

Stars' Double Win Increases PCL Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hollywood's pitching staff, shorter than at any time this season, came up with two fine performances against San Francisco Tuesday night as the Stars increased their lead in the Pacific Coast League race to five games.

With the ace of the staff, Lino Donoso, hospitalized, and Fred Strohle recently optioned, the Stars hurlers apparently feel it necessary to go the route in every game. No relief was necessary Tuesday night as Mel Queen and Roger Bowman tossed a pair of five-hitters. The Stars won the opening game against the Seals, 5-2, and the windup, 1-0.

Bobby Spicer, the little Los Angeles pitcher who throws just about every pitch in the book, was in rare form as he held Oakland to five hits and scored his third shutout of the season. The Angels won, 3-0.

Although Oakland couldn't dent the plate, a tipy feminine fan succeeded right after the final out. She vaulted onto the playing field, circled the bases in eccentric fashion and then did a slide into home plate in a cloud of dust—just as the lights on the field went out. A male fan, apparently in pursuit, also tried to circle the sacks but tripped at third and then vanished for refueling.

Rain washed out two games, Sacramento at Portland and San Diego at Seattle. There will be a double bill Wednesday night in Seattle.

College Stars Move Into Training Camp

CHICAGO (AP)—The college All-Star football squad, its roster completed Tuesday night, begins training Friday for the Aug. 13 charity game with the pro-champion Detroit Lions.

A total of 51 stars from colleges throughout the country will report to head coach Jim Tatum of Maryland at Purdue University.

They will have three full weeks to gear themselves for the annual Soldier Field battle with the Lions, a veteran-packed club that has won the National Football League title two years in a row.

The pros undoubtedly will be favored to repeat as victors in the coming game— their additional years of experience, individually and as a unit, figuring to give the college boys too much to cope with.

However, the All-Stars will have the advantage of playing under the limited substitution rule — which means the Lions will have to play both ways, offensively and defensively, a practice they normally shun.

Members of the All-Star squad have been appointed from time to time over the last several weeks. The final two, halfbacks Paul Cameron and Bill Sits of UCLA, were named Tuesday night.

Other Westerners include end Sam Morley of Stanford, Tackles Charles Doud of UCLA and Dean Chambers of Washington, and quarterback Bob Garrett of Stanford.

Tebbetts Headed For Pilot Award

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—At the rate Birdie Tebbetts is going, there should be little difficulty in electing the Manager of the Year for 1954. With the National League race entering its second half, the freshman pilot of the Cincinnati Redlegs has turned in a job little short of sensational.

A year ago at this time the Redlegs, with almost exactly the same talent, were floundering in the second division under that hard taskmaster Rogers Hornsby. They never attained the .500 mark under the Rajah, and they were destined to wind up a bedraggled sixth, 37 games off the top.

Today the slugging Westerners, headed and smartly directed by their new manager, are battling tooth and nail for third place behind the Giants and Brooklyn and, on their current form, must be conceded at least an outside chance of pulling one of the biggest upsets of recent baseball history. Few experts gave the club a hope of finishing any higher than it did last season. Third place would represent a genuine triumph for the popular Birdie.

Probably the only one not greatly surprised by the way the Redlegs are staying in there and slugging with the leaders, despite their uncertain pitching, is Tebbetts himself. The stocky catcher who took over after a single year of minor league managerial experience at Indianapolis never ceased to swear stoutly in the spring that he was going to climb over some clubs — "and I don't give a damn which ones they are."

When he was asked why he had reached into the minors for Tebbetts and given him a two-year contract as a starter, General Manager Gabe Paul replied that he had chosen his man "because of his intelligence." This was an unusual answer, and it created some comment at the time, but it looks now as though Gabe had something.

'Ole Casey' Picks ChiSox Over Ford

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel is as crazy as a fox... and twice as sly.

Talking to newspapermen before last night's game with Chicago, the New York Yankee manager spied Whitey Ford, his ace southpaw.

