"DENNIS THE MENACE"

James Stewart Man of Few Words During Interview

By HUBBARD KEAVY
 (For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The hesitancy of speech that marks James Stewart as you know him is no screen affectation. He talks that way in his den at 918 Roxbury Dr., too, on such as his work, his weight, his income, his future, his first trip to Europe and any other subject the interviewer introduces.

Stewart seldom initiates small or large talk, but when questioned, cued, prompted and reminded by the interviewer, Mrs. Stewart and a press agent, he gives in his hesitant, word-searching, yet altogether charming manner. If you'd close your eyes you'd think he was playing a scene. It occurred to me that if Jim and that other man of few words, Gary Cooper, ever get together the conversation must be a brilliant series of "yops" and "nopes."

Jim has had remarkably successful films since he became a free lancer, able to pick his own stories, studios and directors. What is it—luck, a formula, advice? He answers, after some seconds of thought, and I condense because of space limitations:

"Well, now, you might say I'm lucky. Yes, sir, you might, I guess

Indochinese Refugees Flee From Red Vietnam Rule

By FORREST EDWARDS
 SON TAY, Indochina (AP)—The film already glazes the Vietnamese woman's unseeing eyes.

Her mouth opens and closes in slow, agonizing gasps.

Each tired, wheezing breath could be her last.

Fresh blood stains the bright red bandage where a foot had been before she stepped on a mine this morning.

A pool of darker red spreads on the dirty mud-colored stretcher on which she lies.

Her Vietnamese soldier husband places a tender hand under her jaw as if to ease his painful working. He does not know what else to do as he looks long at her face, then closes his eyes. He does not weep.

For her, it is probably the end of the evacuation route that was to have taken her first to Hanoi, then to Haiphong, eventually to somewhere below the Geneva partition line that cuts Viet Nam in half.

She is only one of the host of pro-French Vietnamese who are pouring into Hanoi, seeking evacuation away from the oncoming control—and possibly vengeance—of the Communist-led Vietminh. Thousands are fleeing to Hanoi; millions are staying behind.

The woman's soldier husband is one of a handful of Vietnamese who manned a tiny French Union outpost, 10 miles up the river from sector headquarters here.

Thirty-five miles northwest of Hanoi, it is one of 18 posts in the Son Tay sector, which French forces must quit before Aug. 11.

The men, their guns and what ammunition and rations they had left were being loaded aboard a French landing craft when the woman stepped off a footpath nearby and onto a Vietminh mine.

There was little sign of concern preparation for the refugees at Hanoi, however. The vanguard three thousand Vietnamese, Col. Bac Ninh and Phu Lang Thu, and had to find shelter in a church school.

A policeman on duty nearby said he believed their coming had taken city authorities by surprise.

The Americans say that is only the beginning. Acting Economic Aid Director Paul Everett estimates the present 25 million dollars a year in U. S. aid will have to be quadrupled to help with resettlement.

Convicts End Hunger Strike

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—State Penitentiary inmates picked up their normal routines today and the man who will be their warden said the "situation is in complete accord" after a three-day sitdown and hunger strike.

But Lawrence Delmore Jr., warden, trouble still is possible among the nearly 1,500 convicts after their 72-hour fast.

The sitdown, which started among laundry workers Monday noon and in the next 24 hours spread throughout the prison, ended suddenly yesterday afternoon.

The prisoners said they were accepting assurances of Fred Dickson, supervisor of state institutions, that some of their demands would be met, and were led off to their first meal—fried eggs, fried potatoes, fruit, bread and coffee.

Delmore will become warden when John Cranor retires Sept. 1. Some of the men were nervous and shaky after three days without food, he said, but "lots of water helped the situation" and most of them were in good condition.

Earlier the men had presented a series of demands for changes including a protest of the naming of Delmore, former Alcatraz Federal Prison executive, as successor to Cranor.

The prisoners also had demanded changes in other prison personnel.

IS IT POSSIBLE

That KLAMATH FALLS COULD BE WITHOUT BUS SERVICE?

The Answer Is YES!

If the riding habits of the people keep declining at the rate it has for the past 5 years there is a good chance that this may become a reality.

What effect will this have on the people of Klamath Falls, the merchants, industry and the city itself?

It will effect people in this way:
 "They would be without the cheapest, safest and most convenient known transportation."

It will effect merchants in this way:
 "Thousands of shoppers would be deprived of transportation to the shopping areas thereby causing a loss of many thousands of dollars each year to the merchants of Klamath Falls."

It will effect industry in this way:
 "New industry would hesitate to come into this area and existing industry would be seriously hampered."

It will effect the city in this way:
 "The entire progress of the city would be stopped and it would change from a growing Klamath Falls to a retarded Klamath Falls."

The Bus Drivers and Employes of Klamath Falls are making an urgent appeal for everyone to patronize our City Lines. Help us protect our jobs; help yourself to protect your future in Klamath Falls. A city without bus transportation is a city without future progress.

Heir's Death Said Natural

CHICAGO (AP)—A coroner's jury has decided wealthy young Montgomery Ward Thorne died of natural causes but that an element of mystery concerning his death remains unanswered.

The jurors recommended continued investigation of the case by "city, state or federal" authorities even though their verdict marked the official end of the case.

Thorne—20-year-old heir to a mail order fortune of nearly two million dollars—died June 19 in his $75-a-month one-room flat. Cause of the death could not be determined immediately.

The coroner's jury Thursday accepted a report from four eminent pathologists who examined the young heir's body that his death was caused by bronchial pneumonia.

Coroner Walter E. McCarron signed Thorne's death certificate, certifying the death as natural. But McCarron said he thought it would have been better if the jury had found that cause of death was not determined.

Some figures in the investigation still questioned the cause of death. A legal battle between Thorne's sweetheart, Maureen Ragen, 18, and his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, over who will get his estate appears in the offing.

A will Thorne drew nine days before his death left half his estate to Miss Ragen and one-quarter to her mother, Mrs. Thorne, previous will left the entire estate to Mrs. Thorne.

Mrs. Ragen disputed the pathologists' findings. She said that she and her daughter went out with Thorne the night before his death and he appeared in excellent health. The Ragens' lawyer, Jay Slough, said that even if Thorne died of pneumonia, it "does not rule out foul play."

Actor Pays Damage Suit Settlement
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—An out-of-court settlement has been reached in the $20,231 battery suit brought against screen and TV actor Robert Cummings by a sheriff's deputy. The officer, William M. Conroy, a 11-year-old Cumings drove away hurriedly when Conroy tried to serve him with a warrant in a civil suit and caused the deputy to be dragged and thrown to the pavement.

Lawyers said the settlement was $1,900.

Los Angeles Hit By Record Heat
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sweltering residents of Los Angeles who have watched records fall as temperatures rose can expect more of the same today, an expected high of 93. Yesterday's top of 93 made it the hottest July 29 on record. The previous high for July 29 was 92 in 1889 and 1947.

Actors' Homes Escape Brush Fire
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 20-acre brush fire destroyed one house and endangered movie players' dwellings in the Coldwater Canyon area before it was controlled yesterday. Actor Jack Palance called firemen and wet down the rear of his house with a garden hose.

Homes of actor Ward Bond and actress Ella Raines are on nearby cross streets. Movie producer Charles Feldman lives two doors from Palance. Actor George Raft's home is two blocks away.
