Girls Conduct Summer Program

CHILOQUIN - An active summer program has been undertaken by the newest Camp Fire Girl group in Chiloquin. Eight girls, who completed the fourth grade this spring, "flew up" from Mrs. Joe Adamo's Blue Bird group and the Camp Fire leaders are Mrs. Gerald Wolf and Mrs. Earl Hall, the latter also worked with Mrs. Adamo.

In five meetings thus far the girls have chosen their officers, their Indian name meanings, have gone swimming three times, visited the Oregon State fish hatchery near Klamath Agency, the fire station in Klamath Falls, the Coca Cola Bottling Co., Moore Park and Lake of the Woods where they visited group members at Camp Fire Camp.

Sally Ravizza was chosen president; Cherry Wolf, vice-president; Chella Riddle, secretary; Linda Cline, treasurer; and Judy Adamo, scribe. Other members are Marlene Norris, Mary O'Neill and Donna Robinson.

Four girls, Sally, Cherry, Linda and Donna have attended camp for one week each.

At the fish hatchery Dick Evans, superintendent, showed the girls the complete process of work from 20,000 eggs in a tank, through the hatching and tiny fish size to the point where fish can be planted in the streams and lakes. He showed the large fish kept at the hatchery and how the food is ground and fed.

The firemen, who showed the pumpers, the hook and ladder, their museum engine, and how the men do various parts of their 24 hour jobs, completely won the girls' hearts by sliding down the pole for them.

Free samples at the bottling plant made the entire electrically operated process all the more interesting. The bottles going around like small soldiers and the movie showing the history of soft drinks were all equally interesting.

At the park the girls divided time about three ways, playground, the animals and in eating, a favorite pastime at each meeting.

Anyone - interested in entering a hobby display at the Malin Garden Club Flower Show, August 14, is asked to contact Mrs. Charles Hamilton, chairman, Malin, at phone 185.
