

Defending Champs Entered In Meet

The Annual Moose Lodge all-city tennis tournament will get underway this Saturday at Moore Park with nearly all of the returning champions from last year again entered.

A week-long tourney, the Moose sponsored city net meet is open to anyone in the area who is interested in playing tennis according to tournament committee members.

Tonight is the last night that an entry can be made, since the drawing for positions will be held tomorrow. Any late entries can be called to Earl Brooks or Jo Widness this evening.

Ron Lowell, who copped the lion's share of titles last year in the all-city tournament will again be back to defend his men's singles crown. He won last year's tourney by edging out Earl Brooks in the finals by 6-4 and 6-5 set scores.

In the men's doubles competition, Lowell and Brooks teamed together for the winning combination as they whipped Dr. Raymond Tice and Rich Monroe. Lowell and Mrs. Nye Patterson won the mixed doubles crown as they beat Dr. Tice and Clover North in the finals.

The women's singles championship was won by Ruth Hazelstein as she set Nye Patterson down in the finals, while Denny Todd was picking up the junior men's title.

Entry fees for the eight day meet are about the same as last year with the exception of the Junior men and women's events which have been lowered to 50 cents to enable more young tennis players to enter the meet.

Men's singles will be $2.00, men's doubles $1.50 apiece, women's singles $1.50, Mixed Doubles $1.50 apiece and no fee has been set on the men's consolation division.

So far this year, nearly all of the top netters in the basin have entered in the meet including Lowell, Brooks, Tice and Case in the men's singles, Brooks, Lowell, Tice and Todd in the doubles competition and Clover North, Gertrude Brooks and Jo Widness have signed for the women's singles.

Eldorado Preparing For Bend

OREGON-CALIFORNIA LEAGUE

	W	L	Pct.
Bend	7	1	.875
Klamath Falls	4	5	.444
Lakeview	3	4	.429
Astoria	2	6	.250

Back to nearly their full strength, the Eldorado Lumberjacks will face the Bend Loggers this Sunday afternoon at Recreation Park in an Oregon-California League ball game.

The afternoon action will be the last home game that the Lumberjacks will play this year as far as the league's schedule is concerned, and it is a vital game for the home standing of Jack.

Bend is leading the league and has only been beaten by Lakeview once this year, while the other league entries have been able to do very little damage to the Loggers.

In their past meetings, the Jacks have pushed the Loggers all the way to the last inning or have been leading in the late innings only to have Bend counter with one or two runs to sew up the contest in the last frame or two.

Bend's pitching staff will be bolstered by Paul Gehrmann, an ex-Cincinnati Redleg pitcher, and Jim Duff, who twirled last week's win for the Loggers over Lakeview 9-0.

Manager Hi Hatfield will be able to select his ball club from a full team this week, something that he has been unable to do in the past few weeks.

Leroy Coleman, who has missed the last few league contests because of a sore arm, will be back in the Eldorado spangles, as will Don Dexter, the hard hitting little infielder that helped the Jacks earlier in the season. Another addition, John Niles, an ex-Medford high school diamond star has also joined the Eldorado club and is expected to help with the outfield duties.

Either Fran Miller or JoJo George will be on the mound this weekend, while Art Westhouse or Ron Owings will do the catching. Owings could also be slated for third base.

The infield will probably be Irv Whit at first base, Don Sunitsch at third, Coleman at second and heavy hitting Dick Lundsten will be working at second base.

Willie Dunster, Hatfield and Art Raymond, three of the club's leading hitters will probably open in the outfield positions, while further help can be expected from George or Miller, whichever one doesn't pitch, Lundsten and Niles.

In the other game of the three game schedule last night, Merrill outscored Malin by an 18-13 count.

Stanky Shows Signs Of Honest Apology

By JACK HAND
For Gayle Talbot
NEW YORK (AP)—Subdued in the words for the "new" Eddie Stanky who brought his Cardinals to the Polo grounds for a series with his old playmates, the league-leading Giants.

No fiery-tempered little man came striding out of the dugout, with a chip on his shoulder, to wrangle with the umpires. He had a chance too, in the first game of the series when Stan Musial was called out at first on a very close play.

The fiery skipper with the un-pleasant nickname of "The Bear" wasn't Stanky on the field. Coach Johnny Riddle took his place on the lines at third base as he had done during Stanky's five-day suspension.

Apparently Stanky has taken to heart the blast of public disapproval that greeted his recent demonstration in St. Louis, where even the home fans cheered a forfeit decision against the Cardinals. As he said in St. Louis, "this affair has opened my eyes."

Off the field, in the privacy of the St. Louis clubhouse, Stanky was courteous, guarded in all answers and still talking about winning the pennant.

"Don't think we're out there going through the motions," he said. "We're still in this thing. We've still got a chance to win the pennant." Stanky straightened his tie in a mirror as he talked. In the background, Musial and Red Schoendienst listened.

As the Cardinals are 14 games back and still in danger of an at-large trip to the rear by other second-division clubs, Stanky's talk had the hollow ring of fight camp publicity. Still, he is the kind of man who never stops believing in the impossible.

