

Fish Planted By Airplane

July 27 marked the beginning of the 1954 trout lift in the state of Oregon.

About 275 lakes, extending from north of Mount Hood to the Klamath Lake area, will be stocked as part of the operation. These isolated lakes range in size from one to five hundred acres and are not accessible directly by roads.

Approximately 500,000 rainbow fingerling and fry sized trout and 600,000 eastern brook will become airborne voyagers.

These fish are dropped from an altitude of two to three hundred feet, and it has been found that the mortality on this type of fish liberation is very low.

Sam Whitney of Newberg will pilot the specially equipped Piper Cub aircraft that will deliver the fish. As many as three lakes can be stocked with one plane load of the youngsters, and as high as 35 lakes a day can be reached, providing the weatherman cooperates by supplying good flying weather.

Flights will be made from airstrips located near game commission hatcheries at Hood River, Fall River, and Fort Klamath.

A lake survey unit has been operating for the past two years investigating the isolated lakes and compiling data used as a stocking guide. This unit will continue their work this year.

In charge of the aerial fish stocking is Bob Borovicka, aquatic biologist from Bend, Oregon, who will be assisted by other agents from both sides of the Cascades. Approximately two weeks will be required to complete this year's stocking.

Steens Mt. Area Toured

Fourteen Willamette Valley sportsmen returned Friday from a 6-day exploration of the Steens mountain area in Harney County.

The trip was sponsored by the big game committee of the Multnomah Hunter's and Angler's Club for the purpose of obtaining information regarding the game and access problems in that area.

Local representatives of the game commission and state police department guided the group, and local ranchers met with them on the mountain to explain their operations and problems.

The organizations participating in the tour were the Multnomah Hunter's and Angler's, Portland and Oregon City chapters of the Isaac Walton League, and the Estacada, Milwaukie, Newberg, and Beaverton Rod and Gun Clubs.

The group concluded that the acute access problem could be alleviated by a cooperative program and that the greatest need is for a more aggressive education program for hunters who have in the past seriously inconvenienced the livestock operators and landowners in the area.

FANMUNJOM — The Communists complained angrily again Friday the U.N. command has been lax in failing to halt South Korean demonstrations against Polish and Czech truce inspectors. A U. N. spokesman quickly rejected the protest as "meaningless words repeated for propaganda purposes."

West German Oil Found

BONN, Germany (AP)—Bustling West Germany is outpacing all its neighbors in oil discoveries.

Five new oil fields have been discovered this year, pushing annual production to 2 1/2 million tons. This is about one-third of the nation's requirements.

By 1955, oil experts predict West German wells will spurt three million tons a year. Hitler's Germany produced only 450,000 tons of oil in 1936.

West Germany's crude oil production already is the biggest in West Europe. With estimated reserves of 60 million tons, the nation may be able to supply all its oil needs within 10 years, oil men say.

Since the war, about 40 new oil fields have been discovered in West Germany. The biggest of these are in the Ems Valley along the Dutch frontier and in the northernmost state of Schleswig-Holstein.

Drillers are now boring along the Baltic coast, along the Upper Rhine between Frankfurt and Basel and in many other areas in search of new fields.

DAR Homemaker Awards Given

Eulalona Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, made the following 1954 girl homemaker awards in Klamath County: KUHNS, Ann Pedersen; Merrill, Nancy Williams; Henley, Wanda Carson; Bonanza, Carol Lou Weatherley; Gilchrist, Ella Bonner; Malin, Jo Johnson; Alismont, Marsha Griggs; Fremont Junior High, Jeanne Wamstad.

Two DAR history awards were given at Fremont Junior High to Norma Young and Caroline Carter. The 1954 good citizen awards went to Patricia Taylor at KUHNS and to Elaine Kendall at Henley.

'Meanest Man' Ordered Held

Robert L. Sasser, 22-year-old Florida truck driver, who won the title of "meanest man in the Klamath Basin" by swindling a blind cigar stand operator out of $6, was ordered held for the county grand jury Friday by District Judge D. E. Van Vactor. His bond was set at $2,000.

