

Sell Where Others Buy — WANT ADS — Phone 8111

A BANNER SEASON LOOMS for Klamath Falls Knife and Fork Club, judging from the lineup of internationally known speakers slated to appear at the monthly dinners of the organization in the Willard Hotel. Shown (left to right) are Carolos P. Romulo, former Philippine ambassador to the United States; the Ryhiners, (Mercia and Peter), big game hunters; Douglas R. Stringfellow, Utah statesman; Sydney Montague, author and former Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer; Charles Eagle Plume, America's foremost interpreter of Indian lore, life and culture, and Robert Kazmayer, world traveler recently back from Iran. The series will open September 22 with Kazmayer.

Major Bills Face Congress Before Session Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for congressional leaders to wind up the present session within two weeks today faced a threat of foundering on four disputed items in President Eisenhower's program: tax and Atomic Energy Act revision, housing and farm programs.

A belief was growing that it might require at least a week of August to clear the decks for adjournment which would free members to concentrate on the election campaign.

The Senate spent four long days last week debating the administration bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act. It was called back two hours early today with the end not yet in sight.

The major issue: Should Congress act to cancel an Eisenhower directive for the Atomic Energy Commission to contract with a private utility group for power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area. A small band of Democrats, with the support of several Republicans is leading a fight for such a move.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) says he plans to move tomorrow for a Senate vote on his proposal to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) for his conduct as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. That seems likely to divert the Senate from its legislative work for most of the day, and perhaps longer.

A Senate-House conference committee finished work Friday on a compromise housing bill, from which it stripped Senate provisions to carry out the President's program for building 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. The compromise contains authority for 35,000 units in one year, with occupancy limited to families displaced by slum clearance projects.

Moves to reject the compromise are regarded as likely in both branches. In the House, opponents of public housing probably will try to knock out even the revised provision. In the Senate, friends of public housing will try to send the measure back to conference to restore the four-year program.

A tax revision bill which Eisenhower calls the keystone of his program is still in a conference committee. The group made remarkable progress last week in resolving differences, but the knottiest issue remains. It involves proposed tax reductions to be given shareholders on their dividends from stock.

The House voted for administration recommendations, but the Senate adopted a much less liberal treatment for dividend income. Acceptance of one version or the other might lead to trouble when the final bill goes before the House and Senate for approval.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee announced last night he will seek Senate approval of a compromise farm bill which would authorize flexible price supports between 80 and 90 per cent of parity.

Aiken was outvoted in his committee, which recommended another year of 90 per cent price supports for five basic crops: wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts. Parity is a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Eisenhower urged flexible supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, but he has hailed the House action in voting for a modified plan in which crops would range between 82½ and 90 per cent.

The farm bill is not due to be called up before late this week, but Republican Leader Knowland of California went to bat for the administration program in a Senate speech Saturday. Backers of rigid price supports, he said, "know the program won't work — but they want just one more year of it."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) says he plans to move tomorrow for a Senate vote on his proposal to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) for his conduct as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. That seems likely to divert the Senate from its legislative work for most of the day, and perhaps longer.

A Senate-House conference committee finished work Friday on a compromise housing bill, from which it stripped Senate provisions to carry out the President's program for building 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. The compromise contains authority for 35,000 units in one year, with occupancy limited to families displaced by slum clearance projects.

Moves to reject the compromise are regarded as likely in both branches. In the House, opponents of public housing probably will try to knock out even the revised provision. In the Senate, friends of public housing will try to send the measure back to conference to restore the four-year program.

A tax revision bill which Eisenhower calls the keystone of his program is still in a conference committee. The group made remarkable progress last week in resolving differences, but the knottiest issue remains. It involves proposed tax reductions to be given shareholders on their dividends from stock.

The House voted for administration recommendations, but the Senate adopted a much less liberal treatment for dividend income. Acceptance of one version or the other might lead to trouble when the final bill goes before the House and Senate for approval.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee announced last night he will seek Senate approval of a compromise farm bill which would authorize flexible price supports between 80 and 90 per cent of parity.

