

State Police School Held

Oregon state police are attending classes this week and next at the sixth annual state police school on the Oregon State College Campus. H. G. Malson, superintendent of state police gave the opening talk Monday. Lt. Lyle Herrell, Baker, is in charge of the school this week. Lt. Paul Morgan, Medford, will direct classes next week. Advanced officers get one week of training and rookies get a two-weeks basic course. Courses covered in classwork will include motor vehicle law, court procedure, fish and game laws, first aid, weapon firing, state geography, patrol techniques and criminal law and laws of evidence arrest, search and seizure. Attending this week from the local state police and Lakeview office are officers Larry Bergman, Nick Barry, William Christiansen, Milton Deter, Lakeview, and a new recruit William Aveline, recently transferred here from Coos Bay. Next week those attending will be officers Leslie Harroun, George Marshall, Byron Wittington and John Paxton.

DARREL GENTRY, 25, native of Klamath Falls, who has served with the U. S. Army Band at the Presidio, San Francisco for two years has been discharged and is home. He is accompanied by his wife and three young children. Gentry is a grandson of P. D. Reeder. The family is spending some time at the Reeder home, 312 Michigan Avenue.

Basin Demos Hold Meeting

Basin Democrats formulated plans Wednesday evening for an intensive vote-getting campaign at a dinner meeting of the Klamath County Democratic Club in Harold's restaurant. Henry G. Hansen, president of the club, announced that the club will stage an outdoor meeting August 12 at the Paul Buck home in Wocus. The club members heard a brief talk by Al Ullman, Democratic candidate for congress. "All our members are extremely enthusiastic over the prospect of a Democratic victory in November," Hansen said.

Gold Town Booms Again

DAWSON CITY, Y.T. Canada (P)—Dawson City, which boomed in the gold rush days of '98 and has been slowly dying since, found itself back on the mainline Thursday. Scores of impatient motorists were using the road leading from Whitehorse to bypass the washed-out section which recent rains and flash floods had made impassable on the Alaska Highway. Three bridges and 14 bridge approaches were washed out on a 106-mile section of the Alaska Highway around Klunne Lake, between the 1050 and 1150 mile points, on July 10. The road is not expected to open until Thursday night at the earliest, and then only to one-way traffic at a slow rate. Meanwhile trucks and auto traffic piled up on both sides of the washed out area. Wednesday, cars began trickling into Tok Junction, Alaska customs station, and reported they had traveled north around the washouts via good old Dawson City.

Annual Florist Meeting Slated

Klamath Falls florists, Mr. and Mrs. William DePew of Flowers by Bill and Rita and Mr. and Mrs. Al Nyback and daughter Sandra of the Suburban Flower Shop will attend sessions of the fourth annual national sales and management convention of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association to be held July 18-22 on the campus of Oregon State College. DePew is chairman of the unit 11-P of the Southern Oregon district. More than 500 florists are expected. The five-day meet will feature discussions on labor, visual and electronic sales aids, pricing policies, telephone techniques and selling flowers for commercial use. Visiting florists will be housed in the main men's dormitories. Dr. A. L. Strand, OSC's president will present certificates to those completing the sales-management course. For recreation the florists have included a trip to Mary's Peak, highest mountain in the coast range, on the program.
