

Kefauver Faces Test In Primary

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, whose endless handshaking and political tub thumping almost won him a presidential nomination in 1952, will find out today if he is popular enough with voters in Tennessee to win a second Senate term.

As title-holder he had to meet the surprisingly strong challenge of Rep. Pat Sutton in the Democratic primary while the nation's youngest governor, Frank Clement, bids for a second term against his bitter political enemy, former Gov. Gordon Browning.

Clear skies and weather as hot as the campaigns themselves were in prospect for Tennessee voters as the weatherman said early today the temperatures would climb to 100 or higher.

State Democratic Chairman H. S. Walters said between 625,000 and 650,000 votes will be cast in his party's primary while GOP Chairman Guy L. Smith said 125,000 would vote in the Republican primary.

Democratic primary winners are virtually certain to win the November election in predominantly Democratic Tennessee. The Republicans have no candidate in the gubernatorial race. Their main strength is in upper east Tennessee where two Republican congressmen have no serious opposition for renomination.

With Sutton in the senatorial battle, Tennessee will nominate a new representative from his district to be sent to the House with six other Democratic representatives who face little opposition.

Ray H. Jenkins of Knoxville, whose name won national prominence as special counsel for the Army-McCarthy hearings, is listed on the ballot with Robert Gregory of Memphis for the Republican senatorial nomination. However, Jenkins has said his name appeared on the ballot by accident and he is not a candidate.

Sutton, who rented a helicopter to make his whirlwind campaign, says the only issue at stake in the Democratic senatorial battle is "Americanism versus internationalism." He said Kefauver is a "united Nations" man and has no more interest in Spring City, Tenn., for example, than Winston Churchill.

Kefauver says the top most issue in his reelection bid is the question of "war or peace in the world." He has said frequently that he has worked for a system by which "differences among nations can be settled over the conference table rather than by war."

Kefauver claims Sutton is an "isolationist" and Sutton retorts he favors "taking the United States out of the United Nations and the United Nations out of the United States."

Reds Against Heavy Drink

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communists have coined a new name for drunkenness—"the worst survival of the capitalist past." Temperance lecturers are going about saying heavy drinking "cannot be tolerated in our Socialist society."

The campaign against excessive drinking—especially among young workers in the city and collective farmers who indulge in illegal home-brewing—has been taken up by Pravda, the Communist party organ, by the Literary Gazette and other publications.

The closing of drunk-and-run street vodka stands, especially around the factories, had made it harder to get drunk in Moscow. But no full-scale prohibition appears intended.

Pravda recently took up the campaign against the "worst survival of the capitalist past—alcoholism" with a prominent report of a lecture on the subject given at the all-union society on spreading political and scientific knowledge.

The lecturer said people who drink excessively "violate the rules of Socialist life, disorganize work, damage the interests of our society, poison the rest and cultural life of workers, undermine family life, spread moral corruption." Not only that, they ruin their health and cause accidents.

Literary Gazette printed a complaining letter from a Donbas miner who charges that drinking among miners around Ruzhenko-sensal Fukien Province opposite Formosa.

There was no official confirmation of the report distributed by the Interior Ministry's Tatso News Agency. It said the information came from underground contacts on the Red-held mainland.

The U.S. 7th Fleet guards Formosa from attack and top officials in Washington reportedly agree privately that the United States would go to war in the event of a major Red attack.

Poles Protest To British

LONDON (AP) — Charging "brutal disregard of the rights of a foreign ship," Communist Poland has demanded the return of the stow-away the British freed last week from the Polish freighter Jaroslaw Dabrowski.

Salesman Beats Man Over Head

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — This salesman literally beat his prospect over the head—with the merchandise.

Erwin E. Hunter told police the salesman came to his door yesterday and sought to interest Hunter in some pots and pans. Hunter said he declined politely, whereupon the pot merchant banged Hunter on the noggin with a pan.

Hunter said that, when he recovered from his surprise, he floored the peddler with a right to the jaw. The salesman got up and fled, taking his wares with him. Police are looking for him on an assault charge.

Young Boy's Life Claimed by Infection

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 7-year-old son of Charles Correll, Andy of radio's Amos 'n' Andy, died of an acute kidney infection, the county autopsy surgeon said yesterday following completion of toxicological tests.

John Correll succumbed July 5 in a Santa Monica hospital. It was believed at first he might have died of poison used in a paint sprayer at his home.

A protest note handed last night to the British ambassador in Warsaw also demanded damages and punishment for those responsible for the incident.

Red Army Said Near Formosa

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — A former Chinese Nationalist news agency said today, a Communist army has been shifted to China's coastal Fukien Province opposite Formosa.

There was no official confirmation of the report distributed by the Interior Ministry's Tatso News Agency. It said the information came from underground contacts on the Red-held mainland.

Octopus Found Clutching Money

NARUTO, Japan (AP) — Kamejichi Matsumoto, 58, broke and hungry, went fishing for his supper. He got a bite, and hauled in a big octopus. The octopus was clutching tightly in its tentacles a purse containing more than 7,000 yen (about $20).

Matsumoto ate the octopus and reported the money to police. If no one claims it, he can have it.