Aiken was outvoted in his committee, which recommended another year of 90 per cent price supports for five basic crops: wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts. Parity is a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Eisenhower urged flexible supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, but he has hailed the House action in voting for a modified plan in which crops would range between 82½ and 90 per cent.

The farm bill is not due to be called up before late this week, but Republican Leader Knowland of California went to bat for the administration program in a Senate speech Saturday. Backers of rigid price supports, he said, "know the program won't work — but they want just one more year of it."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) says he plans to move tomorrow for a Senate vote on his proposal to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) for his conduct as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. That seems likely to divert the Senate from its legislative work for most of the day, and perhaps longer.

A Senate-House conference committee finished work Friday on a compromise housing bill, from which it stripped Senate provisions to carry out the President's program for building 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. The compromise contains authority for 35,000 units in one year, with occupancy limited to families displaced by slum clearance projects.

Moves to reject the compromise are regarded as likely in both branches. In the House, opponents of public housing probably will try to knock out even the revised provision. In the Senate, friends of public housing will try to send the measure back to conference to restore the four-year program.

"DENNIS THE MENACE"

"I'M ALWAYS PLEASED TO SEE DENNIS LOOKING SO HEALTHY AND STRONG. I HEAR SO MANY THREATS AGAINST THE LAD..."

Heat Wave Covers Nation

By The Associated Press
Hot weather continued at full boil in the nation's middle section today after a brief period of summer lull last week. There was little relief in sight.

The toll of the extended heat wave, which had only a brief respite, had reached 237 lives yesterday when temperatures from central Texas and northern Louisiana to southwestern North Dakota climbed generally into 100-plus figures.

Scattered thunderstorms tempered the heat in the Ohio Valley and near the Canadian border, but west and south of those sections temperatures matched or exceeded the normal summer extremes of the adjoining desert Southwest.

Sunday deaths attributable to the heat included 3 at Fort Smith, Ark., where the mercury mounted to 108; 3 in southern California, where readings ranged up to more than 100 in the San Joaquin Valley; and 5 in Oklahoma, which had scorching weather as Oklahoma City's 103 and Tulsa's 110.

The day's peak was 116 at Fort Scott, Kan., Chanute in the same state had 113, and in adjoining Missouri it was 111 at Kansas City, 112 at St. Louis.

Other samplings in the heat belt included 106 at Quincy, Ill., and Presidio, Texas; 104 at Memphis; 101 at Indianapolis; 100 at Omaha, Rapid City, S. D., and Dickinson, N. D.

Showers and thunderstorms were confined mostly to the Rocky Mountain region, western Kansas and Nebraska, the northern Great Lakes area and New England.

Away from the stifling blanket of hot air down the center of the nation, it was generally pleasant with temperatures in the 80s.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The U.S. Army rushed typhoid serum for 100,000 persons to flood areas in Austria over the weekend after an appeal for assistance.

Beauty Queens See Hollywood

By JAMES BACON
LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Miss Universe dolls take their first trip to Hollywood today and for some it may not be their last.

In the past, the Miss Universe winners have not exactly set the film capital afire. From the original 1952 pageant, only Ruth Hampton (Miss New Jersey) is now under contract to a studio. And of the 1953 crop Myrna Hansen (Miss U.S.A.) is the only one working regularly at Universal-International.

Miss Italy has a beautiful, classic face, a figure to match and wears clothes like a Dior model.

On the cute side is Miss Germany, a Teutonic Debbie Reynolds.

Miss Sweden is a Nordic redhead. Movie fans always have liked Swedes such as Bergman and Garbo. At the moment Hollywood is ripe for a good-looking Swede.

For a well-tanned society girl type like Grace Kelly there is Miss Maryland.

There is also a good comedienne. Miss Uruguay, an attractive Latin, is even livelier than the late Lupe Velez.

The girls will tour Universal-International, one of the sponsors of the contest. There they will meet movie stars and have dinner.

The concert program will include music from the great heritage of the Lutheran Church, both vocal and instrumental.