Stanky, the ballplayer, was a spirited competitor who believed in using any means, not specifically condemned by the rule book, to win a ball game. Remember how he shifted around back of second base, waving his hands, to distract a batter in 1950 until Ford Frick, then league president, ruled such arm waving should be illegal in the future? And the time he kicked the ball out of Phil Rizzuto's glove in the World Series of 1951?

"My spirit and the desire to win could never be broken," Stanky said at St. Louis last week. "However, my human and public relations will be improved."

It seems that Stanky finally is beginning to realize the difference between his status as an "anything to win" player and his responsibilities as a manager to his owner and the millions of fans from coast to coast.

Johnson Wins Unanimously Over Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—George Johnson, N. J., middleweight, is back in business again after his upset victory over slugish Bobby Jones, the No. 5 boy in the division.

Jones hasn't won a fight since he spurned an alleged $15,000 bribe offer before his June 11 bout with Joe Giardello.

Although Jones was an 8 to 5 favorite, Johnson was a unanimous decision Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden in a national televised bout that drew a crowd of no more than 1,500. The International Boxing Club didn't bother to announce any figures.

Johnson, 154 to Jones' 157, simply threw too many punches for the Oakland, Calif., veteran of 66 pro bouts. Only in the fifth, sixth and ninth did Jones flurry. Each time he stopped before he could do any heavy damage. Johnson's jab, chopping right and right uppercut all were effective in the no-knockdown bout.

Bernie Bond, leading trainer at Monmouth Park race track, fought in both the European and Pacific theaters as an infantryman. He rose from private to captain.

Hitson Remains In Lead

Allen Bousman and Johnny Hitson are making strong efforts to run off with the hardtop racing honors at Gem Speedway by all signs of the past couple weeks of racing.

Bousman won his second straight main event last week to join Rusty Phillips in the double winners circle, and is one A-main behind the California driver who picked up the main event prize money three weeks in a row earlier in the season.

Hitson is going after the point lead in about the same fashion that Bousman is making efforts towards the main event, but two other drivers are trying to make serious threats on Hitson's lead.

The driver of K-7 has compiled 299 points so far this season while Bob Crowley and Matt Christian are the two runner-ups with point totals of 263 and 256 points respectively.

The remaining list of drivers and their points included Benny Morrison in K-8 with a 243 total, Al Rossi with 224, Wes Owens with 211, Jerry Barlow and Rusty Phillips hold down the seventh and eighth positions with 204 and 202 points respectively. Bud Cook and Neil Mayfield round out the top ten with 174 and 161 points.

In last week's program, Cook turned in his first trophy dash win in three seasons of racing in another top trophy dash race. The past two weeks of racing has produced some of the best and closest finishes in the three years of hardtop racing according to many fans and the racing officials.

The time trials are slated to get underway at 6:30 and the first event of a nine race program will get started around 7:30. The usual racing event will be run off with four heat races, the trophy dash, the final heat, a consolation race and the A and B main events. If time permits a special event will be arranged for the fans enjoyment.

Beavers Divide With San Diego

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
San Diego has lost more precious ground in its fight to overhaul the fast traveling Hollywood Stars.

The Padres ran into some fancy pitching in Portland Wednesday night, were held to five hits by Glenn Elliott, and lost the first game of a doubleheader, 3-0. San Diego won the second game, however, 2-1.

Hollywood was held to four hits by Don Ferrarese and George Bamberger of Oakland, but they were big hits, and the Pacific Coast League leaders won the ball game, 4-1. Infielder Jack Lohrke hit two home runs and Frankie Kelleher doubled across another run. Manager Bobby Bragan used three hurlers in stopping the Oaks.

He started his youngster, Ed Wolfe, put in Rog Bowman when Wolfe showed signs of losing control in the seventh, and relieved Bowman in the ninth with Jim Walsh. Bragan's guessing was good.

Elliott, who has been complaining of a bad back, made his first start in 10 days as he checked the heavy hitting San Diego club. He beat Cliff Fanning and notched his 10th win of the season against as many losers.

In the second game San Diego recovered somewhat. Bill Wight pitching the Padres to a squeaky 2-1 victory. Wight gave up only four hits in achieving his 11th victory against two defeats.

Manager Jerry Priddy, an infielder, look over the pitching for Seattle in the eighth inning at Sacramento and was credited with the 5-4 victory in 10 innings. Seattle pushed over the winning run on a triple by Tommy Byrne and Jack Bukowitz's single. It was Priddy's first victory on the mound against no defeats. Ken Gables went the distance for the losers, who collected 14 hits to Seattle's 11.

It took three Los Angeles hurlers to get the last man out in San Francisco, but they succeeded and the Angels shaded the Seals, 4-2. The game went 10 innings and was marked by 28 hits. Lefty Joe Hatten, Bill Molsan and John Pyle each worked for the Angels, and Tony Ponce and Adrian Zabel for San Francisco. It was the first time in 35 games the Seals lost a game in which they once had the lead. The last time was in San Diego in June.

Oregon Wools edged Midland 18-17 despite a grand slam home run by Sally Urbans and another four bagger by Margaret Scala. The Wools also pulled a triple play to highlight the ball game's action.

In the other game of the three game schedule last night, Merrill outscored Malin by an 18-13 count.
