Bridal Shower

MRS. HOWARD WILLIAM SOWLES JR. . . . the former Katherine Louise Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oliver Potter, prominent Basin business and ranching family. Bridegroom is the son of Howard William Sowles Sr., Anchorage, Alaska; and Mrs. Clayton Means, Tulelake. The Rev. Dale Hewitt, pastor of the Klamath Falls First Presbyterian Church, read the double-ring service last Sunday afternoon before an arch of pink roses in a colorful setting in the Potter's beautiful garden. ALTAR-BOUND ROSEMARY MURRAY . . . opens gifts at the luncheon and bridal shower given for her at the Yacht Club, July 15. Hostesses were Mrs. Ed Bell and Mrs. Gene Hooker. Assisting, is her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rodney Murray, who later presided at the punch bowl. The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Murray, 812 Pacific Terrace.
Guest tables were centered with strikingly beautiful arrangements of pink garden roses. The head table was draped with a pink mesh cloth over white; with several artistically placed miniature nosegays spiralling from the center bouquet to each end of the table.
Individual places were marked with white and pink parasols . . . clever originals made by Mary Hooker, daughter of one of the hostesses.
Rosemary's wedding, to John Alan Young will be a social event of summer in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, August 1.

Short Visit

AN INFORMAL BUFFET at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cheyne, 5907 Alva Avenue, offered Mr. and Mrs. Dan (Dannie) Weitz, in town overnight from Shafter, California, on business, a few hours of relaxation, day, and left the next day. Mrs. Cheyne invited a small group in for food and conversation. Directly above, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dakin at the buffet table; and "in conversation," Mr. and Mrs. Weitz at the right; and their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Cheyne, left. Not pictured were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Payne, Mr. and Mrs. James Emmons and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ramsby.