The five members of the Forsters are Robert Welsh, first tenor, Memphis, Tennessee; Joseph Baker, second tenor, Long Prairie, Minnesota; James Menke, baritone, Bensenville, Illinois; Donald Busarow, second bass, Racine, Wisconsin; Kenneth Semmann, organist, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The program follows:
We Believe: "Credo," Gretchen-in-off.
In the Holy Trinity: "Gloria Patri," Palestine; "Sanctus," Schubert.

Of God the Father: "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," J. S. Bach; "O God Our Help in Ages Past," Healey-Wickel; "Bless the Lord," Ippolitoff-Ivanoff; "Children of the Heavenly Father," Swedish Folk Song; "Let All Together Praise Our God," Bach.

Of God the Son: "As It Fell Upon the Night," Davis; "Good Folk Who Dwell on Earth," Davis; "O Sacred Head," Hassler; "Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; "Lord Jesus Who Dost Love Me," Lundquist.

Of God the Holy Spirit: "May Now Thy Spirit," Schuetky; "When I Was Poor and in Heaviness," Croce; "In Prayer Your Voices Raise Ye," Gerhardt; "To Thee Holy Ghost," arranged by D. Busarow; "A Mighty Fortress is our God," Luther.

Amen: "Savior Breathe an Evening Blessing," Stebbing.

Optional numbers: "Luther's Carol for His Son," Coward; "Lass Mich Gehen," Volghlander; "Thy Little Ones," Norwegian Folk Song.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay said the Seward chamber Sunday: "Alaska is in a better position than ever before to demonstrate her ability to take her rightful, eventual place as a state in our great union."

He cautioned at Anchorage Saturday night, however, this cannot come about until Alaskans assume the responsibilities for developing their own resources.

"The federal government can no longer maintain its colonial role," McKay said.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay said the Seward chamber Sunday: "Alaska is in a better position than ever before to demonstrate her ability to take her rightful, eventual place as a state in our great union."

He cautioned at Anchorage Saturday night, however, this cannot come about until Alaskans assume the responsibilities for developing their own resources.

"The federal government can no longer maintain its colonial role," McKay said.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

Fight For Red China Power Told

HONG KONG (AP) — Political gossip in Shanghai says a fight for power has developed between the two No. 2 men of Chinese communism, Premier Chou En-lai and Liu Shao-chi, vice premier and secretary of the party Central Committee.

This report was brought to Hong Kong by an Australian, Francis Griffith, who ran a small coal business in Shanghai until the Communists decided they didn't want him running a coal business. He reached Hong Kong after waiting many months for an exit permit.

"You hear many rumors in spite of the fact that people are afraid to talk politics," Griffith said, "but this one sounds a little better than most of them and is more persistent. I heard it from people who have contracts in the office of Shanghai Mayor Chen Yi."

Liu Shao-chi is Red China's high priest of communism. He is Red chief Mao Tse-tung's theoretician and he decides, when disagreements arise over procedure, method or policy. Such a post carries sweeping powers and Liu is often called China's No. 2 Communist and Mao's probable successor.

Chou En-lai is a more earthy Communist, a diplomatic charmer, an administrative expert, a man who gets things done. His actions since he came to big power in 1949 have showed him to be both an opportunist and a Communist. But he is no theoretician. His power is the direct power of the high executive, not the indirect power of the translator and applier of doctrine. So when you look at the working force of the Peiping government you tend to list Chou as the No. 2 Communist and Mao's probable successor.

Griffith, a better-than-average observer, believes the silent fight between Chou and Liu intensifies whenever Mao, who seems definitely in bad health, does one of his long disappearances from the public eye.

"Chou En-lai has become the isolationist of Chinese communism," Liu Shao-chi the expansionist," Griffith says.

"The rumor is that Chou wants to build China up as the benevolent big brother of other nations of Asia, especially south Asia. He realizes that China is weak and must strengthen internally before it can safely embark on large expansion. Korea proved that. Chou is supposed to advocate the moderation even in infiltration. Liu, on the other hand, wants China to aid vigorously every Communist movement in Asia with men and money, even at the risk of war. He thinks there is a Communist groundswell in Asia and now is the time to spread fast."

