicted solicitor Arch Ferrell of Phenix City and Lamar Reid, chairman of the Jefferson County Democratic Executive Committee, on the vote fraud charges.

The three men were charged with altering the official vote for Lee Porter in the race for attorney general to add 600 votes for him. Porter was beaten in a close race with Albert L. Patterson, Phenix City anti-crime crusader.

Patterson was slain June 18, a few days before he was scheduled to appear before the Jefferson grand jury to testify in the vote fraud inquiry.
