

ONE OF KLAMATH'S newest churches, Lakeside Nazarene, started its Vacation Bible School July 6 with a parade in which all enrolled students, the minister, the Rev. Deway Johnston, and his wife, and the director, Mrs. John T. Murray, participated. The school is held at the church, located at the corner of Quarry and Acosta, and continues through Friday, July 16.

Fertilizer Conference To Be Held

The fifth annual Pacific Northwest Fertilizer Conference will be held here July 20 to 22, according to A. R. Halvorson, assistant superintendent of the Klamath Experiment Station, who is program committee chairman. The program begins at 8:30 a.m. at the Fremont School auditorium.

Headquarters for the conference will be at the Willard Hotel, but all regular meetings are slated for the Fremont auditorium, Halvorson stated. The soil improvement committee of the Pacific Northwest Plant Food Association in cooperation with state colleges and universities of the Pacific Northwest will sponsor the meet. Delegates from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia are expected.

Regional and national authorities on soil fertility are scheduled to address the conference designed for representatives of the fertilizer industry, agricultural research and extension workers, vocational agricultural educators, SCS and ACS workers, agricultural representatives of banks, fieldmen for vegetable processing plants and farmers.

This year's conference deals with fertilizer needs of major crops in the region, soil testing programs and leaf analysis to study soil fertility. Also scheduled are two one-half day field trips.

Featured speakers are J. J. Rinehart, Chicago, U.S. Gypsum Company, and W. H. G. r. m. a. n. Washington, D.C. American Plant Food Council, Luncheon and banquet speakers include E. N. Stevens, president of the Southern Oregon College, Ashland, and Hal Ogle, president of the Klamath Historical Society.

Research and extension workers from Oregon State College, State College of Washington and the University of Idaho will report current findings in soil fertility. They include, H. B. Cheney, OSC soils department head, who will outline the soil fertility research program in Oregon; C. A. Henderson, Klamath county agent, agriculture in the Klamath Basin; T. L. Jackson, OSC extension soils specialist, fertilizer responses on grains and grass seed crops in the Willamette Valley; C. S. Cooper, Squaw Butte-Harney experiment station, fertility studies on mountain meadows; A. R. Halvorson, fertility problems of the Klamath Basin; Larry Alban, OSC, soil testing; S. B. Apple and Harry Mack, OSC horticulturists, fertilization of Blue Lake beans and O. C. Compton, OSC horticulturist, nutrient status of Anjou pears through analysis of leaf tissue.

Registration will officially open at the Willard Hotel at 7 p.m. Monday, July 19, and a breakfast meeting will be held at 7:15 a.m. Tuesday in the Spence room for board members, past presidents and the president of the soil improvement committee.

Mayor Paul Landry will open the conference at the Fremont auditorium at 8:30 Tuesday morning with an address of welcome followed by

Stolen Funds To Be Taxed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Embezzled funds are subject to income tax under terms of a ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The court made the ruling yesterday in upholding the conviction of Arthur B. Marientfield of St. Louis, former president of the Mar Meat Co. He was sentenced to 15 months in prison and fined $5,000 in Federal District Court last year after being convicted for evading $23,968 in income taxes for 1946.

In his appeal, Marientfield contended the money which the government claimed was income and was used by him, actually belonged to the firm.

Appeals Court Judge Harvey M. Johnson wrote: "One who acquires funds by criminal means and uses them for his own purposes has no less measure of economic gain, value and enjoyment from them than the law-abiding citizen."

Judge Fines Dodger Baseman

NEW YORK (AP)—The judge was Dodger fan but that didn't help Brooklyn first baseman Gil Hodges escape a $50 traffic fine.

Hodges pleaded guilty yesterday to a two-year-old speeding charge. He said he had not appeared earlier because he forgot about the summons served on him April 12, 1952.

"Although I'm a Dodger fan myself, Mr. Hodges reached home plate here much too late," remarked Magistrate James E. Lo Piccolo as he fixed the fine at $50.

a talk on "Our Wonderful Klamath Basin" by George Davis, president of the chamber of commerce.

Wednesday afternoon, July 21, a field trip to Tulana Farms, Williamson River Ranch will be followed by a barbecue for delegates at the ranch.

At 1:30 Tuesday afternoon a field trip to the Klamath Experiment Station and to the muck sub-station on Lower Klamath Lake will be held. Buses for both field trips will leave from the Willard Hotel.

Search For Oregon Vets Conducted

SALEM (AP)—A final search for 24 Oregon servicemen who are eligible to apply for World War II prisoner-of-war benefits is underway by the War Claims Commission.

Deadline on application is Aug. 1. Names of the 24 entitled to $150 for each day they were subjected to forced labor or inhumane treatment while interned by the enemy were listed here Tuesday by the Oregon department of veterans affairs.

GOC Member Lived Perilous Life During Youth In Asia

"Safety—a state of being safe... freedom from injury or damage," so says Webster. Iraida "Rita" Dedulen Woodward, born July 8, 1927 in Mukden, Manchuria, who never found real safety until she reached a home in Klamath Falls, now is helping keep America safe and partially fulfilling a cherished desire to serve her new country as a member of the Ground Observer Corps.

She first saw this country at San Francisco. She married again, came to Klamath Falls in 1947. Her mother, who remained in the Orient, escaped on the last ship from China before the Communists took over and lived long enough in Klamath Falls before her death to know what freedom means.

IRAIDA WOODWARD

Rita Woodward has applied for American citizenship and will register for classes in government this fall to prepare for it.

She helps keep watch at "The Tower" from 10 to 12 p.m. each Thursday night, listening and scanning the night sky. She proudly wears the blue uniform of the GOC.

She has a deep love for this country. Her eyes lighted up this week as she said, "Since America has given me the privileges and freedom I have never known before, I feel I owe this country a debt I can never fully repay. By being an active member in the GOC I hope I am partially fulfilling that obligation."

Rita and her family lives at 533 No. 11 Street. She is employed in the 1st National Bank.
