Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral Officiates at Nuptial Rites In Whittier St. Matthias Church

In St. Matthias Episcopal Church, Whittier, California, Lorene Enid Littleworth became the bride of Richard Lee Vaillancour, June 26, in an 8 p.m. service, with the Rev. Douglas Stuart, canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, New York officiant. Canon Stuart is a personal friend of the bride's family.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Littleworth, La Habra Heights, California; and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Vaillancour, 1823 Earle Street.

Organist, George Vause, accompanied vocal soloist, Gene Allen.

The bride was escorted to the chancel rail by her father, who gave her in marriage. The floral background for the ceremony was formed of white stock, gladioli and Maroon daisies with sprays of greenery.

Her gown was a Mauve original, designed with a fitted bodice of lace over satin, three insets of matching lace were in the full, finely pleated nylon net overskirt which flared into a sweeping train. The sitting of cultured pearls she wore, was a gift from the bridegroom. A bouquet of the same lace in the gown held her fingertip veil of illusion; and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Bill Archer, wore a gown of pink nylon organza with a wide swath of matching satin; and a wide trimmed hat of pink net. She carried a basket arrangement of deep pink roses.

Bridesmaids, Rosemary Littleworth, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Neil Palmer and Mrs. George Collinson, were all dressed as the matron of honor, except that their flowers were pale pink roses.

There were two flower girls, both named "Debbie." Debbie Patterson and Debbie Donato, in floor length dresses of pink nylon dotted organza tied with pink sashes; and both wore poke bonnets.

Guild Meets For Picnic

TULELAKE — Mrs. Leonard Meshke, Fort Klamath was hostess to members of the Guild of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian Church at a lawn party and picnic, Wednesday afternoon, July 14.

Luncheon was served under the trees.

Mrs. Meshke was program chairman for the day and led the group singing of hymns. Mrs. Tom Newton gave the devotion. Mrs. G. R. Aikens reviewed a psychological treatise, "The Mind Alive," by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet.

During a short business meeting the members voted to entertain at a tea, July 30 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Ryckman. Proceeds of the tea will go to the migratory work to be sponsored by the guild in the Tulelake area this fall. The work is carried out by the social education committee of the guild, chairmanned by Mrs. Ryckman.

It was announced that the annual Sunday School picnic will be held in the Malin Park at a date to be announced later.

The next general meeting of the guild is scheduled for August 4 at the home of Mrs. Katherine Stonecypher. The topic for study will be on Spanish America. Mrs. N. C. Wilkinson and Mrs. Elmer Scott will be co-hostesses.

Devotions will be by Mrs. Anna Whetham.

Both Martha and Ruth Circles of the guild will meet August 16. Martha will meet at 3:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Tom Newton with Mrs. Harry Mitchell, assisting. There will be a book review with Mrs. E. L. Coyner, program chairman. Mrs. A. E. Ryckman will have devotions.

Ruth Circle meets at 8 p.m. at the Walter Johnson home for a study of the American Quaker. Mrs. Ross Ragland will direct the program. Mrs. Robert Barrows will lead the devotions.

MR. AND MRS. ELMER S. BRAMLETT . . . 231 North Ninth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gertrude (Trudy), to A. L. Joseph (Joe) Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waggoner, Miller Island Road.

The attractive bride-elect and her fiancé are both graduates of KUHS; she, in 1953 — and he, in 1950.

Wilkins is presently stationed at Long Beach with the USAF. He recently returned from a two year tour of duty in Alaska.

The wedding date is scheduled for September 18, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. — Photo by Ferebee

BASIN GIRLS IN HAWAII

LANGLETT VALLEY — Avhild Romvett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sandre Romvett of Langlett Valley, is spending the summer in the Hawaiian Islands, with her friend Jeanette Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Chang of 2385 Kalamianale Avenue, Hilo, Hawaii. Both girls are students at Parkland Lutheran College, at Parkland, Washington.