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay said the Seward chamber Sunday: "Alaska is in a better position than ever before to demonstrate her ability to take her rightful, eventual place as a state in our great union."

He cautioned at Anchorage Saturday night, however, this cannot come about until Alaskans assume the responsibilities for developing their own resources.

"The federal government can no longer maintain its colonial role," McKay said.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay said the Seward chamber Sunday: "Alaska is in a better position than ever before to demonstrate her ability to take her rightful, eventual place as a state in our great union."

He cautioned at Anchorage Saturday night, however, this cannot come about until Alaskans assume the responsibilities for developing their own resources.

"The federal government can no longer maintain its colonial role," McKay said.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay said the Seward chamber Sunday: "Alaska is in a better position than ever before to demonstrate her ability to take her rightful, eventual place as a state in our great union."

He cautioned at Anchorage Saturday night, however, this cannot come about until Alaskans assume the responsibilities for developing their own resources.

"The federal government can no longer maintain its colonial role," McKay said.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

The program, he said, should include return of more land to the public domain, rehabilitation of the Alaskan fishing industry, development of Alaskan oil lands, expanding Alaska's tourist industry, attracting new industries, turning more services over to the territory from federal jurisdiction, and extending the joint federal-local public works program.

McKay said the Seward chamber Sunday: "Alaska is in a better position than ever before to demonstrate her ability to take her rightful, eventual place as a state in our great union."

He cautioned at Anchorage Saturday night, however, this cannot come about until Alaskans assume the responsibilities for developing their own resources.

"The federal government can no longer maintain its colonial role," McKay said.

McKay called for a "working partnership" with Alaskans and listed goals he said should be factors in the territory's growth and development.

Woman Killed In Car Crash

An Oakland, California woman was killed instantly Saturday afternoon in a head-on collision on highway 97 two miles south of Medford.

The dead woman was Mrs. Ellen Lozza, 60, Her husband, Angelo Lozza, driver of one car, and Orville Hicks, Tacoma, Washington, driver of the other automobile, were seriously injured. They are under treatment at Klamath Valley Hospital.

According to the California highway patrol, the Lozza car was traveling north when it collided with the Hicks car which was going south.

The body of Mrs. Lozza was wedged in the wreckage and could not be removed for more than an hour. It was then taken to Ward's Funeral Home in Klamath Falls.

The Herald and News is the basic advertising medium of the Klamath Basin because it enters most all homes every day by paid invitation and carries the complete messages of commercial concerns, politely yet forcefully, to all members of the family at the times they wish to receive them.

Soil Field Tours Planned

A busy two days is in store for those attending the fifth annual fertilizer conference here. Registration headquarters will be at the Willard Hotel and the meetings are slated for the Fremont School auditorium, according to A. R. Halvorson, Klamath Experimental Station.

The meet will start officially with a breakfast in the Spruce room at the Willard Hotel Tuesday morning at 7:15. It will be open to board members, past presidents and the president of the Soil Improvement Committee.

A field trip to the Klamath Experimental Station and to the muck sub-station on lower Klamath Lake will take place Tuesday afternoon. Buses will lead at the Willard Hotel for the tour.

Another tour will be made Wednesday afternoon when delegates will make a field trip to the Williamson River Ranch on Upper Klamath Lake. This trip will also start from the Willard Hotel at 1:30. Following field inspections a barbecue will be held at 6:30 at the ranch.

All meetings held in town will be open to the public, Halvorson stated.

The conference is being sponsored by the Soil Improvement Committee of the Pacific Northwest Plant Food Association in cooperation with the state college and universities of the Pacific Northwest.

"Very well—and I'll just raise you four million dollars!"

CLASSIFIED RATES

One day — per word 5¢
Three days — per word 12¢
Week run — per word 20¢
Month run — per word 65¢

Answers to ads may be handled through box numbers at the paper for a service charge of 25¢.

DEADLINES
Classified ads accepted up to 5:30 p.m. for following day's publication, up to Noon Saturday for Monday, classified display ads accepted up to 12 Noon for following day's publication.

