CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Strength in soybeans and weakness in wheat featured active dealings in grains on the board of trade Tuesday.

Soybeans hit the 10 cent daily limit advance several times during the session, regularly falling back a little from that peak. All contracts set new seasonal highs.

Continued hot, dry weather in most sections of the soybean belt, with no promise of real relief, stimulated demand.

Weakness in cash wheat was an unsettling influence in the bread grains. It was also felt the hot weather had stopped the spread of stem rust in the spring wheat belt.

Feed grains generally held steady. Wheat closed 2 3/4 to 3 1/2 lower. Sept. 2.08 1/2; corn 1 1/4 lower, Sept. 1.53 1/2; oats 1 1/4 lower, Sept. 74 1/2; rye 1 3/4 lower, Sept. 1.16 1/2; soybeans 7 1/2 to 10 cents higher, Sept. 2.23 1/2 and 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. 15.07-15.05.

Solons Seek Reelection In Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two veteran Democratic senators—John L. McClellan of Arkansas and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana—seek re-election Tuesday in three-man state primary contests climaxing active campaigns.

McClellan, known to millions of televiewers for his role in the Senate's McCarthy-Army inquiry, apparently faces the toughest fight. His opponent is former two-term Gov. Sid McMath.

Most political observers in Louisiana say privately they expect Ellender to win re-nomination for a fourth Senate term—tantamount to election in the heavily Democratic state.

Oklahoma also has a Tuesday election. It features a run-off between the two men who topped 14 other candidates in the July 6 primary for the Democratic nomination for governor. They are William O. Coe, Oklahoma City attorney, and State Sen. Raymond Gary. Neither could muster a majority in the primary.

Meanwhile, county Democratic executive committees in Texas met to canvass the returns from last Saturday's Democratic primary. The latest unofficial returns indicate run-off elections Aug. 28 for governor and other state offices.

In the governor race, two lesser candidates apparently got enough votes to force a run-off between Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Ralph Yarborough. Shivers, who bollied the party to support President Eisenhower's 1952 campaign, held a narrow margin over Yarborough, the "loyalist" candidate, but did not have a majority.

In the Arkansas balloting, McClellan and McMath would face a run-off Aug. 10 should either fail to get a majority. Here again, as in Texas and Louisiana, the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election. There are two other candidates in the field but one did not campaign and is predicting a McClellan victory.

U.S. Agent Takes Own Life

BERLIN (AP) — An American counter-intelligence agent, known to be a friend of missing West German security chief Otto John, has committed suicide in his Berlin quarters, it was learned today.

Fellow officers found the man, a naturalized American with the rank of captain in the Counter-intelligence Corps, mortally wounded in his billet near the American Army hospital last Friday. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

The Army has withheld announcement of his identity until the family is notified.

Rumors that the agent was being questioned by the West German security chief and that he was suspected of disloyalty were flatly denied by U.S. authorities today.

A senior officer said a complete inquiry shows the man to be above suspicion.

Officers said the agent had known Dr. John, former chief of the West German Federal Office for Protection of the Constitution, for some time. The agent shot himself the day after John's disappearance in the Soviet sector was made public.

Korea Ignores Armistice Day

SEOUL (AP) — The first anniversary of the Korean Armistice passed virtually unnoticed here Tuesday.

Some 10,000 miles away, one of the bitterest critics of the cease fire—South Korean President Syngman Rhee—conferred in Washington with President Eisenhower to seek new ways to bolster the security of the young republic.

Here, people went about their tasks as usual. Since the fighting stopped, the Koreans have started to rebuild their homes, reasonably assured that they won't have to flee south tomorrow.

South Koreans appear healthier, are better fed and clothed than at any time since Communist hordes plunged across parallel 38 four years ago.

Along the frontlines, U. S. 8th Army troops went through normal routines, patrolling the southern end of the demilitarized zone in the shadows of some famed Korean War landmarks.

The hills known as Old Baldy, White Horse Mountain, Sniper Ridge, Christmas Hill and Luke's Castle all are within the boundaries of the demilitarized zone. Farther south, some of the battlegrounds now are rice paddies and farms.

The ROK government-subsidized newspaper Korean Republic observed the anniversary with a lengthy editorial.

There is one thing certain. We have not seen the end—and even worse events will befall the free world because of the truce at Panmunjom," the editorial said.

Eldorado Addition Planned

Owners of property in the area north of Pacific Terrace presented to city council Monday night their long range plans for the development of that area beginning with Eldorado Heights addition.

The four principal owners are City Attorney Henry Perkins; George Hayes; Don Sloan, realtor, and the Klamath Development Co., through its agent, Al Schneck.

They propose to develop the area in accordance with a contour map already drawn. The plans follow closely plans drawn for the city a few years ago by Morrison and Howard, architects, with slight alterations of roads to tie in to the Sunnyside addition which will not be developed at present under this program.

At the request of the owners, through a planning commission recommendation, council voted to vacate a certain portion of Eldorado Heights to allow re-platting according to the contour map and new subdivision. (Council's agreement is contingent upon receipt of owner's request by letter.)

Council also voted to take steps to rezone blocks 2, 3, 6 and 7 of Eldorado addition to a class 3 business district. This will allow for a neighborhood shopping district planned at the time the first development was considered.

According to Sloan, a shopping center must be within one quarter mile from all points of such a development in order to qualify for a master Federal Housing Administration loan.

Attorney Perkins told council that he expected the area which adjoins Pacific Terrace, to be on the market by October.

In other business, council heard the first and second reading of an annexation ordinance setting August 23 as the date for a hearing.

On that date, all registered voters in the city may appear before council to present their views on the proposed annexation of the South suburban area (including the public housing unit area, the school district adjacent and Sunnyside).

Following the hearing, council will order an election in the territory to be annexed. Election will probably be held in late October or early November.

This new move was necessitated due to irregularities in the procedure. Previously council had planned an election, which was nullified by errors in the advertisement. A later election date (August 24) was nullified by lack of a quorum last week to pass the resolution setting the date. There is also a question, City Attorney Perkins stated, as to how the legal act will be interpreted. To clear up interpretation, the annexation, so far as the city is concerned, will be done by ordinance, not by resolution.

Another ordinance, passed on third reading, requires property owners and contractors to provide a $1000 bond before moving a building onto a lot or tract in the city.

Penalty on conviction is a sentence of not more than $100 fine or 50 days in city jail or both.
