Churchill Has New Aides

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill headed a new government lineup today after the resignation of two ministers and shifts in lesser posts. A third official's request to quit awaited action by the Conservative party chief.

Two of the ministers let it be known they wanted to go back to private pursuits, which pay better. The third got out after charges of maladministration in his ministry.

The resignation of two other ministers has been anticipated for some time, but so far has not developed.

The following appointments were made:

Colonial secretary, Alan Lennox-Body, 49, formerly transport minister, replacing Oliver Lyttelton, who resigned to return to private business.

Agriculture: Derek Heathcoat Amory, 54, former minister of state at the Board of Trade, replacing Sir Thomas Dugdale. The latter quit after judicial inquiry into charges of maladministration in his department.

Transport (a non-Cabinet post): John Boyd Carpenter, previously financial secretary to the treasury, replacing Lennox-Boyd.

Atty. Gen. Sir Lionel Heath told a Conservative gathering last night he had submitted his resignation to Churchill but there was no indication whether it would be accepted. He wants to resume private law practice.

Observers expressed surprise that the reshuffle did not include Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton, who has said he wants to go back to private law practice, or Solicitor General Sir Reginald Manningham-Butler, with whom the Prime Minister has frequently disagreed.
