Movie Script For Famed Costain Novel Prepared

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Thomas Costain's 500-odd pages of narrative called "The Silver Chalice" turn out, in the movie script, to be only 134 pages long.

Yet none of the drama of Costain's story of the slave who fashions a receptacle for the wine cup used at the Last Supper will be missing, scenarist Lesser Samuels assures potential viewers. For the benefit of Costain's readers, and perhaps also for aspiring scenarists, Samuels explains how he did his job.

After reading the book carefully, he made notes on what he considered the necessary dramatic scenes. Primarily the difference between his job and Costain's was to emphasize some scenes for greater dramatic effect.

Then he listed each scene, with a brief description, on a small card. He remembers that he had 100 cards. He pinned these to a large board in sequence and studied them. He finally reduced the number of cards to 76—"The essential dramatic steps."

With the characters and the 76 scenes, Samuels wrote a 140-page "treatment," actually a synopsis. From the synopsis he wrote the first script, 140 pages of dialogue and stage directions. This preliminary work was used to determine how many actors would be needed and for how long and the number and size of the sets. Costs have to be estimated first, so the first script was little more than a budget guide.

The final shooting script took Samuels 10 weeks to write. Costain, who read it, was pleased with the faithful translation although he must have missed some scenes and characters he liked. The Chinese prince, for example, was an interesting character, but he had nothing to do with furthering the dramatic elements of the story. He and his long fingernails will not be in the film.

The chalice itself is no tin prop. Victor Saville, who is producing and directing, declared it must be of sterling silver and so went to a silversmith to have it cast.

Swine Payment Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill authorizing payment to Oregon farmers for swine destroyed because of vesicular exanthema infection, was approved by the House Monday.

The bill, already passed by the Senate and now en route to the White House, restricts payments to farmers in states which have already paid indemnities. Oregon is the only state which qualifies.

Indian Funds Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill by Rep. Ellsworth (R-Ore), aimed at dividing more than three million dollars among Oregon Indians, was passed by the House Monday.

The bill, which goes to the Senate, calls for the secretary of the Interior to prepare a roll of members of the confederated bands of Umpqua and Calapooias, the Tillamook, Coquille, Tootootoney, Chetco and Molalla tribes.

The rolls would provide the basis for distribution of the three million dollars which the United States Court of Claims awarded the Indians in 1951.

State Legion Meetings Start

COOS BAY (AP) — Some 2,000 delegates are expected here this week for the state American Legion convention.

Gen. William F. Dean, the highest ranking American to be taken prisoner by the Communists in the Korean War, will be principal speaker. His talk is scheduled for the opening meeting Wednesday morning.

Senate Plans Final Action On Social Security Bill

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee meets today to put finishing touches on a bill to extend social security to about six million persons instead of the 10½ million President Eisenhower asked.

In a burst of speed yesterday the committee virtually completed closed-door voting on legislation to liberalize and broaden the 18-year-old program.

The senators accepted without change the increases in benefits and tax base recommended by the President. But they rewrote coverage provisions to cut sharply the number of additional persons the administration had suggested for social security.

The increased benefits, as in the House-approved bill, would mean an average $6-a-month boost for the five million persons over 65 now on social security rolls. The new average monthly payment would be about $57. Everyone on the rolls now and retiring in the future would get a minimum $5-a-month hike over present scales.

In addition, benefit formulas would be liberalized so that, for instance, the maximum payment to a retired individual would be $108.50 a month instead of $85 as a present. For a couple, the maximum would be $162.75. Now it is $117.50.

To finance these, the annual amount of wages subject to taxes would be increased from $3,600 to $4,200. The tax now is 2 per cent on workers and employers.

The major coverage change made by the Senate committee was to eliminate entirely from social security 3,600,000 farm operators and 500,000 professional persons, such as doctors, lawyers, dentists and engineers.

This was a reversal of its vote last week to put them in on a voluntary basis. Members explained yesterday it was felt that if coverage were optional, only those likely to receive the most benefits and pay the least taxes would enter the system. The administration had asked compulsory coverage.

On another point, involving farm workers, the Senate committee went along with the President's full recommendation, although the House had not. The committee voted to extend compulsory coverage to an additional 2,600,000 farm hands. The House bill would bring in only 1,300,000 more. About 700,000 are covered under present law.

Under the Senate version, any farm worker paid $50 in cash by an employer in a three-month period would be covered.

The committee approved voluntary coverage of about 3½ million state and local government employes now under local retirement plans. They would vote whether or not to go under the federal system.

The committee would put ministers under social security only on a voluntary basis and as self-employed if they elected coverage.

Carson Urges Public Works

PORTLAND (AP) — Joseph K. Carson of Portland, Democratic candidate for governor, said in a campaign speech Monday night that the present state administration has done nothing to provide better business or more jobs.

Carson, former mayor of Portland and ex-member of the U. S. Maritime Commission, called for a "comprehensive plan" of public works in the state.

"Southwestern Oregon is greatly lacking in adequate transportation facilities. . . . Eastern Oregon has been neglected. . . . The Willamette Valley can use more water for growing crops during part of the year," Carson said.

He said the state has been in "the iron grip of an entrenched political system" for 75 years. The Republican Party "has perpetuated itself with almost unlimited campaign funds and a vast army of politically appointed boards and commissions. Meanwhile the public has sat by complacently while the parade of privilege has marched back to Salem, again and again."

You get Tomorrow Style in Today Buick
It's a Million Dollar Ride-and no foolin'

You can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the prec snubbing of jars and jounces. You fee in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

(Smart tip: With Buick such a beautiful buy this year, think what a winner it's bound to be at trade-in time! Come see us this week!)
