UN Delegate Tours Famed Valley Forge

By JOYCE DUNHAM
 The United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth sponsored by the IOOF left New York Saturday morning at 8 o'clock a.m. We toured Valley Forge, headquarters of General George Washington during the Revolutionary war. That evening we stayed in a motel at Exton, Pennsylvania. There we had a big wintermelon feed and everyone relaxed after a hard week in the big city. Oh yes, also on Saturday afternoon we toured Independence Hall and several other points of interest in Philadelphia.

Sunday morning we drove to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, where we attended the First Presbyterian Church. This church was at one time attended by Abe Lincoln. In the afternoon we toured the battle field of Gettysburg. I believe I learned more about the Civil War in that afternoon than I have ever known. It certainly was interesting and very enjoyable.

We arrived Sunday evening in Baltimore, Maryland. I was especially glad to reach here because my sister lives here and I hadn't seen her for three years.

A short while after we arrived in Baltimore we went on a three-hour moonlight cruise on Chesapeake Bay. There was no moonlight but we all enjoyed the relaxation and dancing which was quite a treat.

Monday morning we visited the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Baltimore.

Then we drove on to Fort McHenry which was famous in the Revolutionary War. It was near here where Francis Scott Key was inspired to write our national anthem. Our guide showed us how the British tried to attack Baltimore by a scale model of the whole battle. This explanation cleared up many points for me and was just as interesting as all of the other things have been.

From Fort McHenry we go on to Washington D.C. the capital of our nation.

I'll send you the details of our visit in this city within the next two days.

Ike Relaxes Over Weekend

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower rested 65 miles away from Washington a summer heat today at Camp David, his lodge in the Catoctin Mountains.

With the President and Mrs. Eisenhower for a weekend of relaxation were their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and his wife, and grandchildren David, 6, Barbara Anne, 5, and Susan, 2.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING, it will be a big night Monday at the Armory. Impresario Baldy Evans is presenting Don Cornell, (above) one of America's most popular vocalists, with Jerry Fielding and his orchestra. Also featured will be the Gaylords, an upper bracket singing aggregation.

Unusual Fan Mail Sent Movie Stars

By HUBBARD KEAVY
 For Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Strangest fan mail addressed to big names in Hollywood comes from their voice doubles in Italy. In 1953, the Italians dubbed 280 American pictures.

There are voice doubles for every big star, and these voices, although their owners are not billed, are known to fans all over Italy. The actor who doubles for Gregory Peck, for instance, does very little more than be an Italian Peck. So he is concerned with Peck, hopes he makes a lot of pictures and that they all will be good. But if the picture isn't well liked in the Italian market, here, says James Stewart, is what happens:

"The double writes to us and says, in effect, 'come on Joe, let's get on the ball. That last picture—could have been better.' If it is reported that an actor in Hollywood is ill, he often gets a cable from his voice in Italy praying for a speedy recovery. If he doesn't recover, the voice soon would be out of work."

Dianne Foster, whom Canadian TV developed, came to Hollywood by way of the London stage. And her most vivid impression of America is not something that happened in Hollywood when she was playing in "I Was a Prisoner in Korea," but when she was departing New York for London two years ago. She tells this:

"A cabbie, a tough-looking, cigar-smoking fellow, drove me to the pier in Hoboken. He was concerned because I was alone. He wanted to carry my grips, but I member best about the United States."

U.S. Business Generally Good Despite Some Slumps

By WALTER BREEDER JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Sharp seasonal slumps were evident in some lines this week, but business sentiment generally was bullish.

Congress passed a bill calling for the top-to-bottom overhaul of the federal tax structure—an omnibus reform measure containing important tax incentives for investors and businessmen.

Corporate earnings statements for the first six months of 1954 showed a vast majority of reporting firms doing as well or better than a year ago, although sales were mostly lower.

Steelmakers spoke confidently of an upturn in steel business by September: Electric power output set an all-time record. Once again, the stock market raced ahead, with price averages touching new 21-year highs.

Prospects appeared bright for an accelerated tempo of government and consumer spending.

The administration announced plans for stepped-up public spending on such projects as shipbuilding, roads and airports "to give business a little nudge."

Retail trade held at a high level despite the July heat.

Construction activity continued brisk. The government reported a contra-seasonal summer rise in home-building.

Famed Hotel Astor Leased By Firm
NEW YORK (AP)—The Hotel Astor, a landmark of the Times Square area, has been leased by the real estate firm of Webb & Knapp and two associates—Jack D. Weller of New York and Benjamin H. Swig of San Francisco.

The 51-year-old hotel will be replaced by an office building immediately denied by William Zwickendorf, president of Webb & Knapp.

Marine Band To Be Heard

For everyone who enjoys a parade or a summer concert in the park, KPJI's new Marine Band Radio Show, beginning Sunday at 2:45 p.m., will be a real treat.

Produced by headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps, the new transcribed series features the entire Marine Band under the extremely skillful direction of Lieutenant Colonel William F. Santelmann.

Designed to provide a maximum of listenable music, each 15-minute show includes three martial tunes and one tune in either pop-concert or novelty vein. The music is artfully pegged together by the smooth professional engineering of Marine Staff Sergeant Tom Whalen, whose knowledge and appreciation of good music are apparent from the first introduction.

Quite naturally, the Marines made frequent use of the outstanding marches of "The March King" by the late John Philip Sousa, himself a former leader of the Marine Band. Among the Sousa marches used are "El Capitan," "Semper Parvulus," "The Band Elect," and "Stars and Stripes Forever." Non-martial music includes "Caprice Brilliant" (The Deboutante), "A Southland Medley" and "The Horseless Carriage."

H. T. Williams Sells Ranch

FORT KLAMATH — H. T. "Mike" Williams, resident of Fort Klamath since 1942 and of Klamath County for 24 years, has sold his 94 acre Wood River Valley ranch to Ray and Ethel Chase, Klamath Falls. Possession will be given November 1. The property is all in meadow.

Williams and his family plan to move to Eugene or Springfield. Mrs. Williams is a former resident of Eugene. Williams came from Twin Falls, Idaho.

The move is being made in preparation for sending their three children, Enid 16, Jay 11 and Martha 7, to the University of Oregon. Enid is a sophomore in high school.

Williams will continue to handle his leased cattle range and will spend his summer in Fort Klamath.

He and Mrs. Williams have been active in grange work and other farm groups. Williams is the present Klamath County P. O. man a Grange master.

No consideration on the transaction was given.

Mailman Too Tired To Carry Letters

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 42-year-old letter carrier admitted he destroyed about 180 pieces of mail because he "didn't feel like working."

William C. Grey told U. S. Commissioner Robert E. Davis during a hearing yesterday that "I don't know why I did it. But I'm guilty and I want to get it over with."

A complaint said Grey dumped the circulars and postcards near a trash can at the rear of a service station May 21.

An inspector quoted him as explaining he did it because he was "too tired and I guess I didn't feel like working that day."
