R. R. David Jr. Bestows Name On Sharon Curran In Chiloquin Church July 3

CHILOQUIN — Under an archway of rhododendron Sharon Curran, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmidt of Lamola Falls, became the bride of Randolph Robert (Bob) David Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph R. David Sr., Chiloquin, Saturday evening, July 3, at the Bible Standard Church.

The eight o'clock single ring service was read by Rev. David Sutton. Baskets of pink and white gladioli and large condelabra of tall white tapers banked the archway to complete the decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with light bodice trimmed with seed pearls, high neckline, long sleeves tapered over the hand; and a full skirt falling into a long train. Her veil of illusion net was floor length, held in place by a halo of seed pearls and lace and was decorated with the same seed pearl embroidery as on the gown. She carried a white Bible on which was placed a white orchid and long streamers of satin.

Maid of honor for her cousin was Desta Cabaton, Redding, who wore pink net trimmed with rows of narrow net ruching bordered with the faintest edge of black. She wore rhinestone jewelry and a radiantly happy smile as she had received a diamond engagement ring that evening. She carried a bouquet of pale pink gladioli.

Bridesmaids for their school friend were Dona Clark, Sue Seaholm and Sharon Zadina, all of whom wore blue ballerina frocks, rhinestone necklaces and carried bright pink gladioli bouquets.

Three year old flower girls were Cheryl Bodner, Sprague River, niece of the bride, and Karen Sutton. The girls wore wide skirted long frocks of white with rounded necklines, scalloped collars, sashes and white shoulder length net veils banded with lace and held by a white flower headpiece. They carried pink satin baskets.

Best man was Vince Bodner Jr., Sprague River, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Arlen David, brother of the bridegroom; Kirk Curran, Redding, brother of the bride; and Errol Hatcher.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Lee Curtis, Reno, came north for the ceremony and wore a grey and white dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. David, wore a pink lace dress with matching accessories and a rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Chiloquin Youth Center where a long refreshments table was topped by a huge heart outlined with tiny bunches of rhododendron and other summer flowers. A large four-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature of the heart outline and with a tiny bride and bridegroom centered the table.

Hostesses at the reception were Mrs. Walter Schmidt, the bride's grandmother, who made and decorated the cake, and the bride's two sisters, Mrs. Vince Bodner Jr., and Mrs. Naomi Cuttiffell, both of Sprague River. The bridesmaids helped serve guests and the maid of honor registered the guests.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a white dress with navy accessories and she wore her orchid at the shoulder. The couple will live in Chiloquin following the trip to an unannounced destination.

The new Mrs. David lived this past year in Sprague River where her sisters and her father, Bill Curran, live. The bridegroom, a Chiloquin graduate, attended Oregon State College before being employed at Klamath Agency.

In addition to the many Sprague River and Chiloquin area guests, the following attended the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. Denver Parks, Chemung; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Colahan, Joseph Colahan, Hildebrand; Mrs. Lee Curtis, Reno; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peoples, Lamola Falls; Mrs. Eleanor Cabalan, Desta Cabaton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Curran and family, all of Redding; Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt and Jan of Red Bluff; Lester Swaggett, Eugene; and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Downing, Merrill.

Mrs. Grace Colahan, the Rev. and Mrs. Preston Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Chrowl, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chrowl, Dorthea Brown, Belle Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Bonis, Mrs. Floy Morton, Mrs. R. F. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Evers Holden and family, all of Klamath Falls.

WSCS Meeting

PORT KLAMATH — The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Port Klamath Community Methodist church was held Thursday afternoon July 8, when Mrs. Stewart Nicholson was hostess to the group at her home at the Nicholson ranch.

During the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley, plans were discussed for the annual church dinner sponsored by the WSCS, and the date of Saturday evening, July 31, was set. It will be served in the C. I. clubhouse. Although donations and assistance will be welcomed, contrary to previous custom, this year only church members will be called upon to contribute food items and to help with preparations and serving. Non-church members who wish to offer their donations or services in any capacity may do so by contacting either Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley or Mrs. Ira Orem.

Construction is well underway on the church-sponsored community fireplace and barbecue project; location is on the church grounds adjacent to the church, and when completed, it will be available for use by picnic groups, etc., of the community. Raymond S. Loosley, chairman of the church board, is in charge, assisted by a corps of helpers.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Barney Cox gave an interesting and educational book review on "Behind Mud Walls."

For the next meeting of the Society, Mrs. Cox will entertain at her home on Agency Lake on Thursday afternoon, August 12.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nicholson to the following: Mrs. Richard H. Wilson, Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley, Mrs. Theodore R. Nicholson, Mrs. William Brewster, Mrs. Lloyd Nicholson, Mrs. Bert Gray, Mrs. William Zumbund, all of Port Klamath; Mrs. Edmund Stanton, Chiloquin; Mrs. Barney Cox, Agency Lake; Mrs. Rollo Moore, Klamath Agency; Mrs. Carroll Pittman, Ashland, visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Theodore R. Nicholson; Mrs. Don Gruber, Medford, a weekend house guest at the home of her sister and family, the Lloyd Nicholsons.

Al Ullman, chairman of Hells Canyon Association, grange member, and democratic candidate for congress from District 2, was guest speaker at the Klamath and Lake county annual grange picnic held at Quartz Mountain Sunday July 11.

A full program of speakers and music entertained the guests. Klamath Pomona Master Mike Williams and Lake County Pomona Master Raymond Johnson celebrated their joint birthday anniversary Sunday.

An old fashioned potluck picnic luncheon was served of homemade cakes, pies, fried chicken, watermelon and ice cream.

A contractor and his crew was in Paisley the past week sealing the highway oil job.