They left Medford by plane June 5, and spent the night in San Francisco, arriving in Honolulu June 6. During the girls' two weeks at Honolulu they visited many interesting places including the Pal and Waikiki Beach. They flew to Hilo, Hawaii June 19. Both girls are doing a summer playground work until the end of July.

Avhild says she is having a hard time leaving to like raw fish, poi and other Hawaiian foods, but is having a wonderful time.

Avhild was graduated from Bonanza High school in 1952 and has gone to Pacific Lutheran College the past two years. She plans to be a teacher.

Langdons Honored At Potluck Party

MACDOEL — Mr. and Mrs. Jess Langdon, Joan, Janice and Shirley, were guests of honor at a farewell potluck party at the Wall Robinson ranch July 15. There were about 130 people present.

Langdon was presented with a slide projector from residents of the valley.

The Soil Conservation Service employe has been transferred to the Susanville, Honey Lake Soil Conservation District.

The directors of the Butte Valley Soil Conservation District feel that under the supervision of Jess Langdon the district program has contributed much to the development of the valley.

Mike McGourty of Klamath Falls replaces Langdon as technician; Fred Hayford will continue as engineer.

Langdon's faithful service and sound advice will be greatly missed by many in the valley.

FORT KLAMATH NUPTIALS IN WOODLAND SETTING

FORT KLAMATH — In a pretty outdoor wedding ceremony on Thursday, July 8, at 7:15 p.m., Joyce Elizabeth Copeland, daughter of Mrs. Alvin Q. (Mortie) Copeland, Fort Klamath, became the bride of Robert Magnuson, son of Mrs. O. W. Wallely, Boise.

The young couple exchanged nuptial vows before an improvised altar in the natural and beautiful sylvan setting on the banks of Wood River, at the Copeland Ranch.

A profusion of summer flowers was arranged about the altar, where the Rev. Edmund Stanton, pastor of the Fort Klamath Community Methodist church, read the double ring service in the presence of a group of relatives and close friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Mr. A. O. Beymer, Eugene, and was attractive in a simply cut, semi-formal gown of white lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli centered with white carnations.

Mrs. Daniel Brown, bridesmaid, wore a black dress with white jacket, matching accessories and corsage of beige and pink carnations.

Mrs. Alvin Q. Copeland, mother of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a light blue suit with harmonizing accessories and corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom was attended by Daniel Brown.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Copeland home. The bride cut the first slice from the beautifully decorated wedding cake brought from Eugene by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. O. Beymer. Flowers for the wedding and reception were also brought from Eugene by her grandparents.

The refreshment table was in charge of Mrs. Harry Engle and Mrs. Howard Beymer, with Mrs. Copeland and Mrs. Paul Wray pouring. Mrs. Howard Beymer also

CIC Meeting

FORT KLAMATH — First vice president Mrs. Harold Wing, presided at the business meeting of the Civic Improvement Club Friday afternoon, July 16, in the C.I. Clubhouse.

Plans for the fourth annual Western style street dance which will be an event tonight, occupied the major part of the session. Final plans for the big gala affair were announced by the various committee heads.

Forthcoming events scheduled to be held in the clubhouse are two big church dinners. On Saturday evening, July 31, the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Fort Klamath Community Church will sponsor the annual church dinner, with Mrs. Ira F. Orem general chairman, assisted by sub-committees; the second, slated for Saturday evening, August 21, is to be given by local members of the Altar Society of the Chiloquin St. Carmel Catholic Church, with Mrs. Loren L. Miller Sr. as general chairman in charge of arrangements.

Tentative plans were discussed to change the custom of having two separate birthday parties each year for club members, to a combined annual affair, with two groups of club members taking turns as alternate hostesses each year. The matter was tabled for final decision until the August 6 meeting.

At the meeting, August 20, a round robin auction will be held, chairmanned by Mrs. Donald P. Veatch.

Mrs. William Nicholson was welcomed as a new member at Friday's meeting.

