Youth Tries To Force Plane Flight

SEATTLE (AP)—"I wanted to go to Africa and live in the jungles," explained the muscular young farmer.

He had just been arrested yesterday after trying to take over a Trans-Canada airliner and firing a couple of pistol shots that sent a terrified stewardess scurrying from the plane parked at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport.

Yacht Club Plans Picnic

The annual picnic and treasure hunt of the Klamath Yacht Club has been scheduled for this coming Sunday, July 18, it was announced by Commodore Neil Black.

Boats of members and their guests will assemble at the Yacht Club at 10:30 a.m., according to Howard Pernell, chairman of the event.

The club will furnish refreshments but members are advised to bring their own lunches for the picnic at 1:30 at the Apple Orchard on the Skillet Handle.

There will be prizes for sailboats, runabouts and cruiser classes, Pernell said.

Eddie Marmur, 21, who makes a hobby of weight lifting, told reporters he planned to force the plane crew to fly him to Africa because he didn't like the "lousy draft."

There was no one aboard the plane, however, except the stewardess, Isabel Abraham, 24.

She turned from inspecting the forward part of the plane to find the youth seated in a front seat.

He pulled a pistol, she said, and "told me to sit down. Instead, I ran down the aisle. Don't ask me how I did it. Just as I rounded the last seat he fired the first shot. "I think I felt the bullet whistle by. I thought he had me."

The bullet pierced a rear baggage compartment door.

Then as the stewardess ran down the steps from the cabin, another shot was fired, tearing a hole in the plane's fuselage.

Police soon arrived and at their command, Marmur tossed his weapon through the door and came out with his hands up.

"I thought she'd stop if she heard the shot," he said, "but she just went faster. I didn't shoot at her. I shot by her."

No charges have been filed.

General Urges Strong Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, says a German contribution to the West-German defense system is needed because at this time "we could not successfully withstand an all-out attack" by Russia.

Gruenther reported on arriving here yesterday, however, that the defense system is now much stronger than three years ago when the North Atlantic Treaty Organization first got under way. The United States is seeking West Germany's participation in Allied security plans, either through the European Defense Community project or otherwise.

DENOUNCED

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda and Izvestia Thursday denounced a British-American plan to grant sovereignty to West Germany if France fails to ratify EDC soon, terming the plan a "trick behind the back of France."
