

Cleveland, New York Meet In Crucial Series

Braves' Streak Broken

By JOE REICHER
AP Sports Writer

Casey Stengel has said if his New York Yankees don't win the pennant this year he ought to get fired.

The high-flying Cleveland Indians can do something about that tonight when they open a "crucial" three-game series with the defending world champions. A sweep of the vital set by the Indians not only would set the Yankees back in their worst position since 1948 but would, in all likelihood, get Stengel out of their hair.

Nobody actually believes Stengel will be dismissed if the Indians deltrone the Yankees. It is quite possible, however, that the 64-year-old manager might call it a career. He has said on more than one occasion that he will retire when the Yankee pennant string comes to an end.

Although only 2 1/2 games behind the Indians, the Yanks are four games behind in the important lost column.

Those four behind in the lost column is what really hurts, Stengel said last night as his team was preparing to entrain for Cleveland. "We've got to cut that down while we got the chance. We may not have many chances later. The lost column is where it counts the most at this stage of the race."

Scoutmaster Whitney and (left) was Stengel's choice tonight to oppose the Indians, who will center with rookie left-hander Don Mossi (4-1).

Both Cleveland and New York were idle yesterday as the major league activities were limited to only three games, one in the National League and two in the American.

In the National, it took the Brooklyn Dodgers 13 innings and 3 hours and 45 minutes to eke out a 2-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The winning run, produced by Billy Cox's sacrifice fly, resulted in the following:

1. It snapped the Braves' winning streak at 10 straight.
2. It ended the Dodgers' losing streak at four straight.
3. It cut the Dodgers' deficit to five games behind the league-leading New York Giants.
4. It shoved the third-place Braves 10 lengths behind first and five behind second.

In the American League, Washington moved to within half a game of Detroit by trouncing the fourth-place Tigers 11-6. Baltimore left Philadelphia all alone in the cellar, vanquishing the Athletics 10-2 as Bob Turley completed his first game since July 3.

Curious though in the last half of the 13th it was a frustrating afternoon for the Dodgers. Right-hander Billy Loes was sailing along on a 1-0 lead from the second inning and apparently had a shutout when he retired the first two Braves to face him in the ninth. Then consecutive singles by Andy Pate, Johnny Logan and Del Crandall, the last hit coming off reliever Jim Hughes, tied the score.

From the ninth until the 13th, the Brooks blew numerous chances to score, raising their men-on-base total to 20, which tied a league record for a 13-inning game. With one out in the 13th, however, Duke Snider singled off lower Dave Jolly and went to third on a single by Gil Hodges. After Sandy Amoros was given an intentional base on balls, Cox came through with a long fly to left that scored Snider.

Pete Wojey, third Dodger pitcher, was credited with his first major league victory.

Roy Sievers rapped two home runs and drove in five runs as Deah Stone turned back the Tigers for the fourth straight time this season.

Baltimore took advantage of seven bases on balls by rookie John Gray and added 10 hits of its own to break its eighth-place deadlock with Philadelphia. The Orioles paced by Eddie Waitkus' three hits, scored three runs in the first inning and knocked Gray out of the box with five more in the fifth.

Kid's Baseball Program Booming

By JACK HAND
(For Gayle Talbot)

NEW YORK (AP)—If the minors seem to be withering on the vine as leagues fold from day to day, baseball for the kids of America is enjoying boom times.

The Little Leagues enjoyed a tremendous expansion and now the Babe Ruth League (formerly the Little Bigger League) is spreading to all corners of the nation.

Youngsters who outgrow the Little League class move on to this organization for boys in the 13-14 1/2 year age group and, eventually, play school or college ball. Some will make the grade with the pros. The main idea is to keep them off the streets and playing organized games.

Perhaps the hottest community in the country for this kid baseball is Stamford, Conn., not too far from New York City.

There, a big, deep-chedged boy of 15 has pitched the town to three national baseball championships and is gunning for a fourth. Andy Wasi Jr. was only 12 when he pitched Stamford to the Little League crown at Williamsport, Pa. He followed that up with Little Bigger League titles the last two years.