Program chairman Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley gave an interesting account of present day conditions in East Germany as related by overnight house guest, R. Gunther, exchange divinity student from Los Angeles College, according to the story told by Gunther, conditions there compared most favorably to those in the United States.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Lloyd Nicholson and Mrs. Stewart Nicholson. They decorated the main club room and dining with a profusion of colorful summer blooms from their own flower gardens.

Refreshments were served at tables lovely with arrangements of similar flowers. Present were: Mrs. Harold Wing, Klamath Agency; Mrs. Ober Brown, Mrs. Wilbur B. Hesseck, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Loosley, Mrs. William C. Martin, Mrs. Loren L. Miller Sr., Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley, Mrs. Warren More, Mrs. Elmore Nicholson and Teresa; Mrs. Charles M. Noah, Mrs. William A. Page, Mrs. Theodore R. Nicholson, Mrs. Joanna Taylor, Mrs. Donald P. Veatch, Mrs. Walter J. Wright, Mrs. William Nicholson and Larry William, and Barbara Nicholson.

Couple At Home in Costa Mesa After Wedding in Klamath Falls

Of interest to many in the Klamath Basin is the recent wedding of Shirley Book, daughter of Mrs. Edna Book and the late A. L. Book, 534 North Tenth; to Richard E. (Dick) Jessup, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jessup, Modesto. The bride's uncle, the Rev. R. E. Book, Albany, read the 8 p.m. double-ring candlelight service in Klamath Temple.

Shirley was given in marriage by her uncle, John D. Merrill; and as she approached the altar, the bridegroom sang "Through the Years" to her.

She wore a traditional white gown of lace and net over satin with long sleeves, full skirt and train. The dress was made by the bride. She carried a bouquet of dark red roses and stephanotis.

Norma Book served her sister as maid of honor; and bridegroom's sister, Pat came from Modesto a week before her own wedding to be bridesmaid. Both girls wore blue ballerina length dresses of lace and net over tulle, which the bride also made. Their bouquets were of yellow and pink gladioli and stephanotis. A college friend of Shirley and Dick, David Jenkins, was best man. Honorary attendant was Jack Lawler, Modesto.

Candlelighters were Letha and Glenda Friend, Medford.

Little Carol Turnbull, cousin of the bride from Jacksonville, was flower girl.

Ushering were Eugene Merrill and William Turnbull. The latter from Jacksonville. Both are uncles of the bride.

Marie Obenchain played incidental wedding music and accompanied soloist, Wilbur Book, also uncle of the bride.

At the reception in the church parlor, Mrs. Wilbur Book was hostess, assisted by Pauline Noble, Bonanza, who presided at the punch bowl and the gift table. Barbara Riley registered the guests. Candlelighters and the last two named assistants are all students at Southern California Bible College.

PROSPERITY REBEKAHS MEET

Prosperity Rebekah Lodge No. 104 met in regular session July 15, with Vice Grand Helen McCormack presiding in the absence of Noble Grand Lorene McCollum.

Plans were completed for the joint Odd Fellow and Rebekah picnic for members and their families — which was given at Ward Park, July 22, at 7 p.m.

The Rebekah rummage sale, July 16-17, in the Evans Building, was co-chairmanned by Isabelle Foster and Helen McCormack. Report to be given later.

Elizabeth Ramsby, Jennie Hurn and Louise Humphrey were appointed as a committee to draft memorial resolutions to mark the recent passing of Alice Zua Goebler, past noble grand, beloved Klamath Falls matron, and charter member of the Rebekah Lodge.

She served the organization faithfully for over 50 years, and was for 33 consecutive years, recording secretary. Her record of abiding and loyal devotion to the teachings of the order and her wisdom and sustaining advice will always be an inspiration to present and future members.

Climax of the July 15 meeting was a "watermelon feed" provided by Helen McCormack, Isabelle Foster, Nona Hall and Frank McCormack.
