Moscow Guide Book Issued

MOSCOW (AP) — They've issued the first guide book to Moscow since the war, but you do not find in it a lot of information you usually look for in a guide book.

For instance, it doesn't give the population of Moscow. Perhaps the guide book publishers don't know it.

Nor are there any maps—even of the subway system, although this is described extensively in word and picture. Russian publications do not frequently publish maps — of the Soviet Union.

The 406-page, hard-cover book is printed by a branch of the state publishing trust.

The guide book contains numerous pictures of museums, hospitals, parks, beaches and some skyscrapers, and also of the Kremlin. There are no pictures of factories.

The Kremlin section is devoted chiefly to historical data.

As for population, best guesses are that prewar Moscow of four million has grown to some six millions.

The Russians classify the population of Moscow as a state secret. Maps of cities are also considered state secrets — classified documents for official use only. This is presumably why no map of Moscow is included in the guide book.

The reason the Soviet government took nearly 10 years to get around to publishing a new post-war guide book for Moscow apparently is that Soviet security authorities felt such guides might possibly be of use to the enemies of the U.S.S.R.

Only two years ago the Soviet government finally published a Moscow telephone directory.

Stassen Plans Aid Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen, returned from week-long talks in Europe on the problem of East-West trade, says he hopes to make his recommendations public after conferences today with administration officials.

Stassen, who also appears today before the Senate Appropriations Committee to support a fund request for the new $3,100,000,000 foreign aid bill, flew back from Europe yesterday.

He met with French and British officials to iron out the Western approach to trade with Soviet Russia and its satellites.

Homesick Girl Leaves Convent

WATERLOO, Que. (AP) — Marie Dionne, the quintuplet who took a nun's first vows two months ago, has left the convent and gone home. A church official said she had departed temporarily for health reasons but her family said she was homesick.

The mother superior at the Quebec convent of the Servants of the Blessed Sacrament, which Marie entered as a postulant last November, said the 20-year-old girl left there Wednesday.

Marie's brother-in-law, Maurice Girouard, said at his home here she arrived at her parents' home in Callander, Ont., early yesterday, accompanied by three brothers and her quintuplet sister Emilie. The latter hit the headlines herself when she became lost in Montreal Friday en route to join Marie.

Commenting on that incident, Girouard said: "Apparently all kinds of rumors started to spread when Emilie approached a policeman in Montreal. The girl simply identified herself and asked for directions. She was visiting friends in Ste. Agathe (Que.) and was on her way to St. Charles, Que., to meet Marie."

The brother-in-law said Marie had come to his home from the convent and that Emilie had joined her here Saturday.

Girouard said Marie—smallest of the quintuplets at birth—seemed confused and homesick. He added he did not know whether she planned to go back to the cloister, where she took two-year vows of poverty, chastity and obedience May 24.

The Montreal Gazette quoted the quintuplet's father Oliva as saying Marie had written him last week complaining of homesickness.

"I suspected from her unhappy letter that she was trying to decide whether to remain in the cloisters or come back," the Gazette quoted him. "I know she has been terribly lonely, but she can always go back. It has been tough on her being separated from her four sisters."

Iran Rejects Red Complaint

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iran has firmly rejected Soviet objections to her joining U. S.-sponsored military alliances. In a blunt note, the Iranians told the Kremlin they have sovereign right to take any measures necessary to safeguard Iran's "security, defense, independence and integrity."

Foreign Minister Abdollah Entezam delivered the memorandum yesterday to Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Lavrentiev. After receiving it, the Red-faced Russian swept angrily out of the office, brushed reporters aside and drove off without comment.

The note was in reply to a Soviet complaint made 10 days ago that Iranian Premier Fazollah Zahedi had given U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson "certain assurances concerning the participation of Persia (Iran) in the military measures of the U.S.A. in the Near and Middle East."

The United States would like to enlist Iran in the recent Pakistan-Turkey alliance, though no formal invitation has been issued.

with whom she had lived since they were babies."

The Dionne home in Callander could not be reached by telephone last night.

When she took her vows last May, her father said Marie appeared genuinely happy in the convent.

The order requires candidates for nunhood to serve two years as novices.

Life at the convent was described as "not difficult or hard," but it was along austere lines. With other white-garbed nuns, Marie spent her days in prayer and silent work on priests' vestments, altar clothes and similar duties.