Sasser is specifically charged with a burglary at the Lucky Lanes Bowling Alley but he signed a statement at the district attorney's office in which he admitted passing off pieces of a road map as one dollar bills on Pete Jones, operator of the courthouse cigar stand.

The alleged thief, who was arrested by city police, said he cut a Nevada road map into pieces the size of dollar bills. He made small purchases at the cigar stand six times and tendered the pieces of road map telling Jones they were dollar bills.

Sasser also admitted he broke into the bowling alley where he had been employed as a pin-setter for three nights. Property taken from the bowling alley was found in his possession, according to police.

"DENNIS THE MENACE"

Colonel Draws Women's Anger

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A battle-scarred U.S. Army colonel ducked behind his combat ribbons Thursday as the wrath of a thousand American women poured down on him.

"I had no idea it would cause such a fuss," smiled Col. John H. Dilley, commander of the Frankfurt detachment, who issued an order advising Army wives and daughters here to spruce up and tone down their dress.

His directive said "The attire being worn in public by some American women is not in good taste," and warned that if they didn't do something about it "positive action" would be taken.

Outlawed were: Bare-back, halter-type sunsuits worn without a jacket or wrap. Bare midriff costumes. Strapless, low-cut dresses (except in clubs or at social functions). Shorts on teen-agers or women. Blue jeans on "mature women." Pin curlers, unless neatly covered.

The colonel, a West Point graduate who distinguished himself in the African campaign in World War II, said some women were going to and from the post exchange looking awful.

Square Dance Callers Arrive

Local square dance enthusiasts are rolling out the red carpet for some 30 visiting callers who are arriving hourly to participate in the western states jamboree to be held here this weekend.

The committees from both the 20-30 Club and the Do-Si-Do Club have been working for months to insure lots in dancing fun for everyone.

All children 7 years old and under will be admitted free of charge to the barbecue and dances if they are accompanied by their parents.

Visiting Pastor To Be Heard

The Rev. James G. Yoder, Vancouver, British Columbia, will be supply pastor for First Baptist Church three consecutive Sundays beginning August 8.

The Rev. Yoder is supplying as pastor in the absence of the resident pastor, Dr. E. M. Causey, who is vacationing in Giorietta, New Mexico, and attending the Baptist Sunday School Assembly of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The temporary past, the Rev. Yoder, is presently an associate pastor of the Kingcrest Southern Baptist Church of Vancouver. He was a student of the Baptist College of Port Coquitlan, B.C., and was also pastor of the Baptist church of that city.

He is one of a group of Canadian ministers affiliated with the Southern Baptist General Convention of Oregon and Washington.

Cordon Backs Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON — Senator Guy Cordon reports that he expects speedy committee action on his bill to change the classification of hardboard for tariff purposes. Senator Cordon made the statement following a conference with Chairman Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee.

Senator Cordon said he went over the bill with Senator Millikin and other members of the tax-framing Finance Committee, so that it could be cleared to the floor as quickly as possible, in order that it might be placed on the calendar in time for action during this session of Congress.

A companion bill to Senator Cordon's, introduced in the House by Rep. William M. Colmer (D-Miss) was passed in that body last week and sent to the Senate. If Senator Cordon's bill wins committee approval, it is probable that in the interests of speed, and to avoid a parliamentary tangle, the two bills will be merged on the floor.

Purpose of the proposed legislation is to correct a classification error with respect to hardboard which has existed since the passage of the Tariff Act of 1930. Administratively, the Bureau of Customs has classified hardboard as a paper product.

As Senator Cordon has pointed out to Senator Millikin, hardboard is not a paper product at all, but is made wholly of natural wood. The bill would direct the Customs Bureau to classify hardboard as wood, and to give it the more favorable tariff treatment to which wood is entitled.

More than half the nation's 13 commercial hardboard producers are located in Oregon, with plants at Lebanon, Corvallis, Coos Bay, Forest Grove, Pilot Rock, Dee and Klamath Falls.

Five other plants are under construction in the country, and two of these also are in Oregon, at Grants Pass and Sweet Home.