Big league scouts can do nothing but drool over this six-footer for the next two years until he gets out of high school. Then it will be up to him and his father, a former semi-pro pitcher who now is a shipping clerk, to decide whether turns pro or goes to college.

If Wasi pitches Stamford to the Connecticut champs—to the regional crown in New England—Saturday and Sunday, they will be one game since July 3.

Briton Morale Favorite

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Star-maker Chris Cathaway of England makes his British Empire Games debut Tuesday and this sports-happy Canadian metropolis can hardly wait.

Likeable Chris has chased three men to four world records and the whole empire is rooting for him to collect one of his very own in the three-mile race.

There are a lot of other attractions on Tuesday's docket but you'd hardly know it from the street-corner conversation. At scattered points around Vancouver the cycling will compete in wrestling, archery, swimming, fencing, lawn bowling and rowing, the latter making its debut with preliminary races out on the Vedder Canal, half a hundred miles from town.

The track and field program is picking up where it left off Saturday and it's loaded with events, but one man and one race have the spotlight. Everybody knows about Chataway, but the fact that the man who set the world three-mile record is here to hunt him all but disregarded by the fans.

He is Frederick Green, an English teammate of Chataway, who is credited with the world mark of 13 minutes, 32.2 seconds. Christopher John Chataway was at his shoulder when he set the record earlier this year.

Before that, Christopher John paced Roger Bannister of England to the first sub-four-minute mile and then helped John Landy go the same route in an official 3:58 breaking the 1,500 meter mark on the way.

Landy and Bannister are saving their best shots for the "mile of the century" Saturday, but other countrymen will be around to keep Green and Chataway from getting homesick. One is Peter Driver, who won the Empire Games six-mile haul on opening day, July 31. Another is Frank Sando, who chased Driver to the wire. Murray Halberg of New Zealand appeared the best bet to push the great English contingent.

The 320-yard dash has drawn a field of 31 runners and it will take six heats to cull them down for the semi-finals later in the day. Topnotchers include the little flash from Trinidad, Mike Agostini; Jamaica's Olympic sprinter, Les Laing; Canada's Don McFarlane and Australia's Hector Hogan.

Two finals which were set up in preliminary events on opening day will be completed. A cluster of nine half-milers headed by Derek Johnson of England will wind up the 800. David Lean of Australia is favored to pick off the first-place gold medal in the 440-yard hurdle finals.

Swede Halbrook Leaves State's Summer Sessions

Hollywood's Lead Cut To Half Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Once again San Diego has narrowed Hollywood's Pacific Coast League lead to a half game, and Tuesday night the Padres have another chance to take over first place in the standing.

Hollywood got 10 base hits Monday night, one a rousing home run by Lee Walls with a man on base. San Diego was held to four hits by Ed Wolfe and Forrest Main. Yet, San Diego won the game, 4-3.

The big blow that proved to be the decider was Earl Rapp's home run in the sixth inning with one out. The San Diego outfielder has been poison for the Stars in this series.

Hollywood was blanketed until the eighth by Bill Wight, but in that inning Lee Walls collected a homer with one on. Al Lyons, the handy outfielder-pitcher, came in to stop a rally, but the Stars got to him for another run in the ninth and barely missed evening up the ball game. Wight was the winner for his 12th against two losses.

The game drew 11,669 to San Diego's Lane Field, proving that the Border City will support a winning team and that it believes Ledy O'Doul has one this season.

The whole San Diego team's march toward a third consecutive PCL pennant. Big Luke Easter, the Padre first baseman, has 15 hits: "We're gonna get Hollywood and they know it, and they're missing that big first baseman, Dale Long." Long is bench-riden with a jammer thumb.

The only other game played in the league Monday night saw Oakland spank Sacramento, 6-1. Ernie Broglio, recalled from the California League, set the Sacs down with two hits. The 18-year-old Modesto rookie wasn't around at the finish, however. He was as wild as ever and issued nine bases on balls. The veteran Al Gettel took over in the eighth and blanked the Sacs.

Tourney Favorites Advance

The annual Moose All-City Tennis Tournament got underway last weekend and the top seeded entries in the men's singles competition won their first round matches with one exception.