ADJUSTMENT
Please make all claims for adjustments without delay.
Corrections or cancellations received by 5:30 p.m. will be made in following day's publication, by 12 Noon Saturday for Monday.
The minimum charge for any one ad is 50¢.

FUNERAL HOMES
WARD'S Klamath Funeral Home, 223 High Street, Phone 2034.

MEETING NOTICES
Prosperity Rebe k a h Lodge No. 104 meets Thursday night, July 15, at 8:00 p.m., at the I.O.O.F. Hall.
Lorene McCollum, Noble Grand

IOOF NO. 137
Every Tuesday—8:00 P.M.
Fifth and Main Sts.

LOST AND FOUND
LOST BLACK male Labrador dog with Curry County license. Reward. Fred Anderson, Paisley, Oregon.
LOST two new air mattresses, plastic. Between Klamath Falls and Ashland last Wednesday. Phone 2-1816.
LOST 650 x 16 tire and red wheel. Phone 7-3100. Laverne.

GENERAL NOTICES
ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS. Phone 2-6300. P.O. Box 204.
PERSONALS

ARE YOU HAPPY?
MRS. FLETCHER
PALMIST AND CLAIRVOYANT
Gives truthful advice on all affairs of life. Tells past, present and future without asking questions. She has helped others and can help you. Gives names, dates and facts. The truth, good or bad. Satisfaction guaranteed or no charge. Close to Big Y.
Readings Daily 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.
4818 South Sixth St.

FULLER BRUSHES. Phone Fritz Thieleke, 9004.
WATKINS Products, 1534 Madison.
FOR STANLEY Home Products, call Buff Jones, phone 989.
DRESSMAKING. Phone 4472.

SEPTIC TANKS CLEANED
NEWEST SANITARY METHODS
also
ROTO ROOTER SERVICE
Cleans Sewer Lines of Roots, etc.

Ed F. King
2434 ORCHARD — PH. 9841
We Service ALL Appliances
If you have troubles
CALL KIRK — PHONE 8886

KIRKPATRICK'S
Eastside Appliances, 132 So. 7th Westinghouse, Gibson and Easy Dealer

SEPTIC TANKS
CLEANED
$14.00 for 500 gallon tank.
Locally Owned Since 1944
PHONE 5442 or 8377
LACY KING

G. E. AND BENDIX
Appliance Service
FRED and RENO
Formerly with Fyock's
Phone 9807 Evenings 3470

RADIO repairs, pickup, delivery, phone 2-1816.
HAY Baling, dicing and harrowing. Gardening. H. F. Jarrard, phone 5332.
CURTAINS laundered and stretched. Phone 2-3215.

ROTOVATE that fire hazard. Lawns retovated and leveled. Phone 2-0942.
MATERNITY CLOTHES MADE TO ORDER
Phone 2-3215

PAINTING, inside or out, large or small. Phone 2-2753.
HAY Baling, stacking or delivery. Phone 2-0854.

PLOWING and yard grading. Phone 2-0854.
WATCH repairing. Beaches Jewellers 814 Main. Phone 3452.

HAY Baling with wire baler. Phone 7-1046.
11—DO-IT-YOURSELF

FIREPLACE
½ price, install it yourself in a weekend. Factory built, all the blocks, $199.50. No down payment; 36 months on F.H.A.

PEYTON & CO.
835 Market Phone 5149

THE SUPREME pleasure of painting indoors can be yours through the "Paint by Number" Picturecraft system. See them at Volgh's Pioneer Office Supply, 425 Main St.

USE RENTAL TOOLS from our new RENTAL BAK
Sanders, edgers, planers, many other rental items. McCollum Lumber Company, Corner of South Sixth and East Main.

BEE HIVE Truck Rental Co. Move yourself, save ½, Beacon Mobile Service, 1201 East Main. Phone 8354.

Protesting Pilots
Meeting Called
WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators called for more meetings today in their attempts to settle a dispute between American Airlines and its pilots.

Mediators spent more than three hours yesterday in separate meetings with the airline and the AFL Airline Pilots Assn. They scheduled similar sessions today.