"You want to know who is the best left-hander in the league?" he asked. "That feller (Billy) Pierce with the White Sox. He's better than my feller. Sure I picked my feller to pitch the All-Star Game. But that was only because the other feller had just recovered from a sore arm. But the other feller is better."

Ford undoubtedly heard every word. A few moments later he arose and began throwing warmup pitches. About 2 1/2 hours later, he walked off the field with a neat eight-hitter, after pitching the Yankees to a 4-1 victory over Chicago that kept the Yankees hot on the heels of the Cleveland Indians.

Reached in the clubhouse later, Ford declined an invitation to take issue with Stengel but admitted he was determined to show his manager that he was a pretty good pitcher too.

The 24-year-old ex-serviceman turned in one of his best efforts of the year last night. He struck out five and walked only two as he posted his ninth victory against only one loss against the White Sox since he entered the league in 1950.

It was his fourth straight strong performance after a poor spring. His record, which once was 2-4, is now 9-6.

"I was all mixed up early this year," he explained. "My control was off, my curve ball wasn't doing a thing and I seemed to be going from bad to worse. I finally lost all confidence in myself and if it wasn't for Jim Turner (Yankee coach) I might be sitting in the bullpen now or pitching for Kansas City. He straightened me out."

Ford went on to explain that Turner discovered he was doing several things wrong. First, he was overstriding. Second, he was looking down on the ground after each pitch, instead of keeping his eye on the batter. Third, he was not following through his curve ball.

Poole's Wins Fourth Straight League Contest

Poole's widened their lead over the remaining Cub League baseball teams last night at Conger Field by winning their fourth straight game.

Led by Mickey Carney, Poole's pitcher, the league leaders fashioned a 20-1 win behind a one hit pitching job.

Malin evened their season with a 16-1 win over Joe's Sport Shop, Joe's softball team honored for the losers.

In the other two games, Chilquain and the Gun Store both posted easy wins, as the Chilquain nine dumped Merrill by a 16-6 count and the Gun Store dealt a 11-2 loss in the hands of Henley.

Grigry Advances In Canadian Net Tournament

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Top-seeded Jacques Grigry of Los Angeles, was forced to three sets Tuesday before advancing into the eighth of the Western Canadian Tennis Championships.

Grigry dropped his first set 1-8 to George Moffitt of West Vancouver, B.C., but rallied to take the next two handily 6-4, 6-1.

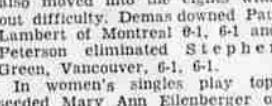

Two other American favorites, Jim Demas of Sacramento, and Seth Peterson of San Francisco, also moved into the eighth without difficulty. Demas downed Paul Lambert of Montreal 9-1, 6-1 and Peterson eliminated Stephen Green, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-1.

In women's singles play top-seeded Mary Ann Ellenberger of San Diego, Calif., defeated Pamela Rose, Vancouver, 6-0, 6-1.

PGA Attendance Mark In Danger; Sam Snead Ailing

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—If the weather, golfing "form" and Sam Snead's stiff neck all react properly, a new golf attendance record may come out of the 36th PGA Championship, starting today on the tiny, parklike Keller course.

On the basis of advance ticket sales and enthusiasm shown by St. Paul fans for previous pro tournaments at Ketter, PGA officials already have predicted an attendance of about 50,000 for the seven-day run of the show. But all the doubtful elements will have to work out in just the right way.

The PGA record of 53,000 was set in the upset-ridden 1947 championship at Detroit's Plum Hollow classic. This could turn out to be another just like that—with the favorites going out in drives during the first two rounds of match play.

But some rain at the right time and a sudden improvement in Snead's painfully stiff neck could make it an entirely different kind of show.

That would make it into a reasonably good test of golf instead of a drive-and-wedge layout where almost anyone can shoot a low score.

Snead, a three-time PGA champion who is very popular here, figures to be one of the biggest drawing cards in the field of 135 top playing and "club" professionals. But after shooting a 63 in practice a few days ago, Snead, fully stiff neck which has bothered again was afflicted by the pain him all summer.