Ron Lowell, last year's tourney champ came through in his first battle with Mike Hayden by identical 6-0 scores, while Earl Brooks, who is seeded in the number two position, tripped Dennis Todd by 6-3 and 6-3 set counts.

In the other two first round matches, Dr. R. Raymond Tice, whipped Ed Lander 6-3 and 6-4, while Bud Case was upset by John Elson, ex-Asland City Champion, by 6-2 and 7-5 scores.

Brooks and Lowell took a step towards retaining their men's doubles crown with 6-0 and 6-1 wins over Ron Benson and Bud Karnes, while Tice and Todd turned in 6-4 and 6-2 scores over Gene and Shamon Oldham in the other first round match.

In the women's singles action, Ruth Hagelstein, last year's champion, Wanda Jones, Jo Widness and Nye Patterson all came through with victories. Ruth Hagelstein and Nye Patterson both drew first round byes, while Jo Widness turned in a win over Gertrude Brooks by 6-3 and 6-2 margins.

Wanda Jones won her match with close set scores of 6-4 and 7-5 over Clover North to go into the semi-finals of the women's singles. Lillian Mahan, Marg Shreeve and Carlye Casebeer advanced in the junior women's singles, as did Mike Hayden in the junior men's matches.

In the men's consolation round, Lander posted 6-2 and 6-1 set scores over Mike Hayden to move towards the tourney's fifth place. The loss dropped Hayden from the men's singles competition.

The mixed doubles competition has not been played so far this week, but will probably be taken care of tomorrow night at the Moore art tennis courts when the tournament resumes action.

The annual tourney that is sponsored by the local Moose Lodge will run through Sunday with the semi-finals being played Saturday and the championships being decided Sunday morning and early afternoon.

U. S. Colleges Represented In Empire Games

(Editor's Note: The following article was written especially for the Associated Press by M. D. Thoreau of the University of Southern California, a recognized track authority.)

By H. D. Thoreau

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Twenty two U.S. colleges are represented in the British Empire Games here by present and past students who are performing for their native country.

At least 15 of these 45-Yankee trained athletes appear to have a chance of winning a gold medal before the week's competition is completed.

Already little Mike Agostini of Trinidad, a freshman at Villanova University in Philadelphia, has won an empire title, upsetting world record holder Hee Hogan of Australia in the 100 yard dash.

Roy Pella, the 100 yard conference champion from the University of Michigan and Canada, is the favorite in Tuesday's 100 yard dash. He has set the 171 ft. 9 in. farther than anyone else in the history of the empire.

Three other Canadians, Doug Clement of the University of Oregon, Rich Ferguson of the University of Iowa, and Bill Parnell, who is a Washington State graduate, should be near the head of the pack in the 880 final today.

Clement won the Canadian title this year in 1:53.0. Parnell holds the Canadian native record in 1:52.7, while Ferguson, former NCAA 2-mile champ, ran 1:53.2, his fastest 880 time, in qualifying last Saturday for Tuesday's final.

The rundown of empire athletes who claim American college alma maters includes:

Canada: Ken Swallow, discus thrower (Western Washington); Clement, Jack Hutchins, 880 runner, Bruce Springbett, sprinter, Bob Reid, pole vaulter (all Oregon); Parnell (Washington State); Jim Portelance, distant swimmer, and Dave Stafford, broad jumper (Washington); Oriand Anderson, pole vaulter (Seattle U.).

The record for most shutouts by a goalie in the National Hockey League belongs to George Hainsworth of the Montreal Canadiens. In the 1928-29 season he had 22

Suburban Shuts Out Bill's Place

Suburban made their league lead loom larger last night as they shut out Bill's Place at Conger Field by a 4-0 score in one of two league games played.

Gus Gestvang pitched two hit ball for the winning Suburban win, while Bob Smith could only be reached for one safety by Suburban batters, but two errors and walks spoiled the difference.

In the first game played last night, Round-up moved into second place with a 9-2 win over Kalpine behind the pitching of Dale Himmelwright.

OCEANPORT, N. J. (AP) It is almost as expensive to keep horses in hay as it is to keep some horses in diamonds. A check of the bills at Monmouth Park shows that it costs a minimum of $5,000 a year to stable and train the average race horse for one year.
